

JAPS ANSWER U. S. ON 9-POWER PACT

HOUSE PASSES
HOOVER PLAN
BY BIG MARGIN

Passes Different Bill from One Approved by Senate —Agreement Seen

BULLETIN
Washington—(AP)—The two billion dollar reconstruction bill met a stumbling block in the senate today when Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, prevented it from being sent to an immediate conference with the house.

Washington—(AP)—The reconstruction corporation project bore today a vigorous stamp of approval from the house of representatives, and sped on through the technicalities which remain to be settled before it can become law.

This presidential plan to infuse two billion dollars worth of new life into business was approved 355 to 55 in the vote by which the house passed it last evening, a support which matched the overwhelming approval already given it by the senate.

For unexplained reasons, however, the house failed to act on the same bill the senate passed. The parliamentary requirement is that both branches shall approve one bill, even though amended to read quite differently. Normally the house would have taken up the senate bill, amended it by cutting out everything under its title and inserting their own measure. Now the senate apparently will have to go through that process before a conference can be held to adjust the differences.

After that, senate and house must approve the revised version, and then the bill will be sent to the White House for President Hoover's signature.

Expect Agreement
Because of the enormous support in both branches, credited to the general principles of the measure, they are not expected to haggle long over a settlement. Each side has expected all along to relinquish some of its ideas. Just how many days will take to get done with these details, however, was not exactly determined.

Its big job done, the house recessed until Monday. The senate gets the reconstruction bill passed by the house in the midst of debates today on the first of the appropriation bills. Committee work meantime is proceeding on other items of the Hoover program for economic recovery and on the tax increase plans.

Just as a matter of record, the senate adopted a declaration for strict retrenchment in federal expenditures for the next fiscal year.

It approved a resolution to that effect sponsored by Senators Harrison of Mississippi, and Pittman of Nevada. Thirty Republicans, 20 Democrats voted for it, while Senator Borah of Idaho, joined eight Democrats in opposition.

6 MILLION SPENT IN
3RD HIGHWAY DIVISION

Green Bay—(AP)—Nearly six million dollars was expended in the construction of highways, grade separations, and drainage structures in the 10 counties of division No. 3, Wisconsin Highway commission, during 1931, according to figures released today by D. E. Culbertson, division engineer, and an almost equal sum will be spent during 1932.

The past year's program was the most extensive for any like period in the history of the division, Mr. Culbertson said. The exact figures show that expenditures during 1931 totaled $5,896,893.35, while funds made available for all highway purposes in 1932, through actions of the county boards and allotments and allocations by the state, total $5,214,038.09.

DICKENS' SON IS 83

London—(AP)—Sir Henry Fielding Dickens, only son of Charles Dickens, the novelist, spent his eighty-third birthday today at his post of common sergeant of the city of London, an ancient magisterial position.

In Today's Post-Crescent

	Page
Editorials	6
Post-Mortem	6
Dr. Brady	6
Women's Activities	8
Angelo Patri	8
Story of Sue	9
Virginia Vane	9
Pattern	9
Neenah-Menasha News	10
New London News	11
Rural News	11
Kaukauna News	12
Farm News	13
Comics	13
Sports	13
Markets	17
Bridge	9
Tomerville Folks	5
On the Air Tonight	2
Your Birthday	15

Sixty-five

Hollywood—(AP)—Carl Laemmle, pioneer motion picture director, celebrated his 65th birthday anniversary today. Laemmle produced his first picture in 1909 in Minneapolis.

Tell Story
Of Collision
Of 2 Vessels

New London, Conn.—(AP)—A vivid story of the collision between the coast guard destroyer Herndon and the collier Lemuel Burrows was brought here today by officers and crew of the disabled destroyer.

The service vessel, with a jagged 15-foot hole torn across her port side near the bow, arrived at the coast guard base shortly before 9 o'clock a. m. in town of the coast guard tug Acushnet, after a 80 mile journey from yesterday's collision. None of the destroyer's crew of seven officers and 92 men was seriously injured, but all were badly fatigued by their trying experiences and a sleepless night when they arrived here.

"We are lucky to be alive," Charles G. Roemer, commander of the Herndon, said.

"It was a most dangerous and trying experience, but the officers and crew behaved admirably. Five seconds more and the collision would not have occurred, for we would have been out of line of the Burrows by that time."

Lieut. A. C. Richmond, executive officer on the destroyer said.

"The men were just going astern after lunch when we were rammed. We started lowering the boats. The wardroom and the fore quarters of the ship were flooded, but we immediately shut all the bulk heads."

BRITISH PREPARE FOR DEBTS PARLEY

Convince Conference Will Be Held Despite Reports in Paris

London—(AP)—Great Britain's delegates to the Lausanne debt conference are continuing preparations for the opening of that meeting on Jan. 25 despite reports in Paris that it might be postponed. In official British quarters postponement was not expected.

There still has been no indication from Downing street as to what the British policy will be, but an influential section of the press, basing its comment on hints from official quarters, has indicated a growing support for the views expressed a few days ago by Sir Walter Layton against a reparations moratorium of one or two years.

Instead of advocating a five-year respite for Germany, as was the consensus until recently, opinion is now veering to a plan for making the Lausanne conference a mere formal gathering for receiving a report from the Young plan advisory committee which met some weeks ago at Basel.

This, while the conference itself would not be postponed, any real consideration of reparations would be delayed until the end of the year.

By this program it is hoped in some quarters that reparations and war debts might be linked more closely in order to facilitate a definite, permanent settlement of the whole problem. It is understood that the British will discourage any attempt to raise the issue of inter-governmental war debts at Lausanne.

BOY'S LEG SEVERED BY TRAIN AT GREEN BAY

Green Bay—(AP)—Earl, nine year old son of Roy Blomdheim, Green Bay, had his right leg severed by a Chicago and Northwestern switch train, operating on a downtown track, at noon today. He was running beside the train with his 12-year-old brother Herbert on his way to perform an errand for his mother, when he jumped into a switch standard and fell with his leg beneath the wheels of the moving train. He is in a critical condition at St. Vincent hospital.

WORLD LEAGUE
ENTRY IS URGED
BY WICKERSHAM

Deplores U. S. Stand—Mrs.
Ben Hooper Sees American
Threat to Peace

Philadelphia—(AP)—George W. Wickersham regards efforts to keep the United States out of the league of nations as an "unpatriotic move" to deprive this country of the use of the greatest mechanism for peace ever devised.

Wickersham, who headed the League of Nations association in annual convention last night. He declared that no nation has lost prestige by reason of the league's activities and that the sovereignty of no nation has suffered because of membership in the league.

By the pact of Paris, he said, this country closed its doors to its previous policy of national isolation and is in honor bound to adhere both to the league and to the world court.

Because the United States could nullify any commercial boycott the league might impose to prevent war, Mrs. Ben Hooper of Oshkosh, Wis., foreign relations authority, sees this country as the greatest menace to peace in the world today.

"If war breaks again in Europe," she warned, "we will be in it and every sane person knows it."

Hits Isolation
The policy of national isolation was attacked also by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, who delivered the principal address.

Dr. Butler diagnosed the world's economic and financial ills as due to the fact that "the war is still going on." He charged the United States with resisting the international cooperation which he said was necessary to the solution of the world's problems.

"If this policy of isolation is pursued far enough," he said, "its economic and financial results will be so disastrous that present conditions will seem like an abounding prosperity."

Calling on the American people to act along lines which would return them to prosperity, he said.

"The American people seem content just now to dawdle idly in the presence of foolish and meaningless talk at Washington and force their government to conform to instructed, unselfish and high minded public opinion."

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson was a guest of honor at the meeting.

The convention closes today.

HUNT 2 MEN MISSING
AFTER CRUISE ON LAKE

Ashland—(AP)—Fisherman today foreswore his nets and a fleet of a dozen small boats joined the United States Coast guard in a search for two men stranded on one of the Apostle islands or drifting helplessly in open Lake Superior.

At 1 o'clock p. m., there was no news of the men, Allison Boutin, 27, and his brother, Manning who Wednesday had set out from Bayfield, Wis., on what was to have been a short cruise among the islands. Many expressed fear that the men had been lost, but searchers maintained that unusually mild weather favors the men. Temperature today was slightly below freezing, a brilliant sun shown over the lake and there is no ice between the islands.

OFFERS DOCUMENTS
PRIVATELY AT PROBE

Washington—(AP)—Secretary Stimson offered today to give the senate finance committee privately the department correspondence and relations to Colombian loans and concessions.

After going before the committee in secret session to explain his reasons for withholding them, the secretary issued a statement saying this was in conformity with established state department practices.

A publication of confidential reports to the department from its diplomatic officials "would make impossible the adequate and effective conduct of our foreign relations," he said.

The committee withheld until next week a vote on formal motion to demand the documents.

AREONAUTIC MEDAL
GIVEN TO ECKENER

Paris—(AP)—Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the giant German dirigible Graf Zeppelin was awarded the 1931 medal of the International Aeronautic Federation today. The medal for 1930 was awarded to General Italo Balbo, Italian air minister and noted flier.

Week's Weather

Chicago—(AP)—Weather outlook for the week beginning Monday Jan. 18: For the region of the Great Lakes—Frequent precipitation indicated; not much cold weather.

Wins Approval

Washington—(AP)—The nomination of Gov. Theodore Roosevelt of Porto Rico, to be governor general of the Philippines was approved today by the senate territories committee.

PRIEST TO ORGANIZE
JOBLESS INTO PARTY

Rev. James R. Cox Denies Unemployed March
Prompted by Politicians

Pittsburgh—(AP)—A reply to charges of attempting to embarrass the Hoover administration by his march of unemployed to Washington on record, the Rev. James R. Cox today was forming a national party of the jobless.

Seventy thousand unemployed came into Pittsburgh today on foot and by automobile and special train for a big rally at Pitt stadium.

He charged the United States with resisting the international cooperation which he said was necessary to the solution of the world's problems.

"If this policy of isolation is pursued far enough," he said, "its economic and financial results will be so disastrous that present conditions will seem like an abounding prosperity."

In commenting last night on a statement in the National Republican committee's clip sheet that the Washington march two weeks ago was inspired by political forces opposed to the national administration, the priest said the charges were the work of "political minds."

"They attribute all causes and all effects to politics," he continued. "The unemployment problem, its remedies, the economic situation they insinuate is anti-Hoover propaganda."

He then added that the sole purpose of the march of the 15,000 men to the national capital was to demand that jobs be furnished.

"It was not a political movement. It was an economic movement, but it has turned into a political movement."

"You can say that the jobless party will hold its convention in St. Louis on Labor day and nominate a candidate for the presidency. We expect nothing from the Republican and Democratic parties."

ITALIAN BUDGET HAS
81 MILLION DEFICIT

Rome—(AP)—Italy's 1931-32 budget approved today by the council of ministers, shows a deficit of $81,228,000.

The estimated revenue is approximately $342,000,000 and the expenditures about $423,000,000. Government receipts are listed as $13,000,000 less than last year.

The deficit, said a statement by the council, "reflects the world crisis, but the government will take into consideration between now and the end of June, 1932, the possibility of balancing the budget in line with any further developments of the situation."

Expenditures for the ministry of war are listed at $150,000,000, for the ministry of air, $38,000,000. Full expenses for these three branches are $3,500,000 less than last year.

"Fatal Follies" Of Church
Life Are Listed By Pastor

Milwaukee—(AP)—Declaring that "practical pulpites here abroad the ship of the church," the Rev. Walter A. Maier of Concordia Lutheran seminary, St. Louis, last night condemned "seven fatal follies" of present day church life.

Speaking before more than 1,000 persons in the American Lutheran association auditorium, Mr. Maier, who is editor of the "Walther League Messenger" and executive director of a student missionary group, listed the following "fatal follies":

1. The political church which tries to mold the influence of American legislators by profession and lobbyism.
2. The sensational church, with children in the pulpit and dross in the press, jazz bands instead of choirs, and picked beauties as ushers.
3. The financial church which makes the end justify the means, and institutes raffles and roulette games in financial financing.
4. The epileptic church, which in attitudes Bible reading marathons, applauds the preacher who wins the endurance prize for preaching the longest sermon in history.
5. The social church, which maintains that its first duty is to solve race relations, fight against industrialism and capitalism and investigate coal mines.
6. The inactive church, smugly self-sufficient.
7. The modernistic church, with a passion for repeating Christianity "up to the minute" and the "cut throat preaching of pulp phrases."
8. Dr. Maier declared that in each of the seven types of churches listed the "practical pulpites" lose sight of the two basic principles of faith—"only the scriptures" and "only by grace." He charged "the mobilized resources of some of the wealthiest families in America" are supporting the "seven fatal follies."

DRYS' COUNSEL
IN ATTACK ON PROPOSED LAW

Assails Measure Proposing to Restore Liquor Control to States

Washington—(AP)—A direct attack upon the Beck Lathum prohibition amendment introduced in the house yesterday was made today before the Anti-Saloon league by its counsel, Edward B. Dunford.

The amendment in effect would return liquor control to the states, with the government supervising interstate regulation. It is supported by the anti-prohibition forces in the house.

"It would permit the legalization of liquor," Dunford said. "It would destroy the uniformity of legislation. It has no guarantee against return of the saloon, and no guarantee the federal government will cooperate in enforcement in states that are dry."

"It is a policy of sectionalism, such as is not provided for in any other law under the constitution. Here is a provision which would provide that the prohibition policy might be one way in one state and a different one in another."

"I understand it is a measure carrying out policies recommended by a minority of the Wickersham commission."

Hits Beer Measure
In direct answer to advocates of legalized beer who urge the brew as a revenue measure, Dunford said "we can no more drink ourselves in to prosperity collectively than we can individually."

W. H. Anderson of New York, former superintendent of that state's Anti-Saloon league, told the delegates "prohibition is on the defensive."

He said he favored rigid limitation of immigration and representation in congress on the basis of citizen population.

"Tammany has named candidates, voted and distributed patronage of the representatives of more than a million aliens in New York," he said. He added that between 6,000,000 and 7,000,000 aliens are represented in congress through congressional Turn to page 4 col. 7

STATES NAVY MUST BE ABLE TO WIN BATTLES

New York—(AP)—Representative Carl Vinson, chairman of the house naval affairs committee, told an audience at the National Republican club today that "to maintain a navy which is not strong enough to win a battle is the worst form of extravagance."

Mr. Vinson, a Democrat from Georgia, spoke in a non-partisan discussion in which General Sir Arthur W. Currie, chancellor of McGill university in Montreal, declared the world's salvation from destruction is disarmament.

Vinson said "Peace and safety for our country can best be achieved by keeping a moderate and efficient standing army and by building our navy up to the strength allowed under the Washington and London treaties."

MAY CUT DOWN FLEET
MANEUVERS IN HAWAII

Washington—(AP)—A senate committee was informed today that the navy is considering a request from its men stationed in Hawaii to shorten fleet maneuvers to permit them to protect their families.

Admiral William V. Pratt, chief of naval operations, made the statement before the territories committee shortly after two cabinet officers had said a congressional investigation in crime conditions in Honolulu was not necessary.

Attorney General Mitchell said the only thing congress could do would be to appropriate $15,000 for the inquiry his department is making.

Unemployment Relief Issue
To Be Decided Next Week

It Depends on Possibility of Agreement Between Two Factions

Madison—(AP)—The first of next week should reveal whether opposing groups in the state legislature, one representing Gov. La Follette and the other a senate majority of conservatives and independents will be able to get together on a satisfactory unemployment relief bill. Both houses are in adjournment until Tuesday.

Senator George Blanchard of Ederon, a conservative connected with the governor yesterday on questions involving disputed methods of financing a relief plan.

It was understood that Blanchard was furnished figures by James B. Borden, director of the budget, as to the condition of the general fund and that a thorough study is being made of the controversial issues as to how much could be released to callides immediately and exactly when it would have to be paid back.

Senator Blanchard went to see the governor following a caucus of conservatives.

Dividend taxation, which the Progressives insist is necessary in any income surtax plan of financing

MESAROS GUILTY IN BUETTNER SLAYING

Convicted by Jury at Manitowoc of Second Degree Murder

Manitowoc—(AP)—Frank Mesaros, 21, of Milwaukee, was found guilty of second degree murder in connection with the slaying here last Sept. 19 of Del Buettner, his partner in a liquor distillery, in a verdict returned by a circuit court jury early today.

The verdict carries a penalty of 11 to 25 years in the state penitentiary. Judge Edward Voigt declared a sentence until next week after a defense counsel requested time to consider whether a motion for a new trial should be made.

Six hours were spent by the jury of nine men and three women in deliberation. They returned the verdict at 12:30 a. m. Mesaros showed no emotion when the verdict was read.

Conflicting testimony given by the defendant's brother, Steve, 29, was cited by Defense counsel B. A. Klatt, Milwaukee, as likely grounds for a motion for new trial. The youth testified on direct examination that his brother shot in self defense, but admitted to questioning of the color of Lyman's hair that he was holding Buettner at the time of the shooting.

Mesaros based his defense on the plea that he shot Buettner after attempts to frighten him away had failed. He testified the slaying occurred during an argument over disposal of the product of an alcohol distillery they operated near the downtown section here.

Mesaros fled to Milwaukee after the slaying and was arrested there the following day. He told police he was unaware Buettner was fatally wounded.

Steve Mesaros held until $10,000 bond as a material witness since the shooting was sent to Milwaukee in custody of a United States deputy marshal to face charges on his confession that he was involved in the operation of a bootleg distillery.

MEXICAN CHURCH LAWS
ATTACKED AT VATICAN

Vatican City—(AP)—Oscar Romo, a Mexican priest, attacked today the Vatican's new laws which prohibit the sale of land to non-Mexicans, saying that the laws are "unjust and impossible to enforce."

Today's attack summed up a series on the situation in Mexico and of conditions there. This is the work of a government which promised religious freedom and even now boasts that the agreement of 1923 has been applied in full.

The Mexican government, said the newspaper, protects Protestants and Catholics, especially in the schools, and respects its motive is not to compel religion but to hinder fanaticism.

2 WOUNDED IN CLASH
OF SPANISH STUDENTS

Valladolid, Spain—(AP)—One student was wounded in the head by a bullet and one girl was injured by a stone during a clash between Catholic and non-Catholic university students here.

The non-Catholic students, among whom were some Communist workers, stoned the Catholic newspaper, Diario Region, after which the clash occurred. The students fired guns into the air, after which the warring charged. Shooting and wounding took one student before they ceased in restoring order.

MURDERER HANGED

Barrie, Ont.—(AP)—Thomas Wesley Campbell, a former resident of Alliston, was hanged in the coal shed of the local jail early today for the murder of William Campbell.

SAY OPEN DOOR
POLICY IS NOT
FACING THREAT

Disunion in China Modifies
Application of Treaty,
Note Declares

By the Associated Press
Japan has answered the American communication invoking the nine-power pact with the assertion that conditions in the east have changed since that treaty was signed.

China is disunited with no central government, the note says, and this condition necessarily must modify application of the treaty. Japan reiterated that she will not interfere with the open door policy and that she has no territorial ambitions in China.

The premier and the foreign minister also disclosed that Russian representatives had made overtures in connection with a pact of non-aggression such as Russia has signed with several European states, but the negotiations are making little headway.

In northern Manchuria Japan appears to be working through Chinese agencies to consolidate her gains, but military operations are continuing and Russia was reported to feel some concern over her holdings in the Chinese Eastern railway zone.

There was a battle in the vicinity of Tashihar recently while the temperature stood at 30 below zero and 50 Chinese were reported killed.

There was considerable surprise in Shanghai at reports of a plan to establish Manchuria and Mongolia as independent states under the Japanese axis. The Chinese maintain that the people in those areas do not want independence.

The Japanese were reported to have taken over the Peking-Mukden railway between Shinkaiwan and Mukden, and the Peking-Mukden railway was said to have been taken over by the Japanese.

From Chinchow a Japanese infantry brigade set out for Linsui to average a small cavalry detachment which lost twenty men last week in a battle with the Chinese volunteer militia.

Washington—(AP)—Japan's reply to Secretary Stimson's invitation of American rights in the Manchurian dispute under the nine-power pact at Kijoka, Bland treaties was received today at the state department from Ambassador Forbes in Tokio.

U. S. PRISON GUARD
HELD FOR SMUGGLING

Accused of Carrying Letters from Convicts and Returning With Money

Leavenworth, Kas.—(AP)—C. J. Carlson, guard at the federal penitentiary here, was under arrest today charged with smuggling contraband into the prison.

Acting Warden Fred Zeiss said the guard's arrest had no connection with the recent sensational break of seven prisoners which ended in the death of three, the capture of four and the wounding of Warden T. P. White.

Carlson was arrested on a warrant from U. S. Warden Zeiss. Speculation in the prison was directed with Carlson's arrest of the function that a letter carrying money to convicts was returning money to convicts.

He was arrested by Warden Zeiss and a detachment of justice department men who have been at the prison in connection with the Carlson case. Carlson was held in the city jail in custody of a U. S. marshal and held in the city jail in custody of a U. S. marshal and held in the city jail in custody of a U. S. marshal.

The Mexican government, said the newspaper, protects Protestants and Catholics, especially in the schools, and respects its motive is not to compel religion but to hinder fanaticism.

SLAIN MAN FOUND IN IOWA OIL STATION

Boone, Iowa—(AP)—The body of Grant Johnson, 37, was found in the rear room of an oil station where he was employed early today. Jack body had been shot to death. The body was found shortly after midnight by his stepson, Robert Rhinehart, 16.

Robbery appeared to be the motive for the slaying. The door of the station had been opened and its contents examined. It was unknown how much money had been obtained.

MAN BELIEVED KILLED
IN FALL ON RAILWAY

Sussex, Wis.—(AP)—Relieved to have struck his head on a rail when he stumbled and fell, William Buckel, 65, a lumberman, was found dead at the scene of the fatal fall early today. He was employed 26 years as a riving mill at the depot to the postoffice.

Turn to page 4 col. 4

Confessed Liquor Runner Turns State Evidence In Chicago

CHANGES PLEA AND TESTIFIES IN CONSPIRACY

Admits He Delivered Liquor from Iowa Bootlegger to Illinois Officer

Chicago —(P)—A federal grand jury investigation of charges made by a self-admitted liquor runner that he delivered alcohol from Mike Blumberg, a Clinton, Iowa, bootlegger, to State's Attorney Vincent Bell of Whiteside-co., Ill., was contemplated today by the government.

Clarence (Sonny) Ebsen, a former Elgin motorcycle policeman, had been mentioned several times by witnesses in the federal liquor conspiracy trial of 47 defendants when he stepped up to U. S. District Attorney Dan Anderson yesterday and told him he was tired of "taking the rap."

He changed his plea to guilty with permission of Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley and immediately placed on the stand by the government, testified that:

"He delivered the liquor to Bell from Blumberg on at least three occasions."

He was threatened by Bell with death if he "opened his mouth" after the government called him for questioning in the conspiracy case in 1930.

He was told by Blumberg he did not need to make a certain trip for alcohol because he (Blumberg) might be able to get some from Gerry Kelly, former sheriff of Whiteside-co.

He was released from the Whiteside-co. jail by Blumberg who personally opened the cell door with a key and told him to "beat it."

Ebsen admitted he had been hired by Blumberg in 1928 to "wheel" alcohol and related a lengthy story of trips he made to Rock Island, Elgin and Chicago for the liquor from that time until 1928.

His unexpected appearance on the stand caused uneasy shifting of chairs by attorneys and defendants in the conspiracy trial, including Blumberg, and counsel for several indicated they may change their pleas to guilty as the result of his testimony.

Among the defendants he named as having connection with Blumberg in the liquor syndicate were Gabriel and Paul Chiquina of Chicago; Clarence L. Miller, Fulton, Ill., garage man; Mill Myers, Dave and Sam Doff and George Stein of Aurora, Ill.

Blumberg, he said, was on friendly terms with Bell, former State's Attorney Robert W. Besse of Whiteside-co., who is a defendant, former Sheriff Kelly and former Deputy Sheriff Lou Harrison.

Although Ebsen declared as he left the stand at adjournment he had not even "scratched the surface" in his story, U. S. Attorney Dan Anderson announced he may take him before the grand jury to testify concerning Bell and Kelly, neither of whom has been charged in the conspiracy.

The trial was adjourned until Monday and Ebsen, who is to take the stand again at that time, spurned the government's offer of protection over the weekend.

Of the supposed threat made against his life by Bell, Ebsen testified it was made in the Fulton garage of Clarence L. Baker, a defendant, in the presence of Baker, Blumberg and Henry Kane, a Fulton pool room owner.

"They told me Dan Anderson (U. S. Attorney) wanted to question me and that they wanted to get me out of the way so I wouldn't talk."

WILL RETAIN POST

Springfield, Ill.—(P)—State's Attorney Vincent Bell of Whiteside-co., involved in the liquor conspiracy trial in Chicago, will remain as state's attorney, Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom said today, until his term expires in December, or until he is indicted by the Whiteside-co. grand jury and convicted of misfeasance.

"There is no other means of removing him," the attorney general said, "except through the circuit court."

GRAF REELECTED HEAD OF COMPANY

Officers Named at Annual Meeting of Bubolz Insurance Company

Albert Graf was reelected president of the Bubolz Mutual Town Insurance Co. at the annual meeting Friday evening in the company offices in the Zuehl building. Other officers reelected were: William Roessler, vice president; Julius Bubolz, secretary and treasurer; and Gordon Bubolz, assistant secretary-treasurer. The following were elected to the board of directors: Herman Abitz, Gus J. Sedo and Henry Behnke.

It was reported that 515 policies were written and renewed during the past year, and that the total number in force at the end of the year was 1,294. At the beginning of the year there were 1,188 in force. Policies expired during the year totaled 469.

Insurance in force was boosted in value to $600,000 and assets aggregated $8,443.63. A total of $11,391.50 was received as premiums and $15,347.61 through assessment, the first the company made since its organization.

Art Schultz Trio and Chick Luech, Golden Eagle tonite.

Lawrence College, Established 85 Years Ago, Now Nationally Known

HISTORIC MAIN HALL
ERECTED IN 1853

THE FOUNDERS
SON, PRESIDENT
WILSON,
THE FOUNDER'S
GRANDSON

Lawrence college will observe its eighty-fifth anniversary tomorrow.

It was January 17, 1847, one year before Wisconsin became a state, that a charter was granted to Lawrence Institute, the second institution in the United States to open a program of co-education, admitting women on an equal basis with men.

The pioneer attitude shown by its founders in this respect and the ideals of New England culture which were breathed into this college in the wilderness by its philanthropic founder, Amos A. Lawrence, of Boston, still serve as the basis of the academic program of the college.

The story of how Lawrence college was founded, of how its benefactor became interested in land holdings in the Fox River valley through his dealings with the reputed lost Dauphin of France, son of the guillotined Louis XVI, gives Lawrence history a romantic shade of revered tradition. But more significant is the growth, expansion and improvement in educational standards it has shown since 1847.

1,000 In Student Body
The first class of college grade was in 1857. It had seven members, one of whom was the late Mrs. Lucinda Darling Coleman, of Milwaukee. The change since 1847 has been from seven graduates to more than 100, from a mere handful of students to a body of more than 1,000 who come here from 16 states and two foreign countries.

Although it has the largest student body of any liberal arts college in the Midwest, it is proud to be known as a small college, and its president, Dr. Henry M. Wriston, has won national recognition for his leadership in the cause of the liberal arts college.

During its early years Lawrence had an investment of $40,000. Today its endowment is nearly $2,000,000 and its plant and equipment are valued at an addition $2,000,000.

The first college building was erected in 1848 and destroyed by fire in 1853. In that year Main hall was built, and it stands today as the principle recitation hall of the college.

As the college became better known the conviction grew that it had a larger duty to perform and its name was changed to Lawrence University. But in 1908 the name university was discarded for that of "college" and Lawrence became champion of the liberal arts program for which it was to become known throughout the country.

Evidence of this recognition is to be found each year in the academic advance of the college. During the last five years there have been inaugurated at Lawrence four educational projects which have become national in significance, heralded by educators and businessmen as distinct advances in education. They are: the alumni reading service, the picture rental service, the Institute of Paper Chemistry and the seminar of Human relations in industry.

the orchestra's selections will be "Believe Me, It's True". It will be a Columbia program, broadcast by WXYZ, WBBM, WCCO, WISN and other stations.

Monday's Features
Mr. Bones, and Company, radio minstrel show, over NBC stations including WEAF at 9:30 p. m.

Kate Smith and her Swanee music at 7:30 p. m. over WISN, WGN, WCCO and other Columbia stations.

Guy Lombardo's orchestra at 9:30 p. m. over WBBM, WCCO, KMOX and Columbia.

Mrs. M. D. Reuben, who has been visiting for the past two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ornstein, E. North-st, will leave Saturday for her home in York, Pa. She will be accompanied as far as Chicago by her mother, who will remain there for a week to hear her daughter, Helen, in several operatic performances.

An address on "How to Grow a Personality" will be delivered by John B. Watson, of an advertising agency, on a program to be broadcast at 7:30 p. m. by WTMJ, KYW and KSTP and other stations of an NBC hookup.

Frederick William Wile, political observer and commentator, will discuss the week's affairs in Washington. The address will be carried at 6 p. m. by WXYZ, WBBM, KMOX and other Columbia stations.

Reis and Dunn, assisted by Fred Berren's orchestra, will offer comedy and melody at 6:30 p. m. Among

PROMPT Service in All Kinds of

Electrical Repair Work and Wiring

Receptacles Installed Wiring Repaired

Moderate Charges

FINKLE'S Electric Shop Phone 539

Art Schultz Trio and Chick Luech, Golden Eagle tonite.

Further evidence of the high standards is found in its recognition by national accrediting agencies. It is one of the 96 colleges endorsed by the American Association of universities; it is accredited by the North Central association of colleges and Secondary schools; it is one of 34 colleges recognized by the American Association of University women; it is affiliated with the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching; it is endorsed by the General Education board; its certificates and credits are accepted at full value in all graduate schools; it is one of 46 colleges, as distinguished from universities, having a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa and it is a member of the American Federation of Arts.

Its contribution to the cultural life of the state is attested to in the generous support given each year by some of the state's leading citizens. In the last three years these friends of the college have raised $600,000 for buildings, equipment and current expenses.

Lawrence Memorial Chapel HAS ADDED BEAUTY IN A HEAVY SNOWFALL

Three annual church meetings will be held Sunday, at Mount Olive Lutheran, First Reformed and St. Paul churches. The Rev. R. E. Ziesemer will preach on The Christian and Worldlines at Mount Olive church in the morning, and in the evening the Lawrence Lutheran students will meet. The sermon subject at St. Paul church will be Bringing to Jesus, and at First Reformed church, Being Brave in Time of Need.

Dr. J. R. Denyes will open a series of lectures on the Religious Development of Mankind at the Congregational Men's club Sunday morning. In the evening Jerome Watts will discuss The Need of Christ in the Modern World at the meeting of the Young People's Fellowship group. The movie will be "Shamrock and the Rose" at the evening service.

The Baptist and Methodist young people will hold a union meeting at the Methodist church Sunday evening. Donald Field will lead the meeting of the Fireside Fellowship.

An adult class will be confirmed at Zion Lutheran church Sunday

THREE ANNUAL MEETINGS FOR CHURCH GROUPS

Gatherings for Congregations Scheduled to Take Place Sunday

Three annual church meetings will be held Sunday, at Mount Olive Lutheran, First Reformed and St. Paul churches. The Rev. R. E. Ziesemer will preach on The Christian and Worldlines at Mount Olive church in the morning, and in the evening the Lawrence Lutheran students will meet. The sermon subject at St. Paul church will be Bringing to Jesus, and at First Reformed church, Being Brave in Time of Need.

Dr. J. R. Denyes will open a series of lectures on the Religious Development of Mankind at the Congregational Men's club Sunday morning. In the evening Jerome Watts will discuss The Need of Christ in the Modern World at the meeting of the Young People's Fellowship group. The movie will be "Shamrock and the Rose" at the evening service.

The Baptist and Methodist young people will hold a union meeting at the Methodist church Sunday evening. Donald Field will lead the meeting of the Fireside Fellowship.

An adult class will be confirmed at Zion Lutheran church Sunday

BOY DIGS CAN FULL OF ANGLEWORMS IN GARDEN ON JAN. 16

Further proof that Old Man Winter has failed to get his usual grip on Appleton so far this season was given this morning when Jerome Bruhl, 13, of 1411 W. Lawrence-st, went into the garden in the rear of his father's garage and dug a can full of angle worms from the soft ground. Jerome said he didn't know whether he would use the worms for fishing or not.

morning, and at St. John church new officers of the Brotherhood will be installed. The Rev. W. R. Wetzel will preach on Follow Me.

The Rev. R. A. Garrison will occupy the pulpit at the Baptist church Sunday evening. In the morning the Rev. Ernest Hasselblad will preach on Jesus Object Lesson in Evangelism.

The Rev. G. H. Blum at Emmanuel Evangelical church will preach in the morning on The Neglected Garden and in the evening on The High Cost of Liberty. Mr. Garrison's sermon subject at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning will be The Self Spacing Life.

The morning subject at Full Gospel Tabernacle will be Effects of Grace, and in the evening A Four-square City for Four-square People. The theme of the service at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, will be Life.

Free Perch Fry tonite at Stark's Hotel.

Dope Habit Broken In 6 Days In Test

Ithaca, N. Y.—(P)—Six days to break a narcotic morphine habit is the record of the first trial of a new remedy discovered at Cornell university.

The results of this case, a man who had taken morphine for 16 years, are to appear in the January number of the proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences. They are reported by Wilder D. Bancroft, Ph. D., Robert S. Gutsell, M. D., and John E. Rutzler, Jr. Treatment was in Ithaca Memorial hospital.

Sodium rhodanate effected the speedy cure. For every reduction in morphine an equal amount of this remedy was given until after six days the man received no more narcotic. Shortly afterward the sodium rhodanate was discontinued. This was on Dec. 9 last, since when, the report states, the man has had no further narcotic desire.

The new treatment is based on a discovery at Cornell under research of the Heckscher Foundation for the Advancement of science, that the craving for narcotics which follows ordinary stopping of the drug, is due to coagulation, that is, a thickening, of proteins in brain and nerves.

This thickened condition is really the "habit," according to the Cornell experiments. Normally the coagulation is likely to disappear if left to itself, but only very slowly and with painful nervous disturbances.

Sodium rhodanate works directly on the brain proteins, speedily reducing the excess "thickening," doing in a few days what nature requires weeks or months to accomplish.

LEAVES $110,000 ESTATE Milwaukee —(P)—Otto Hacken-dahl, former president of the Wisconsin Pharmaceutical association, who died Dec. 22, left an estate of $110,000, his will filed for probate, revealed today. His widow is the sole beneficiary.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Erickson and son, Bobby, of Waupaca, and Mrs. Floyd Holman of Oshkosh are weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. Holman, 729 W. Summer-st.

Fried Chicken Tonite at Schreiter's Cafe, 229 N. Richmond St.

ANNOUNCING the Formal Opening
OF THE SUPERIOR BODY, FENDER
and
RADIATOR SERVICE
Repairers and Rebuilders of Auto Bodies, Fenders, Radiators, Gas Tanks, Mufflers,
Auto Painting, Etc.
E. HOERSCHE, Prop. 115 S. SUPERIOR ST.
Telephone 5932 APPLETON, WIS.

FARM BUILDINGS
— of —
HAYDITE UNITS
Are Fire Proof, Warm, Dry,
Everlasting and Economical.
GOCHNAUER
Concrete Products Co.

You'll Like the Delicious Home Cooked
Sunday Dinners Served Here
NEW GRILL
Appleton's Popular Restaurant
109 E. College Ave. Across from Woolworth's
LUNCHES — SODAS — SUNDAES and REGULAR DINNERS
Special Weekday Complete Luncheons, Regular Dinners
Special Sunday Chicken Dinners

First Annual CHARITY BALL
— GIVEN BY THE —
AMERICAN FEDERATION OF MUSICIANS
FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE UNEMPLOYED
Proceeds to Be Contributed to Appleton Relief and Welfare Council
RAINBOW GARDENS
MONDAY, JANUARY 18
— MUSIC BY A —
FIFTEEN PIECE ORCHESTRA
Composed of the Finest Dance Musicians in the Fox River Valley
SPECIAL ENTERTAINMENT at 10:00, 11:00 and 12:00 P. M.
Admission 50c Per Person No Cover Charge

Monday Only!
Women's $2.98 Arch Support
Dress Slippers
$1.49
Patent, Black Kid and Brown Kid
R & S Shoe Store
116 E. College Ave. Appleton

NATIONAL

THRIFT WEEK

THRIFT IS THE MAIN FOUNDATION OF ALL SUCCESSFUL MANAGEMENT

Incomes, Large and Small May Be Wisely Apportioned to Assure Protection of Savings

System is the basis of success in all endeavors. The housekeeper saves time and energy if she runs her home systematically. The boy at college is a better student if he does his work systematically. The business man finds his responsibilities more easily handled if he manages his undertakings systematically.

Systematic Saving

Since the primary concern in every man's life is how to provide for his family, and how to assure a comfortable income for them and for himself in the years when all the work he has done should be reaping the fruits of retirement from activity and complete independence, the importance of systematic saving should be fully realized.

Caution Pays

Extravagance is not much self-indulgence as it is an expression of weakness, and the failure to be able to let conscience dictate to vanity. To be sure of a good buy is always wise; yet we must not all become fanatical bargain hunters — because very often "cheap" merchandise is worth no more than its price. It is always most sensible to buy standard goods, at prices featured by reliable merchants. Whether a shoe string or a home is under consideration a little careful shopping and comparison will assure a wise investment rather than an unwise expenditure.

JOY IN SHARING WITH OTHERS

Much Accomplished Through National Effort

The country has passed through a great crisis, and after the trials of winter are completely over, it is quite obvious, judging from industrial and financial reports, that we shall be definitely in a new era of prosperity. But we have had to face hard times, and it is a great credit to the American nation that it has come through so distressing a period with its flag flying high, and its spirit keyed up to a point where no effort will be spared to bring about happier conditions.

Tons of food have been supplied to the hungry. Contacts have been established for the jobless to provide them with work whenever possible. Great civic movements have gone on to urge home repair, building construction, and other industrial activities which might give work to thousands of men and women. The comfortably situated have been most unselfish in giving clothing to the needy, and it may be safely said that the difficulties which were prevalent would have been at least 50% more intense if not for the wholehearted help provided by the more fortunate of the nation's citizens.

How to Save

Once we have trained ourselves to spend our money intelligently, let us consider methods of saving. Some of the simplest and easiest ways that become pleasant habits can be practiced from childhood on, thereby developing a trait that will prove profitable all through life. Get into the habit of keeping two boxes — one for pennies, and one for silver, and when you get home each evening throw all the change in your pocket in the two boxes — you'll be surprised at how quickly you can accumulate five or ten dollars. And once you've got that much, the next step is toward your savings account in the bank. This, naturally, is aside from your regular plan of savings, which is regulated according to your weekly earnings. The man making $50 or less a week, should save at least $2.50. From $50 to $75, at least $5. From $75 to $100 as close to $10 as possible, and above $100, at least $10.

SHARE WITH OTHERS

Sunday, January 17th

Today is Benjamin Franklin's Birthday, and as he would have done at this time when so many are in need, let us join in dedicating this day to the cause of Sharing With Others, that we may brighten the dreary days of winter, and give them courage to wait until they are restored to their normal earning power. There are many organizations through whose contacts and far-reaching influence you may become a benefactor. Inquire at your church, and Share, today.

THRIFT DAY

Monday, January 18th

Let National Thrift Day mark the beginning of a new plan of saving for you, which will eventually lead you and your family to financial independence. The bank nearest your home or office will be happy to advise you as to the best plan to adopt, proportionate with your earnings.

BUDGET DAY

Tuesday, January 19th

You may not spend money recklessly, but why not try to spend wisely. This day has been named National Budget Day, and you will find it a happy game to budget your earnings so that they spread their wings to give you the necessities as well as the luxuries of life — and savings to spare.

MAKE A WILL DAY

Wednesday, January 20th

Unhappy things are not the sort to look forward to, but we must be practical in our outlook on life, and be thoughtful enough of those dependent on us to protect them in case the unexpected should happen. If you haven't got a will, as young as you are, as rich as you are, as healthy as you are, you may be taking what is only a slight chance. It's true — but it is a chance not worth risking. Make plans now.

LIFE INSURANCE DAY

Thursday, January 21st

Do you carry life insurance? If you don't you are neglecting one of the duties to your family, which can also prove profitable to you. The money you apportion for insurance is an investment in safety, and any time that you may need to convert your past premiums to cash you are free to do so. Inquire about advisable plans on this National Life Insurance Day.

OWN YOUR OWN HOME

Friday, January 22nd

Why not own your own home, and enjoy the security and joy that go with it. Homes aren't expensive . . . you can have one for as little as you can afford . . . and you pay no more than your present rentals monthly until you have completed payments. Investigate now. This is Own Your Home Day, and there are real estate organizations which will show you beautiful houses, ideally situated . . . and within your means.

Safe Investment Day

Saturday, January 23rd

It's Safe Investment Day, and a good time to promise yourself you will keep on the defensive, and let yourself invest in only those endeavors which you can be guaranteed are safe bets. The time that you spend in making sure will turn into profit in later years.

BANKING INSTITUTIONS ARE THE FINANCIAL ADVISORS TO LAYMEN

Individuals As Well As Business Should Be Guided By Authorities

Let us consider the average man, with a moderate earning power, who is anxious to save, and build for future independence. Through his bank he may invest in safe stocks and bonds. He may open a savings account. He may take advantage of Christmas Clubs. He may keep tabs on his spending by establishing a check account. And he can assure the future education of his children and income of his family by means of a Trust Fund. These are all systematically conducted phases of every bank's activities, and there are advisory groups who are ready to be consulted at any time, on any problem, no matter how insignificant the sum of money involved.

Mr. Average Man

If our Mr. Average Man wishes to buy a home, or enter a new business venture and needs the use of more money than he has immediately available, it is a simple matter to borrow from the bank, just as long as he can furnish ample proof of his integrity and good reputation in his particular line of business.

Trouble Avoided

With so constructive an institution within arm's reach of everyone, it seems that the many disasters which occur through lack of foresight and mere neglect might easily be avoided; and we must conclude that the public has not been sufficiently educated to recognize the great power working for its benefit.

To Your Advantage

Go to your bank today, and learn the facts about it. Then find out the great advantages and innumerable services it can offer you, and start expanding your Thrift program. Saving is easy. But knowing how to save profitably is an art which only reliable banking authorities can teach you.

SHARE WITH OTHERS DAY
SUNDAY
JANUARY 17th

All Saints Episcopal Church
College Avenue at Drew Street

THRIFT DAY
MONDAY
JANUARY 18th

Kimberly State Bank

BUDGET DAY
TUESDAY
JANUARY 19th

Merchants' Bureau

MAKE A WILL DAY
WEDNESDAY
JANUARY 20th

While they have protection those you love are safe against poverty and need. But without you they are lost — unless you have the foresight to make a will that can be their guardian should the unexpected happen.

FIRST TRUST COMPANY OF APPLETON

LIFE INSURANCE DAY
THURSDAY
JANUARY 21st

Ask Wettengel
Northwestern Mutual Life
Phone 1081
First Nat Bank Bldg
APPLETON, WIS.

OWN YOUR HOME DAY
FRIDAY
JANUARY 22nd

A dream come true! Your own home — and your best security for happiness. Why not spend today looking at the wonderful home-owning opportunities made possible by present conditions? Pay as little as you can afford.

Kimberly Real Estate Company
OWN A HOME — EASY TERMS
Phone Appleton 780

SAFE INVESTMENT DAY
SATURDAY
JANUARY 23rd

FOR THIRTY PEOPLE
the purchase of our Installment Shares by saving $3.00 or $10.00 each month will prove unusually satisfactory.

Appleton Building & Loan Association
GEO. H. BECKLEY, Sec'y.
324 W. College Ave.
Phone 116

"No Compromise" By Dry Forces, Senator Sheppard Declares

TEXAN PAINTS DARK PICTURE OF ALCOHOLISM

Beer by Statute Unconstitutional, Co-author of 18th Amendment Says

Washington—(AP)—Applause from the galleries greeted Senator Tydings in the senate today as he arose to reply to an anniversary speech on prohibition by Senator Sheppard, who said there would be "no compromise" by the "drys."

Washington—(AP)—The twelfth anniversary of national prohibition was observed in the senate today by Senator Sheppard, Democrat of Texas, with a notice that there will be "no compromise" by the "drys."

The co-author of the eighteenth amendment noted demands in congress for a national referendum and for beer. He concluded a two hour address with this statement:

"Let these recalcitrants be placed on notice that so far as the dries are concerned, there is to be no compromise on the question of keeping the nation, as a nation, arrayed against beverage alcohol, no submission of a proposed reversal of the American constitution except in obedience to the will of the people in each district and each state—the only true source of power in our American system—and no statutory torpedoing of the American constitution by a beer submarine."

He added that "no (party) convention declaration can bind any representative or senator in opposition to the desire of the people who gave them political being."

Senator Sheppard in his lengthy address pictured the evils of alcohol as a beverage; cited Helen Willis Moody, Charles A. Lindbergh, Connie Mack, Coach Alonzo Stagg of Chicago, the late Knute Rockne and others as opposing the use of alcohol in any form in sports. He assailed proposals for beer as a violation of the constitution and cited economic and social benefits to the nation which he ascribed to prohibition.

Repeal Only Alternative

"No senator or representative," he said, "can vote to bring back what has been and is being regarded as beer by statute without violating his oath to support the constitution of the United States. The only sincere consistent and legitimate method of endeavoring to bring back what the drinkers know and want as beer is to endeavor to repeal the eighteenth amendment. It would be a helpless endeavor, to be sure, but nevertheless, a consistent and legitimate one."

Sheppard denounced as a "self-evident absurdity" the contentions that more young people are drinking more today than before prohibition.

He particularly lashed out at beer and wine, saying these "formed the entrance to the inferno of drink." He declared against any compromise among the various forms of beverage alcohol and demanded them all equally detrimental to the individual.

"Alcohol," he continued, "is a poisonous, habit forming drug. Alcohol, in far less quantities than commonly supposed and in amounts far short of enough to produce visible drunkenness permeates and poisons the tissues comprising every part of the human body. Through the brain it attacks and perverts the centers of moral and physical self-control."

Outlines Benefits

Turning to the economic side of prohibition, Sheppard said:

"It is the almost unanimous testimony of the owners and executives of American industry that prohibition has been of tremendous economic benefit to the nation. They assert that difficulties connected with drink among workers have become far less serious and the discharges for drunkenness of a far smaller number. They tell us it is now far easier to keep a complete force at work after pay days, troubles in this regard having all but entirely disappeared."

"They say that workers are steadier, clearer-headed, stronger, more alert and more alert, and that in spite of home brew, speakeasies, bootleggers and handicaps on prohibition the workers of the nation as a whole are in far better condition than in the days of legalized liquor."

MUSICAL PROGRAMS AT JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOLS

Musical programs featuring Miss Jane Dudley, accomplished Wisconsin violinist, and Miss Ruth Roper of Lawrence conservatory were given at junior high school assemblies Friday.

Miss Dudley, who has studied violin since she was five years old has been a student of many European masters and appeared Friday afternoon at Roosevelt junior high school. Miss Roper presented a group of vocal selections at McKinley junior high school. Miss Margaret Trueblood accompanied Miss Roper.

WATER DEPARTMENT TAXES ARE $13,300

A check for $13,371.67 was received by F. E. Bachman, city treasurer, Saturday, from the Appleton water commission, in payment of taxes on the utility property and plant. Water department taxes are computed by applying the city rate on the book value of the concern. Last year's taxes amounted to $15,961.17.

"Y" Committee Meets

The Y. M. C. A. will meet at 4:30 Monday afternoon. The group will review activities and reports of the Y. M. C. A. for the last year and suggest plans for the coming year. J. R. Whitman is chairman of the committee.

Eight Must Die

NEA

The death sentences imposed upon eight young negroes at Scottsboro, Ala., which have attracted international attention as the result of Communist intervention in their behalf, will be supported by Thomas E. Knight, Jr., above, youthful attorney general of Alabama at a hearing before the state supreme court at Montgomery, Jan. 18. The negroes were convicted of attacking two white girls.

FARM WOMEN ARE SHOWN METHODS OF PRESERVING MEATS

Home Demonstration Agent Conducts One of Series of Programs

BY W. F. WINSEY

Black Creek—One of the chief reasons for the practice of meat canning is the saving it brings about in the farm home, said Miss Harriet Thompson, home demonstration agent of Outagamie-co, who demonstrated the canning of beefsteak, pork chops, sausage, veal, and chicken at a meeting of the Black Creek group of home makers in the town hall here Friday.

The outstanding features of her economy argument were low farm prices of meats, preference of rural people for meat preserved in its fresh condition, and the easy preparation of meals especially at a busy time of the year when all the farm women have to do is to open cans.

Miss Thompson explained each movement in her demonstrations. Among those at the town hall were Mrs. M. Breitenbach, Mrs. A. S. Bradley, Mrs. Len Schmeichel, Mrs. E. W. Witthuhn, Mrs. O. F. Rohm, Mrs. Anton Trayler, Mrs. Louis Kaphingst, Mrs. Alfred Pehl, Mrs. Andrew Fisher, Mrs. Edward Kluge, Mrs. Arnold Stephoni, and Mrs. William Kunz.

The Black Creek demonstration was one of a series of 10 planned for Outagamie-co by Miss Thompson. Those still to be held with places and dates are as follows: Saturday, Freedom high school; Monday, home of Mrs. Fred Faulk, Lee-man; Saturday, Jan. 23, Kaukauna high school; Monday, Jan. 25, Seymour, basement of church; Tuesday, Jan. 26, Appleton Woman's club; Wednesday, Jan. 27, Medina church kitchen.

MADISON MAN WILL TALK TO LIONS CLUB

Appleton Lions will learn Monday how the state takes hold of young and old victims of physical disabilities and fits them to earn their own living, when Charles Beardsley, Madison, talks to them. Mr. Beardsley is from the rehabilitation board of the state department of public instruction, and has charge of working in this section of the state.

The Jan. 25 meeting of the Lions club has been postponed indefinitely because of the joint forum dinner, Thursday, Jan. 28. Members of all service clubs will hear the Rev. W. A. Frazier of Fond du Lac, speak on "My Town."

ATTENDS MEETING

Louis Luebke, city electrician, has returned from Milwaukee, where he attended a meeting of the executive committee of the Wisconsin chapter of the western section of the International association of Electrical Inspectors. Another meeting of the committee will be held in Milwaukee on Feb. 12.

COASTER BREAKS LEG

James Pompa, 13, route 6, Appleton, fractured his leg in a fall while sliding on a hill near his home Friday evening. He is confined to St. Elizabeth hospital.

COMMITTEE MEETS

The finance committee met at city hall Friday afternoon. Bills to be presented at the meeting of the common council Wednesday evening were approved.

Free Perch Fry tonite at Stark's Hotel.

VALLEY SCOUTS RECEIVE HONORS HERE TOMORROW

Rev. G. M. Link, Nature Lore Expert, to Speak at Annual Ceremony

The Rev. G. M. Link, Springfield, Ill., noted nature lore expert, will be the principal speaker at the annual court of honor ceremony of the valley council of boy scouts at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon at Lawrence Memorial chapel. Between 500 and 600 scouts, their parents, scoutmasters and troop committeemen will attend.

An impressive program has been arranged by M. G. Clark, valley scout executive, and a committee of scout leaders. One of the features will be a tableau, "The Melting Pot of Boyhood." The tableau is designed to show the effect of scouting on boys coming from all kinds of families and environments. In the tableau the role of Uncle Sam will be played by Joseph Kerrigan.

The address of welcome will be given by Chris Mullin, council president. At the opening of the program a band concert will be played by former scouts of Menasha under the direction of Allan Michie, members of the band are Milton Walters, Edward Conway, Herbert Meyers, James Sensesbrenner, Clifford Farbach, Fred Ahrens, Edward Christensen, Harvey Held and Eugene Funk.

The award of attendance streamers is to be made by E. A. Killorion, scout commissioner. A streamer will be given to each troop having over 80 per cent attendance at the chapel.

Gold Rating Stars

The awarding of gold honor rating stars to troops training them is to be made by Frank Younger, principal of McKinley Junior high school. These stars are awarded annually to troops having a rating of over 85 per cent during seven months of the year. This is a high standard, involving attendance, scout advancement, outdoor activities, growth in membership, and monthly troop committee activities.

Scout troops will be awarded a scout quartet composed of Clark Nixon, Edwin Shannon, Winton Glaser and Lester Schmidt, who have been training under the direction of George Nixon.

Eagle scouts who are to receive their badges during the ceremony are: Robert Meyers, Troop 10; Frank Hammer, Troop 4; Robert and Karl Deurenbin, Troop 8; and Franklin Haven, Troop 21. Other Eagle scouts who received badges during the past year are: William Ogilvie, Troop 2; Alfred Graef, George McGillan, Lowell Zabel and Michael Donovan, Troop 3; Bruce Purdy, Hampton Purdy and Kirtland Walters, Troop 4; Wallace Mooney, and Edgar Arps, Troop 20.

Bronze, gold and silver palms also will be awarded to scout who have earned them during the past year. The bronze palms will go to Bruce Purdy, Troop 4, and William Ogilvie, Troop 2, gold palms, Warner and Wilbur Nelson, Troop 4, James Van Rooy and Allan Warner, Troop 6; silver palms, Fred Marshall, Troop 2, and Lyell Eckrich, assistant scoutmaster of Troop 9.

Special recognition of Eagle scout parents also will be made during the ceremony. Parents are to be called onto the rostrum after the awards have been made.

The meeting will close with the renewal of the scout oath and law.

DELEGATES ARRIVE FOR POSTAL MEET

Expect Many to Hear Talk by W. Irving Glover This Evening

Delegates to the statewide conference of postmasters here today started arriving here Friday evening, according to Postmaster Emmerly Greunke. Between 200 and 300 postal executives from throughout Wisconsin are expected to be present to hear the address by W. Irving Glover, Washington, D. C., second assistant postmaster general of the United States, at the dinner meeting at Conway hotel at 6:30 this evening.

A short dinner meeting was held this noon for postmasters who arrived here last night and this morning. During the early part of the afternoon short sessions of members of various postmasters organizations were held. Later in the afternoon visiting postmasters were conducted on a tour of inspection of the new Appleton postoffice.

RAIN, SNOW, WARMER WEATHER PREDICTED

Rain or snow with a drop in temperature is predicted for Appleton and vicinity for Saturday night and Sunday. Similar weather conditions will prevail throughout the whole state, the weather man says. Skies will be cloudy over the middle-west, with snow in the south portions of Wisconsin, and rain or snow in the south which includes this city. Winds are shifting in the east, a good indication that there will be precipitation either in the form of rain or snow.

At 6 o'clock this morning the mercury registered 22 degrees above zero, and at noon it registered 31 degrees above.

Chop Suey tonite at Black Cat, Hwy 41.

SHERIFF ASKED TO SEEK MAN MISSING SINCE DECEMBER 28

Sheriff John Lappen was asked this morning to start a search for Henry Klein, 58, of route 1, Appleton, who has been missing since Dec. 28. Mr. Klein was last seen by his daughter, Hildegard, when he left his home early in the afternoon of Dec. 28 and started to walk to Appleton to keep a business engagement. He never kept the appointment and has not been seen or heard from since. Mr. Klein's three children, Norbert, Hildegard and Irwin, who are living at home, asked the sheriff to start the search. When Mr. Klein left home he was wearing a dark gray overcoat, a brown cap, gray trousers and black overshoes.

JAPAN REPLIES TO AMERICA ON 9-POWER PACT

No Interference With Open Door Policy, Secretary Stimson Assured

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

Dec. 31, M. Yoshizawa said today in an interview with representatives of Tokyo newspapers.

A similar proposal was understood to have been discussed here earlier this week with Premier Inukai by the Russian ambassador and to have met with little encouragement from the premier. The Japanese government ment rather frowns on such pacts, it was understood, and is rather proud of the fact that she has none with any nation.

Foreign Minister Yoshizawa said the question was raised during his visit to Moscow on his way here from Paris to accept the foreign ministry, by Litvinoff and that it grew out of rumors before the battles at the Nonni river and Taitshai that Russia had furnished munitions to General Mah Chan-Shan, Chinese commander.

Litvinoff assured him that all such reports were groundless. M. Yoshizawa said. He informed the Russian foreign commissar, he said, that he did not believe Tokyo would favor such a non-aggression pact, pointing out first, that he thought the Kellogg treaty, of which Japan and Russia are signatories, was sufficient and second, that such a pact is wholly unnecessary since Japan absolutely has no intention of transgressing any Russian rights on the Chinese Eastern railway in North Manchuria, or elsewhere.

He said he told Litvinoff he would give a definite answer after consulting the home government.

"Y" LEADERS HOLD CONFERENCE HERE

Discuss Revised Programs Resulting from Subscription Decreases

A conference of Y. M. C. A. general secretaries from several Wisconsin cities was held at the Appleton association building last night to discuss reorganization plans. Associations have had to adopt because of the decrease in subscriptions. Dr. J. B. Modest of Milwaukee Y. M. C. A., R. J. Ritz, Racine; P. H. McKee, Wausau; Robert Betchards, Fond du Lac; A. F. Grimm, Green Bay; and George F. Werner, Appleton, attended the conference.

Dr. Modest reported on a conference recently held at Chicago at which national leaders have revised programs and considered work that can be done with state and national programs. The revised program was explained to the association secretaries and will be submitted to local directors at a meeting at 7:30 Monday evening.

Appleton association directors also will act on the 1932 budget.

FLOCK OWNERS OF HATCHERY TO MEET

Flock owners of the Badger State Chick Hatchery on E. Wisconsin-ave will meet at 10 o'clock Monday morning at the hatchery. A. A. Brown of the Wisconsin department of markets will be one of the principal speakers, as will Gustav A. Sell, Outagamie-co agent, and E. L. Peterson, Hammond, Ind. The latter will discuss feeding of chicks and chickens. Lunch will be served at noon.

SEYMOUR INSTITUTE GROUP PLANS MEETING

The committee arranging details of the Seymour farm institute will meet Monday afternoon at Seymour to hear reports from committee chairman on activities. The dates of the institute have been set for Feb. 22 and 23. Evening programs are being prepared by school and Parent-Teacher groups in the northern part of the county.

REALTY TRANSFERS

John E. Veistegen to Peter A. Williams, three lots in village of Little Chute.

7 CASES REPORTED

Only seven cases of contagion, all minor children's diseases, were reported to Theodore Sanders, deputy health officer, last week. There were six cases of whooping cough and one of chicken pox.

Mrs. V. H. Kreiss and daughter, Evelyn, are spending the weekend in Chicago.

RENEW COURSE IN LANDSCAPE WORK TUESDAY

Registrations for Lecture Series Will Be Accepted Next Week

The second of a series of six lectures in landscape gardening will be given by Professor Franz A. Aust of the University of Wisconsin horticulture department in the auditorium of Appleton vocational school at 7:30 next Tuesday evening. The course is being offered over a period of six weeks by the Appleton Post-Crescent in cooperation with the university extension division and vocational school. If you have not yet enrolled for the course you may do so by registering at the vocational school before the lecture starts next Tuesday evening.

The second lecture will be on "Making the Design Plan." The opening topic was "Gardening as Influenced by Design in Nature." At the second meeting, Professor Aust will delve into the more intimate problems of the small home owner, for whose benefit the second annual course has been arranged. Following the lecture, considerable time will be devoted to a roundtable discussion of individual problems.

Group Instruction

Group instruction of this kind is being offered here as a means of encouraging practical utility in home landscaping and instilling an artistic appreciation of the landscape art and of the out-of-doors. Along with a consideration of the fundamental principles, the course gives a survey of the history and development of the art, and outlines the relation of this to other arts. Consideration also is given to the relation of landscape design to urban and rural life. The specific purpose, however, is to enable individuals to apply the principles to their own problems.

As special features of these classes, many stereopticon pictures are shown. Sketch plans, designs, and planting plans of home grounds are other means used to give each a definite application to the individual problem.

This year's course is to be of a more practical nature and will be of much wider scope. Other lectures scheduled for the remaining meetings are: Making the Planting Plan (two lectures), Perennials for Home Grounds, and Practical Problems in Carrying Out the Planting Plan.

CIVIC COUNCIL TO HEAR PLAY REPORT

Committee Is Investigating Possibility of Program Next Summer

The committee inquiring into the possibility of a directed summer play program for Appleton this year will report to the Civic Council at the January meeting at 7:30 Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A.

The Council started directed play here several years ago, but last month the city council failed to appropriate the $3,000 to finance the program for the summer of 1932. The Council named a committee to investigate possibility of getting some aid for at least a curtailed program.

T. E. Orblson is chairman of the committee, and Mrs. William Noma-check and L. J. Marshall are members.

CITY HAS TWO CASES FOR MUNICIPAL COURT

The city of Appleton supplied two cases for Judge Theodore Berg Saturday morning in municipal court. One was Victor Griesbach, Appleton, arrested Thursday and brought into court Friday afternoon, charged with failing to park within six inches from the curb. He was arrested by Officer Hendricks, pleaded guilty, and was fined $1.

Leond Zerkow, Oshkosh, was fined $10 when he pleaded guilty of drunkenness Friday night. He is seeking the money. He was arrested by Officer Albert Delgen. An 11-year-old son of the man was with him and taken to his home at Oshkosh last night.

ADVERTISING SUIT SETTLED FOR $500

The suit of the Criterion Advertising company, New York, against the Appleton Pure Milk company, was settled yesterday afternoon before it went to the jury in circuit court. The case opened Friday morning before Judge Edgar V. Warner.

Settlement was made for $500. The suit was over bill board advertising the milk company contracted for.

REV. J. W. WILSON IS MINISTERS' SPEAKER

The January meeting of the Fox River Valley Ministerial association will be held at 1:30 Monday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. The Rev. J. W. Wilson, D. D., will report on a book "Has Science Discovered God." The book is a collection of papers.

OPEN SALES MEETING FOR CORSET COMPANY

A sales meeting and demonstration of the Chas. Corset company began Friday and will continue through Saturday at Conway hotel. All representatives from Shawano, Outagamie and Waupaca counties are attending. Miss Marion Armour, Ellentown, Pa., is conducting the meeting.

KENTUCKY MINER, FAMILY CARED FOR AT COUNTY JAIL

A Kentucky coal miner from the region in which there now is a strike, his wife, and three small children applied at Appleton police station early this morning for lodging, and were turned over to Sheriff John Lappen at the county jail. They left Saturday morning for Phillips, Wis., where they have relatives.

The couple told the sheriff they have been hitch hiking north and had received aid from persons who took pity of them in towns where they stopped. They sought the care of northern relatives because it was a case of starving if they stayed in the coal mine regions with no work, they reported.

One of the youngsters was surprised at the sight of snow. He also saw his first icicle, and was disappointed to learn that it was not candy.

JURY CONSIDERS ARSON TESTIMONY

Case Against Mrs. Mary Scharman Goes to Jurors at 1 O'clock

The case of Mrs. Mary Scharman, Appleton, charged with arson, was given to a municipal court jury at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Testimony in the case was completed Friday afternoon, and Saturday morning's session given over to arguments by the attorneys.

The state has charged that Mrs. Scharman set two fires in her home on Nov. 28, 1931, and then left for the evening. Because the fires had no draught they did not break out immediately it is alleged. About $700 damage was done, Mrs. Scharman's personal property was insured for $1,000, and the state alleges she started the fires to collect the money.

Attorney for the defense claimed one of the fires started from coals from a stove, the other from heat and smoke which brought about combustion. One of the fires was in a hall, the other in a closet. The defense also attacked the alleged confession Mrs. Scharman made to W. E. Finnegan, deputy state fire marshal, and the method in which the confession was gained.

MUCH INTEREST IN MILK POOL MEETING

Unusual response is being shown by Appleton business and professional men and farm group representatives in the meeting to be held at the Appleton State Bank Monday evening when the proposed Milk Producers association will be discussed.

L. G. Kuennig, Madison, milk specialist with the department of marketing, will be one of the speakers. He will explain success of milk pools in other cities and counties and how they benefit the producers and consumers.

20 BABIES EXAMINED AT MONTHLY CLINIC

About 20 babies were examined by Outagamie-co doctors Friday at the first monthly baby clinic at the Appleton Woman's club. The club antenatal society are sponsoring the clinic. Mrs. A. G. Mestung, head of the local club health department, is in charge. The next clinic will be held Friday, Feb. 19.

DEATHS

MRS. ANNA MILLER
Mrs. Anna Miller, 74, died at 8:30 Friday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Elmer Meidam, Main-st., New London, after a lingering illness. Mrs. Miller was born Aug. 24, 1857, in Austria and came to this country with her parents when she was one and a half years old.

Survivors are one son, Bernard, one daughter, Mrs. Elmer Meidam of New London; one step-daughter, Mrs. A. W. Jarry, of the Hie, Mont., two grandchildren; five sisters, Mrs. Mary Lippert of Hortonville, Mrs. Agnes Weiss and Mrs. Fanny Smith of Appleton, Mrs. D. M. Schmidt of Greenville, Mrs. Joseph Kroner of Milwaukee. Funeral services will be held at 9:30 Monday morning at the Elmer Meidam home at New London and at 10 o'clock at the church of the Most Precious Blood. The Rev. Father Schmitz will be in charge. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

MRS. ELIZABETH NELSON
Mrs. Elizabeth Nelson, 73, died Friday at her home in Milwaukee after a short illness of bronchial pneumonia. Survivors are one daughter, Mrs. Margaret Eouton, Chicago, one grandchild, six sisters, Mrs. Harry McGregor, Mrs. Margaret, Tuttle, Kaukauna; Mrs. Bertha Solomon, Portland, Ore.; Mrs. Bessie Henry, Denver, Colo.; Mrs. Ellen Frazer and Mrs. Jennie Wheeler, Appleton; six brothers, James, John, and George Lambie, Kaukauna, Tom, Crandon; William and Frank, Appleton. The funeral will be held at 1:30 Monday afternoon from the Freelek Funeral home in Milwaukee.

HENRY VAN LIESHOUT
The funeral of Henry Van Lieshout was held at 8:30 Saturday morning from the home at Kimberly, with services at 9 o'clock at Holy Name church, Kimberly. Burial was in the church cemetery. Bearers were Henry Wynboom, John Van Den Elzen, Henry Steers, John Bernady, George Kamps, and Martin Kilsdonk.

Chicken Lunch Sat. Nite, Lucassen's, Kaukauna.

DRYS' COUNSEL IN ATTACK ON PROPOSED LAW

Assails Measure Proposing to Restore Liquor Control to States

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

apportionment of population and that if this representation were denied, all of the house members who would lose their seats would be anti-prohibitionists.

Observe Anniversary

Delegates to the biennial convention of the Anti-Saloon league of America observed today the twelfth anniversary of the day the eighteenth amendment became part of the constitution.

Many of the members and their leaders headed for the senate galleries to hear Senator Morris Sheppard, known as the author of the prohibition amendment, speak in the birthday celebration. The last of the needed ratifications by the states was given in time to begin enforcement on Jan. 16, 1920.

The Anti-Saloon league had before it as it swung into the second day of the convention program, an appeal from F. Scott McBride, general superintendent, urging a vigorous fight against re-submission of the liquor question.

"Re-submission is the first step in the wet program to destroy prohibition," McBride said.

"Prohibition may be won or lost," he added, "in the coming presidential election."

Coupled with this plea in his keynote address last night, McBride said the league must cling to its "omnipartisan attitude" and "stand for the candidate who favors maintenance of the eighteenth amendment."

If the Democratic party "submits to Smith, Raskob and Roosevelt, it will lose its great chance to perpetuate the memory of the party," he added. He predicted "a fight for a wet platform and a wet candidate in the republican convention," and said:

"If both parties offer candidates and platforms upholding the eighteenth amendment, the Anti-Saloon league will hold to its non-partisan position and take no sides. The real issue, however, is disclosed in the attitude of the candidates."

"Some of us refuse to be affrighted," the delegates were told by Bishop W. N. Ainsworth of the Methodist Episcopal church, South. "The enemy is now maneuvering for a strategic position in politics with the church forewarned to keep out. One of the first lines of attack is to intimidate and browbeat the preacher and churches of the country into silence. We will not beat a retreat."

COMMISSION MEETS

The bi-monthly meeting of the water commission was held in the city hall Friday afternoon. Financial reports were reviewed.

ORGANIZE ANOTHER CLASS IN WELDING

Another class in acetylene welding is meeting at Appleton vocational school on Tuesday evenings, according to Carl Bertram, coordinator. There has been a great demand on the part of Appleton mechanics for instruction in gas welding, he says.

Instruction in welding at the vocational school is largely an individual proposition, enrollment being restricted so that each man spends at least an hour each evening actually operating a torch.

A second, or advanced course, also is offered for men who will weld alloys and special metals. Before he is permitted to enroll a man must show he has the occasion to use this instruction on the job, Mr. Bertram says.

MUSICIANS GIVE BENEFIT DANCE

Net Proceeds Will Be Turned Over to Welfare and Relief Council

A benefit dance by Fox River Valley union musicians, proceeds to go to the Appleton Welfare and Relief Council, will be held next Monday evening, at Rainbow Gardens, according to Edward F. Mumm, Appleton, who is arranging the event. An orchestra of 15 pieces has been secured. They will offer their services gratis. Rainbow Gardens has been offered free for the occasion, and printing also has been donated. The dance is the first ever attempted by the musicians, and will be come an annual affair if successful. Musicians in the valley have been selling tickets for several weeks.

NINE PROBATE CASES LISTED FOR HEARING

Nine probate cases are listed for hearing at a special term of Outagamie-co court at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning before Judge Fred V. Hennemann at the courthouse. Cases on the calendar include: hearings on proof of will in the estates of August Frederick and Minnie Schildt; hearing on claims in the estates of John Wilfer, Elissa Hiller, Ida Kasten, Charles Deeg, H. C. Humphrey and Mary Kallmeyer; hearing on final account in the estate of Rose Cabot.

Mrs. A. H. Krugmeier, 320 E. Alton-st., who left early this month for San Antonio, Texas, is at the Gunter hotel where she expects to remain until spring. Mrs. Maxine Weldon, Fort Smith, mother of Mrs. Paul Wesco, is at San Antonio also.

FUNERAL DESIGNS

Made up by expert designers at Mueller's Flower Shop 121 E. College Ave. Phone 3400

And still.. the GREATEST VALUE for your
RADIO DOLLAR!

No. 25 Complete with Tubes $175

Stromberg-Carlson

$103 less than any previous Stromberg-Carlson Console.

Imagine $175 buying this No. 25 full-size console — with all the Stromberg-Carlson Beauty of cabinet — Weight of materials — Telephone exactness of construction — Incomparable Tone.

"There is nothing finer than a Stromberg-Carlson"

Meyer-Seeger Music Co.
116 W. College Ave. Appleton

SHOWDOWN IN HOOVER ENTRY INTO CAMPAIGN

Partisans Think Position in Own Party Needs Strengthening

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1932 by Post Pub. Co.
Washington — Definite announcement that President Hoover's campaign for re-nomination would begin at once has convinced political veterans that the move was made to ward off possible opposition as well as to call for a showdown in various state and congressional campaigns. Mr. Hoover's friends have felt that while the political standing of the president in the country was at the moment at a low point, momentum could be gained by strengthening his position in his own party first of all. The mere mention of Ambassador Dawes as a possible contender for the nomination was such a significant evidence of how little is needed to stir up opposition to the re-nomination of Mr. Hoover that it was thought best to develop an organized movement at once and get the delegates committed before it might be too late.

This does not mean that anyone high in Republican councils had any doubt of Mr. Hoover's re-nomination but it was felt that the existence of any organized opposition at the convention, especially from the regular ranks of the party, would do incalculable damage to the president.

Need United Front
To put it another way, most presidents who are candidates for another term are re-nominated by acclamation. It is usually a sign of confidence and party strength and, even if there is some dissenting voice, the opposition recognizes the value from a political standpoint of putting up a united front against a common enemy. In the case of Mr. Hoover there probably will be some opposition from the insurgents or radical Republicans, but this is not giving serious concern to the Hoover leaders.

Postmaster General Brown is taking active charge of Mr. Hoover's campaign for re-nomination. Just as he has been at the head of the postoffice department in the past. This is a relic of the days when postmasters exercised a good deal of power in local politics. It will not be necessary for much organization work to be done because the Republican party as yet has not rallied behind many Hoover opponents and the truth is that no man of outstanding power in the party has come out to challenge Mr. Hoover's position. There is talk of Senator Johnson of California and Governor Pinchot, as well as Senator Borah, but inasmuch as only a majority vote is needed at a Republican convention it is not likely that the president's re-nomination can be thwarted.

There is another reason why activity on behalf of Mr. Hoover has just begun. For many months rumors have been circulated to the effect that Mr. Hoover might decide to withdraw on the ground that he was discouraged and did not wish to carry the burdens of another term. Mr. Brown's organization plans just announced are bound to squelch all such reports and let everybody know that the president has no thought of retiring and that he wants his friends to assist in the movement to continue his administration in power.

FARMERS INCORPORATE SHIPPING ASSOCIATION

Articles of incorporation for the Kaukauna Cooperative Shipping association, first meeting of whose incorporators will be held this afternoon at the Farmers and Merchants bank, Kaukauna, have been filed with A. G. Koch, register of deeds. Directors will be elected at the meeting.

The association has been organized to buy and sell or act as agent to buy and sell livestock and general farm supplies, lease, buy, exchange, own, hold mortgages on, sell and convey real estate and personal property. Membership is limited to persons engaged in farming and the membership fee will be $1.

Incorporators are William Heindie, Charles Grode, H. E. Krueger, John Grafmeier and John W. Ebben.

35 MEN EMPLOYED ON TWO SEWER PROJECTS

About 35 Appleton men are finding employment on the two sewer projects now under way. The majority are working on the Parkway-blvd sewer, which is being dug by hand. About two blocks of the trenching for this sewer will be done by Saturday.

A dozen men are now working on the Locust-st sewer, and more will be employed in the near future. The third shaft of the Locust-st job, which will be all tunnel work, is now being sunk at the Third-st intersection. Shafts have already been sunk at the Front-st and Prospect-ave corners.

GOVERNMENT REPLIES TO APPEAL BY CAPONE

Chicago — (AP) — The government's answer to the appeal of "Scarface" Alphonse Capone from his sentence of 11 years imprisonment and $50,000 fine for lodging federal taxes was filed in the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals Friday. It contains 54 printed pages.

Oral arguments will be heard Feb. 9, Capone, meanwhile, is in the Cook-co jail serving time but gaining no credit on his penitentiary sentence.

STATE INSPECTS NEW SCHOOL AT SEYMOUR

H. W. Schmidt, superintendent of buildings for the state department of public instruction, and A. G. Meating, county superintendent of schools, went to Seymour this afternoon to inspect the new school at Seymour district No. 2. The building was erected last fall.

TOONERVILLE FOLKS

WHEN YOU FORGET ABOUT THE EMERGENCY SNOWBALL IN THE OVERCOAT POCKET.

BOOKS AND BOOKMEN

By Eleanor Evans Wing

BOOK REVIEW
By Eleanor Evans Wing
Most Popular Books of the Week
Scaramouche, The Kingmaker, by Rafael Sabatini.
Broome Stages by Clemence Dane.
Mr. and Mrs. Pennington by Francis Brett Young.
The Shortest Night by G. B. Stern.
Westward Passage by Margaret Barnes.

SCARAMOUCHE, THE KINGMAKER

There are few greater thrills for the greedy reader than those which come when an old friend returns, unspoiled by years, and unchanged except for time. Sometimes an author uses one character too often; for example, remember Philo Vance, whose poses and enormous vocabulary, pall very much with repetition. On the other hand, Dr. Lavendar never became tiresome, nor did the Scarlet Pimpernel, however many times they appeared on the pages of new novels. The reason for this is because the two latter people were really human beings. Vance is a puppet, a symbol of the velvet-man, who erred but seldom, and then only because some other human element led him astray.

Scaramouche, the Kingmaker, by Rafael Sabatini, published by Houghton Mifflin, and available in Appleton at the Petubone Bookshop is a tale of the return of Scaramouche, playing a different part. He is an older, more restrained figure, than the young, hot-blooded actor who played politics, love and war with Blin's traveling troupe many years ago. This time he is the deus-ex-machina of kings, the pawn in a more dangerous, and more serious game—that of restoring the Bourbons to the throne of France at the height of the French revolution. His daring is tempered with wisdom, although his neck is not any safer than it was in the old carefree days. He is as lovable, but he makes love less often, as is becoming to his years. He will fight, but not on the same pretexts that led him into duels and scraps hitherto. He is an older, wiser Villon, and has taken his maturity normally.

Sabatini has often been criticized for his haphazard, speedy, and careless way of writing. Probably the vast number of historical novels which have come from his pen are responsible for this libel. At any rate, he has written books with as great gusto and as often as Sir Walter Scott did so many years ago, and all critics are sceptical of the prolific writer. However, Scaramouche, the Kingmaker is not a careless piece of work. Much of the history involved in it has demanded serious study, and exact manipulation to secure the authentic touch which the novel possesses. Neither is this latest tale as easy reading as its many predecessors. Some of the dignity of the older Scaramouche has seeped into its pages, and the reader finds himself progressing slowly, and becoming more and more swallowed up in the history of French Revolution times.

The plot is not as fiery as that of the Scarlet Pimpernel stories although it is much on the same order.

LARGER MARINE FORCE GOING TO NICARAGUA

Washington — (AP) — Secretary Adams said Friday additional marines would be sent to Nicaragua to help supervise the elections there.

Adams said the additional troops would be a "necessity" during the elections. He added no decision had been reached as to the number of men to be dispatched or the date of their sailing.

The president has appointed Rear Admiral C. H. Woodward to supervise the elections.

It is considered likely that the forces now in Nicaragua would be sent to the widely scattered areas for the election while new forces would be used in the vicinity of Managua, the capital.

Dance at Probst Hall, Greenville, Tues., Jan. 19.

LOW PRICED STOCKS MAKE BEST SHOWING ON RISING MARKET

Expert Adds That Non-dividend Payers Are Also the Soundest

BY GEORGE T. HUGHES
(Copyright, 1932, by Cons. Press)

New York—In selecting stocks for price appreciation at what seems to be the low of a bear market experience teaches first that those issues selling lowest in dollars per share enjoy the largest percentage advance when the general list recovers, and the second that stocks representing organizations catering to so-called luxury demand are better purchases than those dealing in necessities.

All this, observe, is predicted on business recovery. The first rule is easy to understand. It takes less capital to buy the low priced stocks and they come back for the largest gain. Incidentally, it is the non-dividend payers that make the best showing when the market finally and permanently turns. Again this is a maxim to be acted upon only after it appears reasonably sure that industry is on the mend.

The second principle is not so self-evident. It would seem the safest course to make commitments only in shares of corporation which deal in essentials. It is the safest course, but the safest course is not the most profitable when deflation has reached its limit.

Simply for illustration salt is a necessity but people use about as much salt in poor times as in good. It might be safer to buy a salt stock because one feels sure that demand will continue. Jewelry is not a necessity but if there were a stock that was the admitted leader in that business it is a fair assumption that such a stock, still assuming the worst of the depression has been seen, would register a greater percentage rise than the one typical of such a commodity as salt.

Curiously enough during the past two years there have been several instances of stocks in companies dealing in non-essentials which have come nearer to deserving the classification of depression proof than any others. The best illustration is electrical and gas refrigeration. It is not the intent to recommend speculation in any stock or group of stocks that seem to meet the stand-

Mostly Short Words

HORIZONTAL	VERTICAL
1 Goat antelope.	10 Mesh of lace.
2 The after song	11 Sun god.
3 Company	12 The male winner of the Nobel Peace Prize of 1931
4 The female winner of the same prize.	13 Law
5 Male sheep	14 Evening meal
6 Tree, genus	15 Ulimus
7 Shiny silk	16 Reigning "beauty"
8 Glided	17 Citrous fruit
9 Timber on which a window frame stands.	18 Swift broken current in a river
19 Prongs	20 To turn aside.
21 Beverage	22 Perched
23 To droop	24 To inter
25 Simmered	26 To decay
27 Half an em	28 Cavity
29 Northeast.	30 To consent.
31 Refuse matter.	32 Universal
33 Made a surgical incision.	34 To decay
35 Paid publicity	36 Precedes
37 Grain (abbr.)

YESTERDAY'S ANSWER

1. CLAMORS
2. PRESIDENT
3. SHARPS
4. OZZES
5. PROLUSTION
6. HEN
7. WREST
8. ASSAIL
9. LIT
10. SLE
11. SLE
12. SLE
13. SLE
14. SLE
15. SLE
16. SLE
17. SLE
18. SLE
19. SLE
20. SLE
21. SLE
22. SLE
23. SLE
24. SLE
25. SLE
26. SLE
27. SLE
28. SLE
29. SLE
30. SLE
31. SLE
32. SLE
33. SLE
34. SLE
35. SLE
36. SLE
37. SLE
38. SLE
39. SLE
40. SLE
41. SLE
42. SLE
43. SLE
44. SLE
45. SLE
46. SLE
47. SLE
48. SLE
49. SLE
50. SLE

MAESCH PLAYS RECITAL
A short organ recital was presented by LaVahn Maesch of the Lawrence Conservatory of Music at a convocation of Lawrence college students at Memorial chapel Friday morning.

Batteries Charged. Solar Battery Service, Harry Cotton, 1505 N. Richmond, Tel. 5838

EMBREY — Eyes Examined.

ARRANGE MEETING FOR PAINTERS AT APPLETON SCHOOL

Members of State Educational Committee to Speak Here Jan. 19

Pursuing a policy laid down some time ago in regard to offering of organized educational opportunities to Appleton trades, Appleton vocational school as a cooperating agency of the State Painters and Decorators' advisory committee, the State Board of Vocational Education, and the Wisconsin Industrial commission is sponsoring a meeting to be held at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, Jan. 19, at the vocational school.

Speakers representing the state committee will talk on present trade conditions, methods of trade education and training and what the future outlook holds.

Meetings of this type have been held in some of the other cities of the state. An enthusiastic demand has been made to have the message given to the entire trade in the state.

For some time the painters advisory committee has been assisting the state board in surveying the trade on a statewide basis. A program for advancing methods, procedure, practices and standards of those engaged in this trade, is being planned.

Brettschneider FUNERAL HOME
112 So. Appleton St.
Day and Night Telephone 10-11

CHIROPRACTIC FOR HEALTH
Leo J. Murphy, D. C.
Palmer Graduate
NEUROCALOMETER SERVICE
OFFICE HOURS:
9 to 12 — 2 to 5 P. M.
Monday, Wednesday, Saturday 7 to 8 P. M.
504 W. College Ave.
Office Tel. 292 Res. Tel. 4024-R

"Sure, Sailor... I used to Roll my Own"

THEY TASTE BETTER... THEY'RE PURE...
THEY'RE Milder... They Satisfy

"I CARRIED the makin's for years. Got so I could roll 'em single-handed. But there's no real economy in it. The way I figure is this: A fellow don't spend so much on himself but what he can afford to enjoy the best in smokes."

"Myself... I smoke Chesterfields. They cured me of rollin' my own. First off, you get better tobacco."

"I'm not knockin' the makin's... but it stands to reason Chesterfields wouldn't be where they are today if they didn't give you the finest tobacco. I like their aroma."

"Plenty of Turkish in Chesterfields... and you don't get that in the makin's."

And there must be something about the blend, too... you can't get a milder, better taste... not anywhere!

"Got a right good opinion of myself, but I don't figure I'm as clever as those cigarette-making machines. Every single Chesterfield is round and filled right... beats anything you can roll yourself. Besides, it smokes cooler and lasts longer. I've tried both, so I know."

● Nothing amateurish about Chesterfield's Radio Program, either! Nat Shilkret's Orchestra and Alex Gray, popular soloist, entertain you every night except Sunday, at 10:30 Eastern Standard Time, on the Columbia Coast-to-Coast Network.

● WRAPPED IN DU PONT NUMBER 300 MOISTURE-PROOF CELLOPHANE... THE BEST AND MOST EXPENSIVE THAT'S MADE!

APPLETON POST-CRESCENT
PUBLISHED DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAY, BY THE POST PUBLISHING COMPANY, APPLETON, WIS.
ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT APPLETON, WIS. AS SECOND MATTER
ANDREW B. TURNBULL.....President
VICTOR I. MINAHAN.....Treasurer-Editor
H. L. DAVIS.....Secretary-General Manager
JOHN R. RIEDL.....Managing Editor
MEMBERS OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The A. P. is exclusively entitled to the use of reproduction of all news credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper and also the local news published herein.
SUBSCRIPTION RATES
THE APPLETON POST-CRESCENT is delivered by carrier to city and suburban subscribers for fifteen cents a week, or $7.50 a year in advance. By mail, one month 65c, three months $1.50, six months $2.50, one year $4.00 in advance.
Audit Bureau of Circulation
Circulation Guaranteed

CAPITAL AND LABOR CO-OPERATE
A recent preliminary report of Secretary of Labor Doak, though detailed information has not yet been announced, shows the year just passed to be outstanding for the very small number of labor disputes that have taken place.
Based in terms of index numbers, using 1916 as 100, labor disputes fell from 117 in 1917 to 17 in 1930. The year 1931 will compare favorably with 1930 despite a rapid deflation in wages such as was never before known in one year of our recent industrial history.
Generally, wages in 1931 have been reduced about 25 per cent. Hours of labor has also been reduced, yet the American labor unions have remained level-headed and no disputes have occurred such as were common before the war.
Labor knows that there has been an honest attempt on the part of all leading industrial organizations to hold wages up to the highest possible notch. For the most part dividends and salaries were slashed before any acknowledgement was made of the necessity of cutting wages. Only as earnings fell to such a point as to endanger financial stability was the wage-earner asked to contribute to the general burden.
And what is the conclusion? The conclusion cannot be avoided that when labor is treated fairly it will respond in like fashion.
Indeed, the best fruit of this depression to date is the genuine and intensive spirit of cooperation among all the people to minimize its harm so much as possible.

A COMMUNE BECOMES CAPITALISTIC
The communistic Amana colonies in Iowa are going capitalistic. At least a plan of reorganization which points that way is now being formally proposed by their board of trustees.
Details of the plan have not been made public except that a corporation is planned to take over all the property which has heretofore been held in common. Stock is to be issued which will make possible transfers of ownership, thus profoundly modifying the "share and share alike" idea which has been an essential characteristic of the organization during its seventy-five years of existence.
The managing board has announced several factors responsible for this action.
Throughout its history the foundation upon which the society was erected and supported in cohesive unity has been religion. The waning of this religious enthusiasm, particularly among the youthful members, is one of the fundamental causes of the radical change now taking place. It was so much a part of the colony life that the threat of disbarment from church services was usually sufficient to maintain obedience to communal laws. This punishment is no longer effective in maintaining discipline.
Change in religious ideas together with economic conditions are resulting in the refusal of members to accept assignments or abide, as one young member said, by "this old-foggyism that masquerades as religion" in the regulation of personal conduct.
Russia is attempting communism without religion; the Amana society's experiment was successful because it was essentially a religious sect and held together by that powerful influence.
Russia's gigantic plan may be watched with particular interest from this point of view. An enthusiasm unsupported by anything except secular incentives may not be long-lived in a state of society which requires self-sacrifice and the complete subjection and control of the individual for the common good.

Opinions Of Others
FIGHTING ORGANIZED CRIME
It is not in apology or with a sense of consolation to recall that things were bad in our cities years ago as they are now. At least this is true of Chicago and doubtless in the old Five Point days in New York. A book entitled "Citizen Cole of Chicago," compiled by Hoyt King and distributed through the generosity of Julius Rosenberg, tells the story of Chicago largely through the influence of George E. Cole, "a little man with broad shoulders, a hard head and a bulldog jaw," who, supported by citizens' committees but otherwise without prestige or money, broke up gangs of grafters and organized corruptionists. The book shows that invincible machines are not invincible against organized incorruptible and impartial citizenry assisted by newspapers. Cole and his associates got indictments against judges, policemen, deputy sheriffs, policemen and dishonest politicians. Chicago had been practically ham-strung by the hoodlums. The book recites that the chief of police did not control all his own forces nor did the mayor control the chief.
—Indianapolis News.

POST-MORTEM
T SNOWED the other night . . . man and boy how it snowed . . . things began to look promising . . . an honest-to-gosh Wisconsin winter, a month behind time, was right on the way . . . people began to sit up and wonder when the thermometer was going to get down below the nothing mark . . . wonder when the roads would be blocked and transportation cut off . . . when we could shovel our way out of the second floor . . . when the weather, the age-old subject of conversation, would really be something to talk about . . . then yesterday morning it began to thaw . . . and it kept on thawing . . . a thermometer in the sun showed 60 above zero . . . and as this was written, the good old Wisconsin winter was still like prosperity . . . just around the corner . . . and if anyone says "just around the corner" again, we're gonna shoot to kill . . .
Safe at Last
"There's money in brewing," said Bridget O'Flynn.
"So why keep on working while others make gin?"
"I'll buy an old wash tub and kettle to match. And in less than a week I'll turn out me first batch."
Well, true to her word, the things were then bought.
And when they arrived the neighbors all thought the old girl was batty to buy up such trash. When everyone knew of her shortage of cash. But Bridget said nothing and started to cook. And when it was done a small gleeeful she took. Then just a bit later, the folks thereabout. Assembled in mass to lay poor Bridget out. The rector then spoke of the curses of gin. And the one who'd departed, encumbered with sin.
"You see!" said the Rector, "such things never pay."
But in spite of it all I have this much to say: Though she never had time to make a confession, At least she has gone where they don't talk depression.
—The Weary Gleaner
Useless questions: Who's going to be the next football coach at Wisconsin and what of it?
Uncle Sam is proposing a new tax, and wotta tax. And Undersecretary of the Treasury Ogden Mills has the crust to say "We're asking the taxpayers to pay cheerfully for two years."
Why people should have to be cheerful about it, we dunno. But awright, folks, do your duty. Smile cheerfully as you pay your taxes for the next two years. As a matter of fact, you might as well do a good job of it and kiss the tax collector on the forehead as he collects your shekels.
Ireland felt an earthquake for the first time in three centuries, just the other day. Well, things on the emerald isle have been entirely too quiet of late, anyway.
Jonah-the-coroner

Just Folks
By Edgar A. Guest
EXERCISE
The king fell ill. Unto the royal bed
They summoned doctors very grave and wise,
And after much conferring they they said:
"Master, your greatest need is exercise."
"How shall I get it?" asked the pale-faced king.
"There is but one way only, they replied,
"Go to the woods and learn an axe to swing,
Get down and walk and let your groovesman ride."
"Behold your servants all with health aglow,
Building strong bodies by the tasks they do,
If laughter such as theirs you wish to know,
Then you must know the pain they suffer, too."
"If you would own, in spite of pomp and wealth,
The strength of arm that woodsmen all possess,
If you would share the poor man's stock of health,
Then you must share the poor man's weariness."
(Copyright, 1932, Edgar A. Guest)

Looking Backward
TEN YEARS AGO
Saturday, Jan. 14, 1922
General John J. Pershing, Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, Secretary of the Navy Edwin Denby, General Haan, General Douglas McArthur, and National Commander Hanford McNider were among the men of world prominence who had been invited to come to Appleton March 4 and 5 to attend the second annual departmental conference of post commanders and post adjutants of the American Legion in Wisconsin.
The action brought against the city by the old Appleton Water Works company, which involved a controversy of 20 years standing, was dismissed in federal district court at Milwaukee the previous day when a decision which had been under advisement for four years, was handed down.
Mr. and Mrs. John L. Jacquot were to leave the following day on a three months' cruise to the West Indies, Panama, and Pacific ocean.
Miss Martha Ness was a business visitor in Green Bay that day.
Prof. Felix Ball left that day for a week's business trip to Madison.
Appleton friends of Miss Edna Ferber, short story writer and novelist, had received word of her departure for Italy about Feb. 15. She was to be accompanied by her mother. They expected to stay abroad more than three months.

Twenty-Five Years Ago
Saturday, Jan. 19, 1907
Grant Phillips left that morning for Ripon on a brief business trip.
Louis Kirchner made a brief business trip to Kaukauna the previous day.
Mr. and Mrs. William Bridges, Milwaukee, were in the city as guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Reese.
Mrs. D. P. Steinberg left that morning for Madison where she was to spend a week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Barry.
Miss Gertrude W. Baden returned the previous evening from West Wood where she had been during the previous three weeks.
Henry Arens, who had been employed with the Appleton Lumber and Fuel company as bookkeeper, expected to leave the following Monday for Chicago to enroll in the Armour School of Technology for a complete college course.
W. E. Saecker and L. H. Thompson returned the preceding evening from Chicago where they had been on a business trip during the previous week.
A surprise masquerade party was given for Miss Ida Bursee, Appleton-st, the previous evening at her home.

Personal Health Talks
By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author
THE DOCTOR PRONOUNCES A MAN DEAD
In the early years of my practice I had a darned hard time making a living, as you may readily suppose I would. Not that I had no practice. Gosh, I had quite a busy little practice, but Lord, how the dead-beats did favor me! When I had endured it for five years I was pretty despondent. I envied young fellows who brought home their wages regularly every week, pay for all or practically all they had done the week before. So I slipped away one day and—I didn't drown myself, but tried another form of suicide. I took a civil service examination for the job of prison physician. I got the job. I went to prison. I served about three hours. I met a murderer who was acting as the former prison physician's right hand man—dispensing his medicines, etc., for lack of a professional assistant. I learned that as prison doctor one of my first duties would be the examination of electrocuted men to pronounce them sufficiently dead. I absconded and returned to the mines.
"This job of pronouncing a person dead is no light task, believe me. Especially when you've been called in a hurry or the circumstances are such as to make you anxious and tense. You may pretend you are a possible flutter or a faint respiration. But I tell you it is mighty hard to be as sure as you imagine folks imagine a doctor should be in such a case.
So I have all the sympathy in the world with the young doctor—it is usually a young doctor striving courageously to disguise his callow youth—who permits the circumstances to stampede him into "pronouncing" the victim dead, only to have a squad of firemen, or maybe an undertaker, discover a bit later that the corpse is still breathing.
Indeed the very fear of making some such mistake adds to the difficulties which beset any physician in such a situation. I confess that I have deliberately postponed acknowledgment of the victory in not a few instances until I could be fairly certain Old Man Death was not going to try any such scurvy trick on me. That is to say, I have fiddled around with the hypodermic syringe or something for several moments after I was quite satisfied on my own mind that my patient was a corpse for keeps.
Three school girls sent in some questions which prompted these ghastly remarks. They asked if anybody is ever revived or brought back to life after the heart has stopped beating. But the girls had not stopped to beat in order to warrant a conclusion that it has stopped beating. They also asked if a person could possibly live after having been pronounced dead. Well, that depends on the professional perspicacity of the individual who has the temerity to pronounce the person dead.
QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Girl To Old Woman
A year ago physical examination showed I had chronic cholecystitis, marked viscerosplenic, allergy of gastro-intestinal tract, endocrine, pituitary-thyroid-gonadal-trope, underweight. (Correspondent capitalizes all these dreadful names, but we don't think they deserve it.) I am a business woman aged 32 years. I am now confronted with the question of marriage. I would like to marry and be a millstone round a man's neck.
(Miss P. L. E.)
Answer—Nonsense, daughter. Some quack is stringing you with all that hocus-pocus. Forget it and get your man. A husband and a few children will take your mind off your self.
Remorse
Married, 27, one son 5. Two years ago foolishly had an abortion, due to circumstances (money matters) I thought warranted it . . . now fear I cannot have any more children.
(Mrs. M. R.)
Answer—That is a familiar consequence—one of the costs. Only the physician who knows precisely what damage has resulted can advise you.

(Copyright John F. Dille Co.)
Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writer's names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

The Tynmites
By Hal Cochran
THE big grasshopper's legs were long and it looked very big and strong. As Carpy sat upon its back the others laughed in glee. The way 'twould hop up in the air gave little Carpy quite a scare. "Hang on tight right," cried Scouty, "and you're safe as you can be."
"Oh, do you think so," Carpy said. "If you're so brave, just come ahead and try to ride him for a while. I'll bet you'll take a flop. I'll try to steer him back to you. It may be mighty hard to do." But Mister Hopper was real kind. He soon came to a stop.
Then Scouty said, "I'll show you how to ride him right. Just watch me, now." He then climbed on the hopper's back and shouted, "All right, jump!" Away he went, out through the air. The way that Scouty stuck was rare. The hopper made one long, last jump and landed with a thump.
"I must admit that you are great," said Carpy. "But, if you will wait, I'll try the riding stunt again, to prove I'm also good. This time, before we leave the ground, I'll wrap my little feet around the hopper's back and then I'll ride as real good riders should."
At last he cried, "Well, I'm all set and now a real treat you will get. Get going, Mister Hopper. Show the lads I'm safe and sound." But Carpy wrapped his feet too tight and Mister Hopper got a fright. He flopped a bit and Carpy shortly landed on the ground.
The others rushed up to his side. "Oh, are you hurt?" was Duncy cried. He then helped Carpy to sit up. His face was skinned a bit. Kind Scouty was the next to speak. "We'll rub soft flowers upon your cheek," said he. "That is the only way I know of helping it."
(The giant puts the Tynmites back to work in the next story.)

Job's Importance Grows
The most talked of man for Davis' post is young "Teddy" Roosevelt, now governor of Porto Rico. Young "T. E." has done a rather good job in Porto Rico and may be in line for the bigger task in the Philippines.
With independence nearer perhaps than it has been for many years, the governor-general of the Philippines will occupy a position of increasing prominence from now on. A bill calling for independence already has been introduced in the congress by Senator King of Utah.
The secretary of war recently returned from the islands where he made an extensive investigation. It was his report that prompted President Hoover to announce:
"Independence tomorrow without assured economic stability would result in collapse of the Philippine government revenues and the collapse of all economic life in the islands."
Roosevelt's Work Hailed
Roosevelt perhaps is as well equipped as any one for the job of governing the Philippines. The success he has made in Porto Rico—a difficult task—has been hailed generally.
Not able even to speak the language of the Porto Ricans, "T. E." tackled the job with Rooseveltian enthusiasm and got results. He instituted from the start a strict program of economy and has been incessant in his pleas for greater opportunities for the Porto Ricans.
Whether he would care to leave Porto Rico for the Philippines is problematical. He has met all reports to the effect that they were mere rumors.

Today's Anniversary
FUEL ECONOMY ORDER
Jan. 16, 1918. Dr. H. A. Garfield, United States fuel administrator, issued an order directing all factories not engaged in the production of foodstuffs to suspend operations for a period of five days, beginning Jan. 18, and to remain closed on each Monday from Jan. 28 to March 25, inclusive.
Daniel Willard, chairman of the War Industries Board, resigned on this date.
It was reported that Lenin of the Russian Bolshevik government had ordered that King Ferdinand of Rumania be arrested and imprisoned at Petrograd (now Leningrad).
The Hungarian government resigned on account of failure to obtain necessary support for its military program.
The Japanese government learned that several Jap warships had mysteriously left for Manchurian waters. One of these days the Japanese government is going to find out a lot of its generals are doing something or other over there.
And then, of course, in the years to come the men who accept Leap Year proposals can always say they were sweet and young and that worldly women talked them into it.

But you don't want to buy YOUR furnishings that way.
"Give me a ticket to Newark" . . . said the man to the ticket agent.
"Newark, N. J. or Newark, Ohio?" asked the agent.
"Whichever is the cheapest" replied the man at the counter.
Schmidt's prices are low . . . way low . . . for furnishings of Schmidt quality and quality accessories are the only kind you'll be happy with.
Should you be tempted to pay less than Schmidt's low prices for an item of apparel . . . just remember that there is no economy in catching the wrong train.
WOOLEN HOSIERY . . . 50c up
QUALITY UNDERWEAR . . . 75c up
LINED GLOVES . . . $1.50 up
WARM PULL OVERS . . . $1.95 up
Overcoats at 20% Discount
Matt Schmidt & Son
HATTERS — CLOTHIERS
106 E. College Ave.

Seen And Heard In New York
BY WILLIAM GAINES
New York—This delightful child of South Carolina was all upset when late for the matinee appointment, she met her friend at a Times Square drugstore. She was unaccompanied on her first subway journey, and her adventures left her maiden heart in her throat.
The appointment was made by telephone. The friend simply instructed the stranger, "Take the subway at the Seventy-second street station. That's right near your hotel. Catch an express and get off at Forty-second. Anybody can show you the way."
Friend didn't think it necessary to explain that the express made no stops between Seventy-second and Forty-second.
I relay the recitation of consequences as to why the friend quoted the newcomer's narrative to me. "Oh, my dear, I had the most terrible time getting here."
"I asked a policeman how to get down in that cave at Seventy-second street, and another man in a uniform showed me where to catch the express train."
"Well, I saw we were simply shooting by stations without stopping, so I really began to get worried."
"I went to the conductor and told him I wanted to get off at Forty-second street. He said, 'That's all right with me, lady. Can you imagine that? The fresh thing!'"
"I went back and sat down, and pretty soon the conductor yelled, 'Forty-second street next.'"
"I looked around for a bell to ring, or something. Then I asked a big fat man sitting by me how to stop the train. He said, 'The motorman will do that, and he laughed. Then he wanted to keep on talking. Honestly, I never saw such men as you have here!'"
"Before I could move, the train stopped. So I hurried out."
"And good gracious, me! I've never seen the like of all that underground labyrinth here at Forty-second street. Honestly, I wandered around down there for hours before I could find my way out."
"Well, really, it wasn't that long, but it seemed like it, anyway. Finally I asked an old woman how she got upstairs."
She said, "Why, I just walk up like anybody else."
"Such people! Anyway (naming), here I am. So we're going to see that adorable Bert Lytell!"
Oddities And Endings
Insurance companies are doing quite a thriving business here insuring individuals against hold-up.
Harry Meyer, the musical director says he took out such a policy and knows a number of other musicians who have.
It seems that even the fiddle and horn toters have been sold on the idea that musically inclined gangsters might take their instruments from them when they are going home late at night. Some musicians carry more than cars in their pockets, too, Meyer says.
There is a Miss Esther M. Obeys in the telephone book. Also a Mrs. Rebecca A. Honor. John Marry, golf professional, is listed. For the one "T. E." has done a rather good job in Porto Rico and may be in line for the bigger task in the Philippines.
And Ed Bodin, who used to live in Jersey, wrote himself into a ritzy New York apartment.
Barbs
Twenty-three tons of fresh air can be forced into Chicago stadium arena by 1932 Republican National convention every minute. How many tons of hot air can be forced out?
Columbia bull fights fans were disappointed in an American bull fighter's performance because the bull was lazy. Hereafter the American will realize that if the public must have bull, it must be interesting.
An electric device has been invented to open locks. Now if someone will only invent something to open Scotch purses.
North Carolina is planning a 10-year plan to draw business. After which it is safe to predict a new and fiercer wave of Carolina melodias.
And now it's divulged that Lithuania is really ruled by two women. In which case the slogan is doubtless, "Listen, Lithuania."
Things have got so bad that the man on the street says stock market suckers are waiting for a re-bait.
But it's unlikely they'll swallow another hook without knowing there's a catch in it.

BEHIND THE GERMAN SMOKE SCREEN

BY HUBERT R. KNICKERBOCKER
(Copyright, 1932, by New York Evening Post, Inc.)

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the seventh of a series of articles on the economic and political situation in Germany, by H. R. Knickerbocker, New York Evening Post correspondent.

Jena—Germany in 1932 has many worlds. Out of the world of hunger, from Falkenstein across the wintry no-man's land of "Saxon Siberia" through hamlets quiet as though deserted, we passed into a larger town. Suddenly our headlights, that all the way had revealed no movement save the sporadic groups of tramps that people the German countryside, went dim in the light of brilliant windows.

The glass walls of a factory stretch wide and high on a front several city blocks long and their radiance gave promise that in Germany there are more cheerful spots than the villages of jobless textile workers. The promise was fulfilled. Against the background of German depression the Carl Zeiss works in Jena stand out like their shining windows against the night sky. If one could judge this country's economic condition by that of the Zeiss plant the verdict would be that Germany is sound, its people comfortable, its future secure.

Compared with the desolate territory of empty mills and wretchedness just a few hours away, this was literally another world. It was a world that seemed the real Germany—the Germany of order and industry, cleanliness and comfort, productivity and skill. It was a world too that bore a name known in every country on the globe. Hardly a large machine shop in America is without the instruments made by Zeiss and few universities, laboratories or observatories lack equipment from the Jena works.

A one-sided picture of Germany is easiest to procure. There is the night life of Berlin's Kurfuerstendamm, first impression to strike and baffle the visitor to a country reputed to be bankrupt. It would be possible to tour the country's largest cities and render a report on national-wide dancing, wine-bibbing and beg-guzzling, or prodigal living in the midst of want. There are the regions of maximum unemployment and misery. It would be no task to find enough examples of German hunger to convince the world this country is about to starve en masse. The difficulty is to strike an average. The Zeiss concern provides a welcome balance to the shadows of Germany in the crisis.

Factory World Famous

It, too, is not entirely typical. Anybody can make textiles. Not many plants in the world can make the optical and physical instruments turned out by the Zeiss works and the specialty glass by their affiliated undertaking, the Schott Glass Works. Nor is the Jena concern an ordinary unit in the German economic system. It is not a corporation but an endowment, and its organization and structure are unique. But the qualities of superior workmanship, inventiveness and scientific intelligence that have lifted the concern to its present level and preserved it there in relatively unimpaired prosperity during the worst world economic crisis in the memory of the living are qualities the Germans possess to a typical degree and are qualities that no amount of war or post-war suffering has deterred. The Zeiss works present valuable evidence for a judgment on Germany's future.

From the spacious doors of the factory poured a stream of workers. They were the most prosperous looking workers I had seen in Germany. They were well dressed, their bearings were cheerful and there were thousands of them. They had good reason to be cheerful. Within six months the workers of this plant were hardly aware that anything of moment was wrong with the world. Today in the midst of the "hardest winter," the plant is running with 85 per cent of its full force working 42 hours a week. From the peak of its post war business in 1929, when the concern had 5,900 persons employed, the force has been reduced by only 850, or by 15 per cent, compared to the forty per cent unemployment prevailing among industrial workers throughout the Reich.

Strong as the contrast was between the appearance of the workers leaving the plant and that of the workers in the poorer districts of Germany, it was even stronger inside the plant. Here were faces unworried, intelligent, faces of character. Rows of men clothed in white aprons and before broad windows assembling microscopes, polished white napkins. Other rows of studious men tested the qualities of a marvelous and incredibly complicated machine that takes distorted aerial photographs and converts them into topographical maps. Row on row of men and women bent carefully over lenses, polishing them to fantastic degrees of accuracy. Ranks of polishing machines bent forth like companies of soldiers at attention. Potted plants stood in the windows. An air of leisurely confidence pervaded the place.

Build Planetarium for U. S.

It was not possible to visit more than a fraction of the vast works covering two whole city blocks with endless departments for the manufacture of literally everything having to do with optics and fine mechanics, from spectacles and automobile searchlights to astronomical telescopes and the most intricate of all their machines, the planetarium. We paused in the astronomical department to look more closely at the twelve-inch telescope with a focal length of five meters and a magnification of 833 times intended for the Los Angeles Planetarium. Not all the machines throughout the factory were at work. Business had receded but real depression seemed a long way from the workrooms where the total income to the worker on piece-work is still 1.25 marks an hour with forty-two hours work compared to 1.85 marks an hour with forty-eight hours work in 1930.

The homes of the Zeiss workers gave the best proof of the space that separates the best situated from the worst situated workers in Germany. We visited a worker from the Zeiss foundry. With wife and child he occupied an apartment of three

BOILEAU HITS SOLON'S DELAY ON POOR RELIEF

Declares People Need Help Before Financial Institutions

BY RUBY A. BLACK
(Post-Crescent's Washington Correspondent.)

Washington—Delay of congress in making appropriations for the millions of people of this country "who are more in need of relief than are the financial institutions of our country," was scored by Rep. Gerald Boileau of Waupaca, Wisconsin's freshman congressman, in his maiden speech before the house of representatives.

While reporting himself as favorable to some of the financial measures, Rep. Boileau expressed the feeling that congress is building up such tremendous appropriations that when direct relief measures do come up before the house, some of the men sponsoring the present appropriations will say that too much money has been appropriated, thus prejudicing the right of the American people to receive some direct relief in the form of appropriations for public buildings or any other measure that will help the people who are unemployed and unable to provide for themselves and their families.

First Speech

Boileau's first speech before the house of representatives follows: "I have thus far succeeded in suppressing my desire to make my first speech on the floor of the house, and possibly after I get through speaking I shall wish that I had persisted in my resolution and not have spoken until I had become more familiar with proceedings of the house, and until I had something more beneficial to give to the members of the house.

"It seems to me that in this session of congress we should be giving more time to real bills that may effect some substantial relief to the six or seven million people of the country who are unemployed and unable to obtain sustenance for themselves and families.

"We have been giving a good deal of consideration to financial measures, just as if to give relief to financial institutions of $5,000,000,000 is of more importance than to give relief to those persons unable to go to the bank and get relief.

"We have had under consideration a bill to give aid to agriculture under the form of an appropriation of $100,000,000 to the Federal land banks. I voted for the bill and am glad to have done so, but I doubt very much whether agriculture itself will get any real substantial benefit from it.

Won't Aid Citizens

Today, under the guise of a relief measure, we are considering a bill providing for $2,000,000,000 to give relief to railroads, insurance companies and banks. I do not believe the citizen who is absolutely in need of immediate relief will get any benefit from it whatsoever.

"The reason I rise today is to say that I fear we are building up such tremendous appropriations that the greatly reduced German army and navy, but like the Junkers airplane factory, entered into an arrangement with firms abroad to continue this production with their patents and licenses.

It may be seen that the fundamental idea back of the founder's mind was to nurture, support and reward all the forces that directly or indirectly went to build up the concern; the forces of labor, of science and of the community as a whole. His only dependence upon idealism was in the case of the directors, whom he expected to give their best services for a salary less than they could receive in other concerns. Inventions made in the works, however, are rewarded to such an extent that some Zeiss inventors have become wealthy.

Minor features are that in 1900, eighteen years before the eight-hour day was made law in Germany, it was adopted in the Zeiss plant; all public holidays, falling on weekdays are paid as regular working days and workers receive paid vacations ranging up to three weeks in the year.

Pensions for All

But the heart of the Zeiss system is the fact that no worker who has worked as long as six months may be discharged without paying him a compensation graded in accordance with the length of his services and that all workers who have worked a minimum of three years are entitled to a pension and that the ground scale of wages, once established, may not be reduced.

First of all, these provisions establish what Abbe most sought, namely, the secure feeling on the part of the worker that he is a permanent part of the concern and not a commodity. Second, they lead to a campaign in increasing the payroll beyond a point that may be maintained through permanent expansion of business, thus affording a valuable brake on the overexpansion that had so much to do with the present world crisis. Third, they lead to the greatest reserve in discharging workers during periods of depression, thus from a national viewpoint providing an even more valuable check on the precipitate increase of unemployment and the consequent decrease on popular buying power which is blamed in large part for the continuation of the depression. Of all its achievements, neither its continued superiority in its own field nor its benefactions nor its 200 to 300 fundamental inventions are as interesting at the present moment as the fact that the Zeiss Foundation has managed to preserve a higher percentage of employment in its plant than any other industrial concern of comparable importance in a Germany suffering as never before from unemployment.

This record was made in a period that for economic disturbance has no parallel in modern German history. The plant was largely occupied before the war with the production of military and naval equipment for most of the armies and navies of the world. During the war it was almost wholly occupied with producing such equipment for the Central Powers and its working force reached 10,700 employees. After the war the Treaty of Versailles forbade German works to export military equipment. The Zeiss Works in Jena were forced to give up the production of military instruments save for when measures do come before this house some time in the near future affording some direct relief to the American people some of the men who have been sponsoring this bill will rise and say that we have already appropriated too much money and that we can not afford to appropriate any more, and that will prejudice the right of the American people to have some direct relief in the form of appropriations for public buildings or any other measure that will help the person who is unemployed and unable to provide for himself and family.

"It is all right to go ahead and make these appropriations, I believe, but I am afraid when we get up so high that the cry will go out that we have already appropriated more money than we can possibly hope to raise in taxation, and that argument will be used to scale down the amount of money to be appropriated for direct relief and for appropriations to construct public buildings."

Makes Protest

Boileau's protest against the monopoly of time given to the consideration of financial measures during the present session of congress was made during consideration of the $2,000,000,000 reconstruction finance corporation bill, which was debated by the house after it was passed by the senate. Of the eight senators voting against this measure, Sen. John J. Blaine of Escobedo was one and he announced that if Sen. Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., had been present he would have voted against it also. The bill was sponsored by the administration.

Following Boileau's comment, Rep. William C. Lankford of Georgia said that the finance reconstruction bill already labeled as providing help for agriculture and that he was afraid it would all be charged up to agriculture and the farmer.

Boileau agreed, adding that he doubted if the farmer will get any direct relief from it.

Another Wisconsin representative, John C. Schafer of Milwaukee, one time railroad engineer, came to the defense of the administration's finance reconstruction bill, however, asking if Boileau did not believe the relief to the railroads would bring direct relief from the unemployment standpoint, "when we consider that almost every great railroad in the nation today is practically bankrupt and they have been forced to cut off many thousands of persons from their payrolls."

Boileau agreed that he thought this would have a good effect but added that he intended to vote for several amendments which would be proposed to make the measure more equitable.

I want to make my position clear in the record and to say I am very much disappointed that we have spent over a month's time of congress, going now into the middle of winter, and have not appropriated one cent to give direct relief to those millions of people who are more in need of relief than are the financial institutions of our country."

Probably the most unique excuse ever given in Washington for speeding, was that offered by a Wisconsin man recently. Arrested for exceeding the speed limit of the capital, Reuben Sparkman, member of Sen. John J. Blaine's office force and holder of a doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Wisconsin, told the judge that he speeded his machine to keep his young daughter from seeing necking parties being enacted in cars ahead. Sparkman sought to pass the cars and was making 40 miles an hour when stopped by the police.

Sparkman was released on his personal bond, after he promised not to repeat the offense.

Federal Land banks had 6,917 loans in force in Wisconsin on Nov. 30, 1931 and 1,589 of these loans had installments delinquent, according to a report submitted to congress by the Federal board at the request of the Senate. More than half of the loans on which payments were in arrears were 90 days or more overdue, 651 of the lapsing loans were less than 90 days in arrears as compared to 938 loans with installments delinquent 90 days or more.

SET UP SLIDE RULE COURSE AT SCHOOL

Operation of Apparatus to Be Explained in Evening Class

A complete and comprehensive course of study in construction, operation and uses of the slide-rule will be offered at Appleton vocational school at 7:30 Tuesday evenings, starting Jan. 19. It was announced today by Herb Heilig, school director.

One of the features of this course is that a study of the special uses of the slide rule will be made. A slide rule may be adapted for example to single purpose of computing quantities in a manufacturing process.

The vocational school has not given this course prior to this time because of the difficulty of securing an instructor with the special training and interest in this type of work.

The present instructor has made a study of slide rules and their adaptation to various commercial and manufacturing processes. He has fitted scales for certain types of work to blank rules.

A high tribute was paid to the senior LaFollette by his son, Sen. Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., recently when he was interviewed over the radio by William Hard, well known Washington newspaper man.

Asked what was the biggest legislative thing done by his father in the course of his many years of progressivism in Wisconsin and Washington, Sen. LaFollette said:

"During his life-long political battle, through his individual efforts or under his leadership, certain legislative enactments were accomplished which in a way symbolized my father's underlying political and economic philosophy. Among these may be mentioned. Physical valuation of railroads as a basis for scientific rate-making; increased power for the Interstate Commerce commission; a fact-finding Tariff commission; limitation of hours for railroad trainmen; the Seamen's act; state regulation of public utilities; graduated income and inheritance tax laws; primary election laws.

"My father was not only a crusader, he was a bullfighter. He was never hasty. He always made sure of the next step. He was radical and dangerous only in that, once sure of his stand, he maintained it, regardless of the nature or the power of the opposition.

"Again and again he took advanced ground single handed and alone but he had so fortified his position by research, he had so masterfully marshalled the facts, that it was only a question of time until the proposition he advocated was written into law.

"And into good law as events have proven. While the preservation of human freedom and equality of opportunity were the touchstones by which he measured all political issues, I think it is fair to say that his definite legislative accomplishments, both as executive and as legislator, in state and nation, prove the proposition that any measures which safeguard and advance the welfare of the people at large will, at the same time, advance the best business interests of the community."

Emerson Elia of Madison, head of the Wisconsin tobacco pool, was in Washington during the week. Wednesday he attended a hearing of the House Ways and Means committee at which Ogden Mills, under-secretary of the treasury, proposed among other tax measures a three cents per pound increase in tobacco tax. The present tax is 18 cents.

Elia will return to Washington and testify before the committee on Jan. 22. He will not as yet state his position.

Can you solve this puzzle?

The Chicago Tribune will pay $5,000.00

for BEST ANSWERS to WASHINGTON BI-CENTENNIAL

CROSSWORD PUZZLES

An historic event is named in each puzzle . . . Solve the puzzle and name the event

No. 6—CHICAGO TRIBUNE WASHINGTON CROSSWORD PUZZLES

The Historic Event Named in This Puzzle Is.....

- | | | |
|--|--------------------------------|--------------------------------|
| HORIZONTAL | VERTICAL | |
| 1. Condescends. | 21. Outer edge of a wheel | 1. Curved ceilings |
| 2. Site of a conflict on June 28, 1778, where Washington's strategic plan was ruined by treachery of Charles Lee (3rd word in event title) | 22. Laundry accessory | 22. Son of Seth (Bib.) |
| 3. Proceed as lights | 23. Reduced; restrained | 23. Reduced; restrained |
| 4. Proceed as lights | 24. Company (abbr.) | 24. Company (abbr.) |
| 5. Shelled fruit (pl.) | 25. One who fills | 25. One who fills |
| 6. Condition | 26. High in the scale (music) | 26. High in the scale (music) |
| 7. Repair | 27. Go in | 27. Go in |
| 8. Farm boy's name | 28. A brawl | 28. A brawl |
| 9. Highway | 29. Closed car | 29. Closed car |
| 10. After a while | 30. Young women | 30. Young women |
| 11. Arabs | 31. A prima donna | 31. A prima donna |
| 12. Statesman who ruled Athens at her highest point of development | 32. An imposing arrangement | 32. An imposing arrangement |
| 13. Conflict (1st word in event title) | 33. Recollections | 33. Recollections |
| | 34. To protect against assault | 34. To protect against assault |
| | 35. Only that and no more | 35. Only that and no more |
| | 36. Preposition | 36. Preposition |

Start with Puzzle No. 6 Printed Above

NOTICE: For the benefit of those who have not yet started, the first 5 puzzles which appeared this week in the Chicago Daily Tribune will be re-printed in TOMORROW'S CHICAGO SUNDAY TRIBUNE.

HAVE YOU started to solve the new, interesting Washington Crossword Puzzles? If you haven't—start with Puzzle No. 6 shown above. Then get the first five puzzles which will be re-printed in tomorrow's Chicago Sunday Tribune.

$5,000.00 in cash prizes will be paid for best answers.

The Chicago Tribune makes this offer to commemorate the 200th birthday of George Washington which occurs this year. This offer is open to every man, woman, boy and girl. It's easy, patriotic, educational, entertaining.

Solve the puzzle. The words come out automatically. You do not have to know the history of Washington to win. The prizes will be paid for the most nearly correct answers.

A new puzzle will appear in the Chicago Daily Tribune every day. An historic event from Washington's life is named in each puzzle. Solve the puzzle and name the event. Note the clue picture. It will help you.

Start with Puzzle No. 6 shown above. Then get tomorrow's Chicago Sunday Tribune and solve the five puzzles which will be re-printed there from this week's Chicago Daily Tribune.

Try for this big prize money. It costs nothing! It's easy! Order your Chicago Sunday Tribune from your newsdealer today.

Chicago Sunday Tribune

THE WORLD'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER

If you wish the Tribune delivered regularly telephone

APPLETON NEWS AGENCY

Wholesale Distributor Chicago Tribune

409 No. Superior St. Phone 4684

© 1932, Chicago Tribune

the Spanish Casa

Announces a complete re-organization of our staff and program. We are striving for the good will of the community with finer foods and better service. We invite you to dine with us.

Sunday Dinner 75c

Prices Greatly Reduced

People of the Fox River Valley

Dr. Harold J. Perschbacher
N.D., D.C., Ph.C.

Dr. Lillian M. Perschbacher
N.D., D.C., Ph.C.

of Newark, N. J.

will be at the
HOTEL CONWAY
Appleton, Wis.
MONDAY, JAN. 18

At the VALLEY INN, NEENAH, WIS., TUESDAY, JAN. 19
HOURS: A. M. 10-12 P. M. 2-5, 7-9 other hours by appointment

The People of Today are Turning to Nature Cure. Our Methods Include the Old Reliable Treatments of the German Natur Doctors.

Naturopathic Tonic Treatment	Physical Culture
Naturopathic Foot Culture	Physiotherapy
Hydrotherapy, Kneipp Water Cure	Dietetics
Phytotherapy, Natural Herbs	Fast Cure
Mechano-therapy, Massage	Grape Cure
Electrotherapy	Chiropractic
Setting Dislocations without Anesthesia	Colonic Irrigation
Iridiagnosis, the most exact diagnostic method

Complete Physical Diagnosis including first treatment. $5.00
Following treatments $3.00. Home calls $5.00. Iridiagnosis $25.00

PERSCHBACHER HEALTH BUILDING INSTITUTE

Mrs. Bauer Retained As Club Leader

MRS. LYDIA BAUER was re-elected president of the Sunshine club at the meeting Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Walter Blake, 403 E. South River. Mrs. Lillian Trentlage was again named secretary. Mrs. Adora Hauert was elected to succeed Mrs. Elizabeth Hoffman as vice president, and Mrs. Ernestine Sonntag was chosen as treasurer in place of Mrs. Clara Miller.

The members voted to make two letters for babies. Cards were played after the business meeting and prizes were won at bridge by Mrs. Emma Aures and Mrs. Stella Sharp, at schafkopf by Mrs. Anna Hanchett and Mrs. Lydia Bauer, and at dice by Mrs. Anna Joslyn and Mrs. Ella Cavert. Ten tables were in play.

The next meeting will be Jan. 29 at the home of Mrs. Harry Ames, 519 W. Eighth-st.

A sketch portraying the founding of P. E. O. Sisterhood was presented at the meeting of Chapter B Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. O. Gochbauer, 805 E. College-ave. The sketch was in commemoration of Founder's Day and was under the direction of Mrs. Stephen C. Rosebush.

Mrs. A. E. Rector reviewed "Making Bolsheviki" by Samuel N. Harper. Thirty members were present. The next meeting will be Feb. 5 at the home of Mrs. F. G. Wheeler, 810 E. College-ave. Mrs. E. L. Bolton will have charge of the program on "These Russians" by William C. White, and tea will be served. Miss Estelle Dunning will be chairman of the tea committee.

Mrs. H. J. Ingold was hostess to Over the Teacups club Friday afternoon at her home. Mrs. F. S. Bradford was the reader, Mrs. J. H. Marston gave the magazine article, and Mrs. Smith McAndrew presented current events. The club will be entertained at a luncheon next Friday at the home of Mrs. Herman F. Hackert, 208 N. Union-st. Mrs. H. D. Purdy will have charge of the program.

Miss Katherine Van Handel, 703 S. Walnut-st., entertained her bridge club Thursday night at her home. Miss Margaret Pfeiffer and Miss Estelle M. White were the prize winners. The next meeting will be in two weeks with Miss Henrietta Schultz, Atlantic-st.

"Adena Ferber's" newest novel, "Emilia Beauty," was reviewed by Miss Anna Tarr, librarian at Lawrence college, at the meeting of Appleton Girls' club Friday night at the Woman's club. About 30 members attended. The winners were Mrs. Emily Kiffin, Miss Marie Ziegenhagen and Miss Emma Fynn.

Miss Dorothy Krause, 513 E. Circle-st., entertained the Mystic Circle club Wednesday night at her home. Cards were played and prizes won by Miss Beatrice Meyer and Clarence Noffke. The latter will entertain the club next Wednesday at his home on S. Weimar-st.

The Fireside bridge club met Friday night at the home of Miss Mildred Alfert, 1105 N. Oneida-st. Prizes were won by Miss Margaret Sullivan and Miss Mildred Uttenbrock. The next meeting will be in three weeks at the home of Miss Helen Witte, Lorraine-st.

Mrs. Nita Brinkley, E. College-ave., will be hostess to the Fiction club at 2:30 Monday afternoon at her home. Mrs. George Nixon will have charge of the program which will be a book review of "Strenuous Americans" by Dibble.

Mrs. Frank Wilson, N. Appleton-st., entertained her bridge club Friday afternoon at her home. Prizes were won by Mrs. Lee Barlament and Mrs. Eugene Fierke. The club will meet in two weeks with Mrs. Cyrus Daniel, E. Alton-st.

The Monday club will observe guest day at its meeting at 2:30 Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. O. P. Schlafer, 422 E. Washington-st. Mrs. C. O. Davis will have charge of the program.

The Clio club will meet at 7:30 Monday night at the home of Mrs. Kate Gochbauer, E. College-ave. Miss Ada Myers will give a book review.

Mrs. Judson G. Rosebush, 117 N. Park-ave., will entertain the Tourist club at 3:30 Monday afternoon at her home. The hostess will have charge of the program.

THREE COLLEGE GROUPS TO HOLD FORMAL PARTIES

Three formal dancing parties will be held by Lawrence college social organizations this evening.

The Lawrence college chapter of Delta Gamma, national social sorority, will entertain 60 couples at a formal dinner dance at the North Shore Country club. A number of alumnae guests are expected to attend. Prof. and Mrs. F. W. Trezise, Howard Troyer, and Miss Ruth McGurk will chaperone.

Approximately 50 couples are expected to attend the formal dance to be given by the Lawrence college chapter of Sigma Xi. Epistolae at Knights of Pythias hall. The hall will be decorated with a false ceiling of crepe paper. Prof. and Mrs. F. T. Cloak, and Prof. and Mrs. Warren Beck will chaperone. Mr. and Mrs. Percy Clapp will be guests. A number of alumni are expected to return for the event.

Beta Phi Alpha, national social sorority at Lawrence college, will hold its winter formal at Valley Inn, Newton, about 40 couples are expected to attend. While balloons and show effects will provide the decoration scheme, chaperones will be Mr. and Mrs. Olin Mead and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. McGonigle.

Calm in Prison

Mrs. Kasturbia Gandhi, 61-year-old wife of Mahatma Gandhi, showed amazing serenity when she was imprisoned with two other prominent Indian women leaders. She was arrested within a week after her husband entered jail at Yerovada in the British government's first move against renewal of his civil disobedience campaign.

Choir Is Organized At Church

THE choir of First English Lutheran church was organized at a meeting Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Foor, E. North-st. Rudolph Gauerke was elected president; Clarence Richter, vice president; Miss Mildred Albrecht, secretary; Miss Irene Gramse, treasurer; and Martin Gauerke, librarian. Thirty-two members were present.

It was decided to present an Easter cantata. The choir will meet for rehearsal every Friday night, and in addition will have one business and one social meeting each month. The next rehearsal will be next Friday night at the home of Miss Florence Rogate, N. Laye-st.

About 15 visiting clergymen will attend the annual banquet of Holy Name society of St. Joseph church at 6 o'clock Sunday night at the parish hall. All breakfast speakers for the past year, as well as those members of the Young Ladies' sodality who served at the breakfasts will be guests of the society.

The Rev. George M. Link, Springfield, Ill., will be the principal speaker, and other talks will be given by Gustave Keller, Sr., and Leo Rechner. A quartet will sing, and community singing will be led by Henry Tillman.

Carl Wettengel will give a talk on Spanish customs at the Spanish meeting and supper of the Young People's society of All Saints Episcopal church at 6:30 Sunday night at the parish hall. The girls will entertain the boys at the supper, after which an orchestra, composed of members of the organization, will present its initial performance. Miss Marguerite Schmitt and Miss Helen Sofia will be in charge.

Mrs. Sedella Cargill, Minneapolis, Minn., will give a talk on "Women of the Old Testament" at the 1 o'clock luncheon to be given Tuesday by the Women's Auxiliary of All Saints Episcopal church at the parish hall. All women of the church are invited to attend. Reservations may be made with Mrs. L. H. Moore.

Miss Betty Wright, Green Bay, a Christian Endeavor worker in this district, gave a talk on a Program for World Peace at the meeting of Christian Endeavor society of Emmanuel Evangelical church Friday night at the church. Miss Ruth Luebke was the leader, and 65 members were present. A social hour and games followed the meeting.

Baptist and Methodist young people will hold a joint service at the Methodist church Sunday evening. The Baptists will lead the devotional period, and the members of the Methodist Epworth league will be in charge of the social hour.

Donald Field will lead the meeting of the Fireside Fellowship group.

The executive committee of the Senior Luther League of First English Lutheran church met Thursday night at the home of Miss Mildred Albrecht, 1105 N. Superior-st. Plans were outlined for the year's work, and standing committees appointed.

The crew of the San Cristobal of the Methodist Social Union met Thursday afternoon at the home of

Teach Child Moderation In All Things

BY ANGELO PATRI
Teach temperance. The fine art of living lies in doing nothing too much. If we can teach children moderation in all things we can be sure of the effect of our teaching than we might be if we depended upon prohibition. Temperance teaches self control and that is the only sort of control that you can count on. Children are very much like their elders in that they are fired with a desire to do the forbidden thing.

Teach temperance in all things. Words for instance. We are often tempted beyond our strength to indulge in many words. A child does something we don't like and we talk about it all day. A neighbor does something out of the ordinary and so we spend measureless energy in words trying to express sufficient indignation against the offender and praise for our own good deeds. What we do the children are sure to do and they too will be wasteful of words. It is not necessary to be too sparing of words, but we can indulge a little in the beauty of temperate speech.

Children are inclined to exaggerate. The bigger the story the more excitement it is going to cause in the audience so they pile it on. "Teacher was crazy mad this morning 'cause Kit was late." All the teacher said was, "It seems to me Kit, that you might get up a little earlier." "Yeh, his father gave him an awful kicking for it." Father had made a pass at son with his folded newspaper and ordered him to get into the house and get ready for his dinner. "A man hollered at me and chased me right into the school door, he did. He had a big knife in his hand and he was going to kidnap me, he was." The delivery man shouted at his horse as our small friend passed and that was all there was to that.

When children tell big stories, using superlatives without mercy, think temperance, talk temperance, behave temperately. You will be glad you did by and by and the child will quiet down and learn to tell things as they are. He will do better. He will learn to see things as they are.

This world is a lovely place made for our delight. If we use the gifts that are freely given us in reckless, unthinking unappreciative ways we suffer. Candy is good in moderation. Teach children to use it that way. Pretty clothes are fine, in moderation. Teach girls that dressing according to the occasion indicates good taste. Temperate use of material, line and color, evening dress for office wear, party clothes for church, disproportionate amounts spent on dress is wasteful and ends in disappointment. Many a fine young man has been discouraged out of the picture because the girl he likes was intemperate in the matter of dress.

Food is good. It does more than nourish the body. It gives pleasure and lends meaning to social gatherings but if taken in excess it leads to the hospital and the drug store and the weekly visit to the doctor's office. Intemperate eating causes more trouble than starvation in this country. That extra helping is our undoing.

Teach children these things. Christmas comes once a year. If we took that simple idea to heart, what a lot of trouble it would save us and the children. Enough no more, is temperance. There is great beauty and great blessing in it if we can master its ways. Children need it to put quality and power into their personalities. Teach it by practice and precept.

(Copyright, 1932, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, inclosing stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

Mrs. Mell Buxton, 600 N. Clark-st. Plans for the year's work were discussed.

It is rumored that "Forbidden" with Barbara Stanwyck starting tonight at Warner's Appleton Theatre is taken from the novel "The President's Daughter".

Women's $2.98 Arch Support Dress Slippers $1.49 Monday only at the R. & S. SHOE STORE

HOTEL KAUKAUNA

Sunday, Jan. 17

Now 75c CHICKEN and STEAK DINNERS with all the Fixings Quality and Service as Always — the Best

PARTIES

Mrs. C. A. Hoptensperger entertained the Birthday bridge club at her new home on River-dr Friday in honor of Mrs. L. Holman, who is leaving for Sulfur, Texas, Monday to spend the winter. Twelve guests were present and prizes were awarded in cards to Mrs. F. H. Bozier, Mrs. L. Holman and Mrs. C. Lopez. A 5 o'clock dinner was served.

Miss Ella Rabe entertained at bridge Thursday night at 224 W. Prospect-ave. Miss Ida Henkel won the prize. Those present were Miss Henkel, Miss Pearl Rabe, Miss Laura Kotke, and Miss Ella Rabe.

Twenty tables were in play at the card party given by Christian Mothers' society of St. Mary church Friday afternoon at Columbia hall. Prizes at schafkopf were won by John Krebsbach and Henry Quella, and at bridge by Mrs. Joseph Cox and Mrs. Henry Reuter.

Mr. and Mrs. John Duval, 414 E. Summer-st., entertained three tables of bridge Friday night at their home. Prizes were awarded to John Fish, Menasha, and Mrs. Harlow Wickert.

MAKE PLANS FOR CONVENTION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

Plans for the state convention of Business and Professional Women's clubs to be held in Appleton this year were made at a dinner meeting of the executive board Friday night at Conway hotel. Badges for the convention and entertainment for the Friday night function were discussed. It was decided that the banquet will be served at the Methodist church, and the Friday night dinner and the luncheon will be served at Conway hotel.

A questionnaire on savings and banking which was sent to the club recently was discussed, and Mrs. Mabel Shannon gave a report on the social work being done and the amount spent up to date. The budget includes $10 for relief work, but individual members will make donations during the year. These donations will be taken care of by envelopes which will be placed at each plate at the dinner next Tuesday night. The club will continue to care for two families during the winter months.

The duties of each chairman for the convention will be outlined at next Tuesday's meeting. Every member of the club is on a committee.

WILL COMPILE DIRECTORY OF RELIEF GROUPS

A directory of Appleton agencies participating in relief and welfare work will be compiled by a committee which met Friday afternoon at the Appleton Woman's club. Mrs. L. C. Sleeper is chairman of the group, assisted by Mrs. T. E. Orison, Mrs. E. Gochbauer, Charles Huseman and Mrs. R. N. Clapp. The directory is an outcome of the social welfare class organized several weeks ago for study by members of the Civic council and volunteer welfare workers in the city.

Chicken Lunch tonite. New Derby, W. Wis. Ave.

Card Party and Lunch at Eagles Hall, Mon. nite.

Officers Of Lodge Are Given Seats

INSTALLATION of officers of Little Chute took place at a meeting Thursday night at Little Chute. Mrs. Cornelius Langendyke, was the installing officer, and those who were seated were Mrs. John Hoebe, orator; Mrs. Theodore Neinhause, vice orator; Mrs. Ed Jansen, past orator; Mrs. Nick Schommer, chancellor; Mrs. Louis Mannebach, recorder; Mrs. Joseph Heitpas, receiver; Mrs. J. J. Doyle, marshal; Mrs. Martin Lamers, assistant marshal; Mrs. John Miron, inner sentinel; Mrs. Henry Gloudeans, outer sentinel.

Cards were played after the business meeting and a lunch was served.

Forty-two members and guests attended the joint social meeting of the Auxiliary to Spanish War Veterans and the camp Friday night at the armory. Cards and dice were played and a lunch was served. Schafkopf awards went to W. A. Ross and A. O. Hecht, and prizes at dice were won by Mrs. Augusta Giese and Miss Hattie Hecht. The committee in charge included Mrs. Anna Munchow, Mrs. Lillian Peterson, Mrs. Meta Petran, and Mrs. Mae Mueller.

New officers of Modern Woodmen of America were installed at an open meeting Friday night at Odd Fellow hall for members and their families. Those installed were R. C.

WOMAN HAS COPY OF IRISH PAPER THAT IS 127 YEARS OLD

BY W. F. WINSEY
Shoetown—Odd but interesting advertisements and reports of speeches of members of parliament are contained in a copy of the Cork Merchants Chronicle, dated June 4, 1805, that descended from her great grandmother to Mrs. George Speaker of this village.

Mrs. Fay, Mrs. Speaker's great grandmother, brought the paper from the north of Ireland, her early home, to Boston, where she settled with her husband.

In time the paper came into the possession of the daughter of Mrs. Fay, Mrs. P. C. Waldron, the latter the mother of Mrs. George Speaker.

The Waldrons emigrated from Boston to the town of Chase, Ontario, bringing the paper with them and settling on a farm. Mrs. B. C. Waldron was born at Bainsford, Canada.

Beach, consul; L. W. Mead, advisor; J. A. Merkle, clerk; W. A. Bruce, banker; J. Lenz, escort; F. Tilly, watchman; E. Rusch, sentry; and L. F. Schwahn.

Cards were played and refreshments were served. Miss Selma Merkle won the bridge prize, Harold Radtke won the prize at schafkopf and Mrs. William Bruce was awarded the dice prize.

It was decided that every third Friday of the month will be ladies' night, the wives of members to be guests.

Roasted Rolled Loin Of Mutton Is Delicious

Grapefruit and Orange Cup
Oxtail Soup
Roasted Rolled Loin of Mutton
Green Peas Mashed Turnips
Hearts of Lettuce, Russian Dressing
Custard Pudding
Coffee

Roasted Rolled Loin of Mutton
Take a lion of mutton weighing about three pounds, remove all the bones, take out the fillet and mince it very fine. Add to the mince an equal quantity of bread crumbs, one minced shallot, a little chopped parsley, salt and pepper to taste and sufficient egg to make it into a stiff paste.

Put this on the mutton, tie it over tightly with a string, rub it well with flour, sprinkle some salt and pepper over it and place it in a slow oven to roast. Put a few onions into a frying pan with the bones, fry them until they are brown, pour in a little stock and thicken with flour. Place the meat when done on a dish, pour the gravy round, and serve with a garnish of glazed onions.

Custard Pudding
Put into a thin pudding-mould one tablespoonful of granulated sugar, and move it about on the stove until it begins to brown. When the mold is completely lined with the sugar, pour in one pint of milk boiled with the peel of half a lemon, and four eggs beaten in with it, and sweeten to taste. Put the mould in a saucepan with hot water to half its height, let the water simmer gently for half an hour, turn the pudding into a mould, and serve hot.

It is rumored that "Forbidden" with Barbara Stanwyck starting tonight at Warner's Appleton Theatre is taken from the novel "The President's Daughter".

Free Perch Fry tonite at Stark's Hotel.

TEETH and Your Health

This is the fourteenth of a series of articles published by the Outagamie Dental Society. Readers are invited to send in their questions. They will be answered by qualified experts of the Dental Society.

Unhealthy teeth and gums often cause disease and do affect other parts of the body.

Disease may be transmitted to other parts of the body, either by swallowing infectious material, or this infectious material may be absorbed by the blood and carried to other parts of the body where it may cause symptoms of disease at a point quite distant from the source of infection.

An abscess containing pus may exist in or around the teeth for a long time. The blood circulating thru the body will carry some of this poison away and if any part of the body has a lowered resistance, the disease producing germs settle at this point and cause disease.

A person may be unaware of a chronic abscess at the root of the tooth, or of pyorrheal pus pockets, for they may be painless and sometimes cause no discomfort.

As long as the body tissues and blood are healthy, they can fight and kill the poison that might get into the system; but the poison that continues to be carried thru the blood from these chronic diseases of the mouth soon weakens the protective power of the blood and it cannot successfully fight the disease producing germs.

Physicians have reported many cases of various kinds of disease that have been cured or improved by the removal of abscessed teeth, or by the treatment of infection around the teeth or elsewhere in the mouth.

One must be careful not to sacrifice teeth if there is possibility of their being cured. They should be X-rayed and carefully examined before they are extracted.

As a matter of routine, the teeth should be X-rayed at least once a year, especially where pulpless teeth are present. The individual should also be very careful to brush the teeth regularly. By following this routine, you may prevent serious mouth infection.

The U. S. Government says about milk: "If you live in the city, buy it pasteurized from a clean dairy."

Rosy Cheeks
an Attractive Figure from Good MILK

Appleton Pure Ice Cream SPECIAL
Mocha Nut Frappe
Solid brick — something distinctly new, made with fresh percolated coffee and toasted Brazilian Walnuts in Vanilla Ice Cream.
At your dealer or phone us

You can build an attractive figure and a natural rosy cheek complexion by using plenty of Appleton Pure Pasteurized Whole Milk. That's why doctors and school authorities stress the importance of a generous quantity of milk in the daily diet. Let us start serving you tomorrow.

Appleton Pure Milk Co.
MILK PLANT — 720 W. Washington St. Phone 394
ICE CREAM PLANT — 203 S. Victoria St. Phone 384

You'd Be Surprised!

Johnson Says:—

We can REBUILD your shoes for the same price that you pay for ordinary repairing. When you are having your shoes fixed why not have the best — it costs no more. Our modern factory equipment, our knowledge of Shoe Rebuilding and our large volume of business enables us to do your Shoe REBUILDING quickly, thoroughly, and moderately. Investigate this super-shoe rebuilding service today.

Take advantage of Johnson's Free Calling and Delivering Service. This service helps you to get the kind of SHOE REBUILDING that only JOHNSON gives.

The Greater JOHNSON'S SHOE REBUILDERS
123 E. COLLEGE AVE. PHONE 4310

The Story of Sue by MARGERY HALE © 1929 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE night before we saw Sally Bradley waiting for someone at our hotel. I think she was doing the same thing last night," Sue told Harry as Jack sat, trying to think. "I'm going on a hunch that hasn't any standing room, I suppose, but I would like to know why Sally looked so startled when she saw Ruth and that man named Pritchard with us last night. She pretended she didn't know him. Couldn't place him at all. But he knew exactly how she wears her hair. I think she was going to meet him. Is his business with your firm important, Jack?"

"Not particularly. He represents and out-of-town firm. I don't think he or the firm are setting the world on fire or anything of the sort. But he fell to my lot. His business might have been a disguise to cover up something else. Or he might have taken the opportunity since he was coming anyway to get in a little side work. I have an idea."

"What is it?" Sue leaned toward him eagerly.

"I hate like the devil to give the police any of this stuff we know. If the fellow's innocent it would be a shame to rope him in on such a nasty deal. Suppose we find out from Sally exactly where she was. We might drop in on her."

Sue nodded. Harry offered to drive them.

Jack seemed to reconsider. "No, we had better work through the police. We can leave Pritchard out of it. After all, we don't know that he was the man at all. Let's drive over to the station."

The police department received the information eagerly. Sally was called and requested to remain at home until she was interviewed. The officer who called her came back from the telephone smiling grimly.

"She doesn't want to be interviewed at home," Sally said she would come down here."

"Yours for bigger and better robberies. The part's increasing," Harry said. "I wonder what the lady will say."

Sally was a little frightened. Ruth was with her. She looked younger than her sister now. She seemed to have a new fearlessness, a kind of light-hearted gaiety that she hadn't had before.

"With whom would you leave the party last night?" a federal agent asked Sally.

"Why does that matter?" she asked.

"Just because whoever it was seems to have appropriated Mr. Thornton's car."

"Oh, no, he didn't. He had one of his own parked right there and we went in it. I can prove that. So can he."

"You've got with him all of the time that you were gone?" Jack asked.

"Not quite all of it. He dropped me off downtown at the hotel for about half an hour. He had to see someone. It was important. Then he got me again. We took a ride and I was home early."

"You believed him when he said he had to meet someone?" the officer asked.

"Of course. But why are you asking me so many questions? Just because a car was stolen and returned doesn't mean that I'm guilty, does it?"

"I'm sorry, Miss Bradley," the federal official in charge said. "You aren't gaining anything by holding out on the name of the man. If he's innocent he won't mind being mentioned. And if he isn't, we are going to know it sooner or later anyway. Will you tell us who he is?"

NEXT: Sally questioned.

3367

BY ANNEBELLE WORTHINGTON

A new tea-time or lounging pajama ensemble that is really devastating enough for the most exacting taste.

It has a quaint charm all its own. Its slimming diagonal lines are so kind to the figure.

Carried out in three blending shades of blue crepe silk, as its inspirator, it creates a softened ombre effect, that is delightfully lovely.

And note the youthfulness of the brief jacket with its tiny puffed sleeves.

Style No. 3367 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20 years, 36, 38 and 40 inches bust. Size 16 requires 5 yards of 29-inch dark material with 1 yard of 35-inch contrasting and 1 yard of 35-inch plain material.

It is exquisite in black transparent velvet with the upper part of the bodice of gold lame with the jacket of orange-red velvet.

Don't envy the woman who dresses well and keeps her children well-dressed. Just send for your copy of our Winter Fashion Magazine.

It shows the best styles of the coming season; also charming gift suggestions in lingerie, pajamas and modern embroidery for the home.

You will save $10 by spending 10 cents for this book. So it would pay you to send for your copy now. Address Fashion Department.

Be sure to fill in the size of the pattern. Send stamps or coin (coin preferred).

Price of book 10 cents. Price of pattern 15 cents.

Order Blank for Margot Pattern. MARGOT, Care Appleton Post-Crescent, Appleton, Wisconsin. Inclosed find 15c. Please send me the patterns listed below: Pattern No. Size Price

Name

Street

City

State

very punished for what they've done to make life miserable for you. Let me hear from you again.

Takes Two To Quarrel

M. L.: One doesn't gather whether the quarrels are of your making or not. Certainly the boy friend can't start all the trouble by himself. And if you do there is no reason why you shouldn't forgive him, just as quickly as he forgives you. Don't make too much of an issue of it, unless definitely the wrong is always on his side and you can honestly feel that you're being over-generous. I don't believe this is really true. At the same time I don't think you ought to show yourself so devoted that you give up everyone else for him, although there has been no mention of an engagement ring. Better wait till matrimony is discussed before insisting on sticking to him so devotedly.

MARIE S.: In any case the expression is simply a form. Most people start it best to say merely: "This has been so nice," meaning vaguely that the evening has been pleasant. It's not necessary to assure people that you're pleased to have met them. If you can't think of anything else to say just say "Good-bye," looking heartily at while. But don't take it seriously. Nothing you say is anything more than a polite expression of pleasure. You don't have to be honest in matters of this sort.

Copyright, 1932, by The Associated Newspapers

MY NEIGHBOR Says —

Leftover cooked carrots, mixed with celery or cabbage and blended with salad dressing makes a good salad to serve with steaks or chops.

When ironing linens cover a piece of beeswax with flannel and rub it over the surface of the iron. Linens, ironed in this manner will have a fine gloss.

(Copyright, 1932, by the Associated Newspapers.)

FACIAL MASKS FINE FOR WOMEN IN BUSINESS

BY ALICIA HART

If you are a tired business woman, learn the value there is to be had from a nice, rejuvenating face mask. You won't have time nor the inclination to concoct your own, the way women with more time do. Look at the different types of face masks and choose the one that suits you. A few mud packs at some high grade beauty salon and just see what they do for you.

There is a rather expensive strawberry concoction on the market which is pretty and pleasant to use as well as an effective face mask. You put it on, after cleansing your face thoroughly, and leave it on while bathing and resting, and then wash it off, cream your face, and there you are, looking smooth and glowing and quite a bit younger than when you first dipped into the strawberry cream.

There are many different types of facial masks and clays. The texture of your skin determines which ones are good for you and which aren't. But with any of them you should give your face a good creaming before using and when you apply them, use an upward stroke. In addition, you must leave them on as long as directions specify or how can you expect them really to help you? Just rest your soul in peace, close your eyes, relax and see if you can't catch a little catnap while the clay does its bit for you.

If you have never used any type of face mask, it is a wise move to spend money and have one given you by a specialist. Or, if you prefer to put that money into buying a whole jar of prepared mask of some type apply according to directions and remember three things:

1. Cleanse your face and neck before applying and dry thoroughly.
2. Follow directions absolutely, and do not use too often.
3. Use facial oil afterwards, if your skin is dry, and use a good vanishing cream, anyhow.

(Copyright, 1932, NEA Service, Inc.)

Church Notes

LUTHERAN

EV. LUTHERAN ZION CHURCH, Corner N. Oneida and E. Winnebago-sts. Rev. Theodore Math. Second and last Sunday after Epiphany. "O, Worship the Lord in the Beauty of Holiness" far before him, all the earth." Regular full liturgical English service at 9 with sermon by the pastor. Adult confirmation class will be confirmed. In the "Auditorium of Zion Parish School," instruction for the young at 10. Regular German service at 10:35.

ST. PAUL'S EV. LUTHERAN (Wisconsin Synod), corner N. Morrison and E. Franklin-sts. T. J. Sauer, pastor; P. M. Brandt, assistant pastor. Second Sunday after Epiphany. English service at 9. German service at 10:15. Sermon topic: "Bringing to Jesus," based on John 1, 35-42. Sunday school meets at 10 in the school auditorium. Congregation meeting at 2 p. m. in the church basement. Senior Y. P. S. Tuesday evening church choir Thursday 8 p. m.

MT. OLIVE EV. LUTHERAN CHURCH, (Wisconsin Synod) The Bible Church. N. Oneida at W. Franklin. R. E. Ziesemer, pastor. Bible school at 8:50. Divine service at 10:15. Sermon theme: "The Christian and Worldliness." St. Matthew 18, 10-22. Congregational meeting at 2 o'clock. Lawrence Lutheran Students meet at 5 o'clock.

ST. MATTHEW EV. LUTHERAN CHURCH, Mason and Lawrence, West Side, Ph. Froehle, pastor. German service at 8:45 a. m., English at 10:10. Sunday school at 10:10. Bible class Tuesday at 7:30. Senior's business meeting after Bible class.

FIRST ENGLISH LUTHERAN CHURCH, temporary worship place, Castle hall on East Lawrence-st., F. C. Reuter, pastor. Sunday school and adult Bible class at 9 o'clock. Children's service at 9:30. Regular meeting of the Brotherhood Tuesday evening at 7:30 with Alfred Gauerke, 1931 N. Oneida-st. Women's Missionary society Thursday afternoon at 2:15.

TRINITY ENGLISH LUTHERAN Church, Northwest Synod of the U. S. L. C. A. corner of E. Kimball and S. Allen-sts. D. L. Bossgman, pastor. Sunday school at 9, and Bible class at 9:30. Worship service at 10:30. Sunday school teachers Monday evening at the church. Luther League devotional meeting Tuesday evening at the church. Choirs Thursday evening: Bible study hour Friday at 7:30; catechetical classes Saturday evening. Light Brigade Saturday afternoon.

EVANGELICAL

ST. JOHN EVANGELICAL CHURCH (Evangelical Synod of N. A.) Intersection of Bennett and West College-ave. W. H. Wetzel, pastor. Second Sunday after Epiphany. Sunday school at 9 o'clock. Service worship (English) at 10:15 a. m. Sermon by pastor. Subject: "Follow Me." Text: John 14:51. Installation of the newly elected officers of the Brotherhood. Y. P. S. meets Monday evening at 7:45. Choir rehearsal Friday evening at 7:00.

EMMANUEL EV. CHURCH, cor. Franklin and Durkeests. G. H. Blum, 310 E. Harris-st, pastor. Sunday school, 10 o'clock. Morning worship, 11. Sermon theme: "The Neglected Garden." Evening service, 7:30, sermon theme, "The High Cost of Liberty." Thursday prayer and Bible study. We will take for our Bible study subject: "The Idea of God." Thursday choir practice, 8. Saturday catechism class, 9:30.

FULL GOSPEL TABERNACLE PENTECOSTAL EVANGELICAL Church, 415 W. Harris-st. Sunday services: Sunday school 9:30. Morning worship 10:15. Subject: "Effects of Grace." Evening service 7:45; subject: "A Four-square City for a Four-square People" (the New Jerusalem). Mid-week ser-

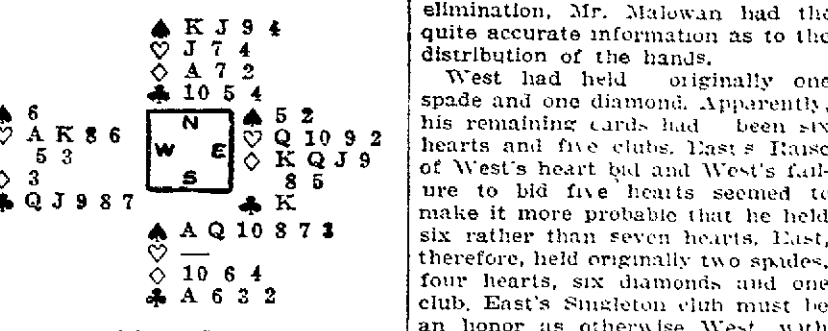

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT by Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

INACCURATE POST-MORTEMS

Post-mortems at the Bridge table are usually inaccurate because they fail to take into account anything but the most obvious play. Most players in their post hand analysis concede tricks to Aces and Kings, failing to remember that accurate play and accurate counting of the distribution of suits may nullify the value of otherwise taking honors.

The hand below, in which the South cards were held by Mr. Walter Malowan, shows how an accurate count of the cards held by his opponents enabled him to make what appeared to be an impossible contract. North and South not vulnerable. East and West vulnerable.

The Bidding: (Figures after bids in table refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)

South West North East
1♠ 2♥ (1) 3♥ (2)
4♠ (3) Pass (4) Pass (5)

- 1—This Raise is not justified on the basis of playing-tricks. It is, however, sound from the defensive standpoint.
- 2—A sound Raise based both on honor holdings and playing-tricks.
- 3—South's four spade bid is optimistic in view of his partner's single Raise which may be the showing of only slight support for the bid in view of the scoring situation.
- 4—West, vulnerable, declines to risk a bid of five hearts. Actually this contract would have been penalized only 1 trick.

West elected to open his singleton diamond. This lead was not particularly desirable one, but was based on the hope that his partner might hold the Ace of diamonds and permit him to utilize his lone trump in ruff.

South correctly read the lead for a singleton and thus had the first bit of information as to suit distribution. Apparently, the combined hands contained 4 losing tricks—2 in diamonds and 2 in clubs. In order, if possible, to reduce the losers to 3 and thus make his contract, South won the diamond trick with the Ace and led a heart from Dummy.

Elimination of the hearts from the Dummy Hand was an essential part of his campaign. A spade was led, taken in the Dummy and another heart ruffed in the closed hand. Dummy's last heart was led and through this process of suit elimination, Mr. Malowan had the accurate information as to the distribution of the hands.

West had held originally one spade and one diamond. Apparently, his remaining cards had been six hearts and five clubs. Last's Raise of West's heart bid and West's failure to bid five hearts seemed to make it more probable that he held six rather than seven hearts. East, therefore, held originally two spades, four hearts, six diamonds and one club. East's Singleton club must be an honor as otherwise West, with a K Q J of clubs in addition to his heart holding, would have continued the bidding. Mr. Malowan, therefore, led the deuce of clubs from his own hand and East won with his Singleton King. He now cashed 2 diamond tricks, but having done this, was through, as his next lead permitted South to discard a losing club in the Dummy which he trumped in the closed hand, thus making his contract.

TODAY'S POINTER

Question: What is a deep finesse? Answer: A deep finesse is a finesse against three or more outstanding higher cards. Example: A K 9 x.)

Copyright, 1932, by Ely Culbertson

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Mr. Culbertson will be glad to answer questions on bidding and play of hands sent in by readers. Address him in care of this newspaper. ENCLOSING A TWO-CENT STAMPED, SELF-ADDRESSED ENVELOPE.

EPISCOPAL

ALL SAINTS EPISCOPAL CHURCH College Ave. at Drew-st. Lyle Douglas Uts, rector. Communion at 8 o'clock in the chapel. Church School at 9:30. Morning Prayer and Sermon at 11 o'clock. Sermon by the rector, Y. P. E. at 6:30. Sunday evening, Girl Scouts will meet Tuesday afternoon. Women's Luncheon Tuesday at 1 o'clock. Mrs. Sedelia Cargill will speak on the "Women of the Old Testament." Boy Scouts, Thursday. Choir School, on Friday evening at 7 o'clock. Senior Choir at 7:30.

BAPTIST

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH, corner N. Appleton and W. Franklins-sts. Ernest Hasselblad, minister. Church school at 9:45. Morning worship service at 11:00. Sermon theme will be "Jesus' Object Lesson in Evangelism." The senior B. Y. P. U. will have a joint worship service with the young people of the Methodist church. The intermediate-junior B. Y. P. U. will meet at 6:30 p. m. Evening service at 7:30 with Rev. R. A. Garrison again preaching. Midweek service Thursday.

PRESBYTERIAN

MEMORIAL PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH College Avenue at Drew Street Ralph A. Garrison, Minister. Church School at 9:45 A. M. Morning church service at 11 o'clock. Sermon theme, "The Self-Springing Life." C. E. meeting Sunday evening. Miss Foreman's Circle will meet for a 1 o'clock luncheon with Mrs. O. C. Smith, 602 B. North Street, Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. D. M. Nelson's Circle will meet at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. W. E. Wright, 815 E. Pacific Street.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH Charles M. Kilpatrick, pastor. Sunday school, 9:30. Morning worship 10:30. Christian Endeavor meeting 6:30. Evening service, 7:30. Midweek service, Wednesday at 7:30.

METHODIST

THE FIRST METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH Corner Drew and Franklin Streets, Jas. Archibald Holmes, Minister. Sunday school—All departments—9:45. Morning Worship—11:00—Dr. Holmes will preach. Fireside Fellowship Hour: 5:30—Donald Field, leader. High School Epworth League—6:30—The

Speaking of the Weather

by CHARLES TALMAN of the U.S. Weather Bureau

How Far Upward Does the Air Extend? That's One Thing Science Still is Unable to Establish Definitely

Although nearly the whole surface of the globe, including both poles, has now been reached by explorers, there are still three terrestrial regions remaining to be explored. One of these is the interior of the globe, another the bottom of the ocean and a third the upper levels of the atmosphere.

The greatest distance any human being has yet been able to put between himself and his native planet is less than 10 miles and was less than eight miles before Professor Piccard made his remarkable ascent last May.

The atmosphere is, however, supposed to extend upward some thousands of miles—nobody knows just how far. Through the greater part of its vertical extent it contains very little matter.

Air, like all gases, is highly compressible. The lowest part of the atmosphere, pressed down from above, is relatively dense. With increased altitude the density falls off so rapidly that at a height of three or a half miles the air is only about half as dense as at sea level. Above about five miles it is too rare for breathing hence aerial travelers who go higher must carry a supply of oxygen with them. At the 50-mile level the atmosphere is, according to calculation, less than one 75-thousandth as dense as at sea level and at the 300-mile level, about one two-millionth as dense. This is a pretty good vacuum, though far better one produced nowadays in certain industrial operations than even an altitude of 2000 miles. A well-known English authority, Dr. J. H. Jeans, calculates that there are still something like 500,000 molecules of atmospheric gases per cubic centimeter—as compared with 30,000,000,000,000,000 in the same volume of air near the earth's surface.

Up to heights of 20 miles or so, the atmosphere has been explored by means of small balloons, carrying no human passenger, but a small set of self-registering instruments. At greater heights it is studied by observations of the aurora ("northern lights"), shooting stars and their trails, various optical phenomena, the transmission of radio signals, and in other ways.

Since the year 1902 it has been known that the atmosphere is divided into at least two layers, or shells, having different characteristics. At the bottom is a layer called the "troposphere." Literally, "turning sphere," in which the air has upward and downward movement associated changes of temperature associated therewith, and which enjoys a monopoly of storms, ordinary clouds, rain, snow and other manifestations that are generally classified as "weather." This layer has an average depth of between six and seven miles. Above it lies a region called the "stratosphere" ("spread-out sphere") where the winds move only horizontally, and therefore, as the

415 and 5 o'clock, Monday—Pastor's club meeting. 7:00, Wednesday. Church club rehearsal. 7:00, Friday. Junior High choir rehearsal. Women's associations meeting. 7:00, Friday. Mrs. E. M. Baker will entertain Circle No. 1 at one o'clock luncheon, Tuesday at the home of the former, 826 E. Altman. Circle No. 2, Mrs. Henderson, captain. Tuesday at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. L. S. Colvin, 803 E. Altman. Hostesses, Mrs. F. D. Colvin and Mrs. E. S. Colvin. Mrs. Peabody will review "Ludwig Beethoven."

272 Ave. Milwaukee PATENTS 272 Ave. Milwaukee YOUNG AND YOUNG

REFORMED

FIRST REFORMED CHURCH, corner Superior and Hancock-sts., E. P. Franz, pastor, 708 E. Hancock-st. Sunday school at 9 o'clock. German worship 9:30. English worship 10:15. Christian Endeavor meeting 6:30 p. m. Ladies Aid meeting Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Ida Engel, N. Morrison st. Annual meeting of congregation Sunday 2 o'clock. Sermon subject: Being brave in time of need. The brews 4:16.

CONGREGATIONAL

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL Church, H. E. Peabody, pastor, 915 Church school, 9:45 Men's club—Dr. Donyes will start a series of lectures on "Religious Development of Mankind." All men of the city of eligible age are invited to attend. 11:00 Morning worship service. Sermon by Dr. Peabody. 3:30, Young People's Fellowship meeting. Luncheon at 5:30 followed by a discussion "The Need of Christ in the Modern World" led by Jerome Watts. 7:00, Morning service—"Shamrock and the Rose." 7:00, Tuesday, Boy Scout meeting.

DANCE to — Curt Walters and his Kentuckians at the DARDANELLA DANCE HALL Sat., Jan. 16 Cor. 9th and Racine Sts. MENASHA, Highway 41 Adm. 50c. 25c, Ladies 10c Walter Smolinski, Prop.

WHO'S NEW IN CONGRESS

John J. Delaney

New York — (P)—John J. Delaney, Democratic pinch hitter of the seventh district, Brooklyn, again hoists the average of sartorial elegance in the house of representatives after a 12 year absence.

He belongs to the party's school of snappy dressers in New York. Even spats are not foreign to his ensemble.

Two of his immediate predecessors from the district died before filling a term. John F. Quayle died shortly after his election in 1920. Matthew V. O'Malley, his successor, died in May of last year.

Delaney is unmoved by superstition that his is a hard luck district. Anyway, the third time is a charm. Given the largest plurality for a congressional candidate in the name implies, occur in layers. This region extends to an unknown height.

In the troposphere the temperature of the air decreases rapidly with increase in height so that, for example, aeromats always encounter frigid weather a few miles above the earth. This fall in temperature goes on until, at the top of the troposphere, the thermometer reads 60 to 70 degrees below zero. Thereafter, in middle latitudes and much lower over the equatorial regions. In the stratosphere there is no such vertical change in temperature—at least as far up measurements have been made.

TOMORROW: How a tornado does its work.

Batteries Charged. Solar Battery Service. Harry Cotton, 1505 N. Richmond. Tel. 5333

See You at 12 Cors. Sun. For a Big Time.

The HEIL Combustion Oil Burner can be installed in any type of Heating System. SEE - - -

TSCHANK & CHRISTENSEN 317 W. College Ave. Phone 1748 or 4156 Heating Men in the Heating Business

Colwell's 7 Piece Hot Band, Valley Queen, Sun. Chicken Lunch, Sat. nite Joe Klein's, Kimberly.

SNIDER'S

"A Name Familiar To Those Who Appreciate Good Food"

TRY OUR SUNDAY DINNER

A Final Tribute

... such as ground burial can never provide

What could constitute a more fitting tribute — a more enduring memorial to those departed — than entombment in beautiful Riverside Memorial.

Here is supreme beauty, quiet Peace, Security — forever and ever. The very things that you have always wanted for your family.

RIVERSIDE MEMORIAL 1911 Odd Fellows Bldg. Gentlemen: Without obligation please call and inform us about Riverside Memorial

Coupon Name Address

WICHMANN Funeral Home

Cor. Franklin and Superior Sts. Phone 460R4

Big Chief THE WONDER COAL No Smoke — No Soot All Heat — Very Little Ash A Trial Load Will Convince You $9.50 PER TON CASH QUALITY AND SERVICE J. P. LAUX & SON 903 N. Union St. Phone 1690

MY NEIGHBOR Says — Leftover cooked carrots, mixed with celery or cabbage and blended with salad dressing makes a good salad to serve with steaks or chops.

When ironing linens cover a piece of beeswax with flannel and rub it over the surface of the iron. Linens, ironed in this manner will have a fine gloss.

(Copyright, 1932, by the Associated Newspapers.)

WE WOMEN

By Virginia Vane

WHEN TO TALK OF MARRIAGE — UNFAIR ATTITUDE OF FAMILY — WHO STARTS THE QUARRELS

Dear Miss Vane: Am twenty-three and have been going with a friend of almost thirty. I am very fond of him. He seems to be in love with me but never discusses marriage. How long should young people go together before discussing marriage—and who should broach the subject first. Also he has never invited me to meet his people and I should like to meet them very much. How can I suggest this? He goes with other girls but doesn't like it if I even mention another girl.

PEBBLE G. Z.

Young people should go together until they're both sure that they're seriously in love and want to marry. Just about that time, it usually occurs to the male of the species to mention the matter since even the dumbest specimen knows that is expected of him. If he hasn't the courage to ask the girl he loves to marry him, he'd never be much of an addition to your life anyway.

You can't make him invite you to meet his people if he doesn't want to. Once he's in a matrimonial frame of mind, it will be quite all right for you to suggest this move, but until then, don't try to rush him. And certainly don't allow yourself to be treated to his exclusive society. Keep your other boy friends. You may need them again one of these days.

VIOLET: It's a shame that your family should make life even more miserable for you in these hard times by sneering at you for your inability to earn money—but you'll just have to bear it, until the worst of the depression is over. When you're in work again and earning a decent salary, try to save up and make yourself more financially independent so that you needn't have to rely on this unsympathetic family circle when you're out of luck again. I hope things will change for you soon. If you possibly can ignore your delightful home group—do so by all means. They will only make your mental state more hopeless and prevent your getting a job when the time comes. They ought to be se-

MENASHA BEATS STURGEON BAY QUINT, 17 TO 5

Defensive Tactics Hold Visitors to Only One Field Goal During Game

Menasha—With a revamped lineup and an almost impregnable defense, the Menasha high school case squad swamped the Sturgeon Bay team, 17 to 5, and chalked up its first Northeastern Wisconsin league victory at Butte des Morts gymnasium here Friday evening.

Menasha's fast moving man to man defense held the invaders to a single field goal during the game, and scoreless during the third quarter. With Sindahl leading the attack from the pivot position, the revamped Blue lineup showed promising offensive power, an element woefully lacking in earlier games this season.

Tracing a number of combinations, Calder sent 15 members of the squad into the battle.

The game was the second conference contest for the Caldermen who were defeated by the Oconto Falls aggregation at Oconto Falls last week.

Menasha Scores First

Sindahl chalked up the first two points for Menasha with a field goal in the first few minutes of play. Rempel's foul gave Schmelzer the opportunity to score one point for the visitors and the quarter ended with the Blues leading two to one.

Offensive play on both sides showed little improvement during the remainder of the first half, but the Caldermen retained their lead by virtue of free tosses by Amus, Lerche and Sindhil.

Hempel tossed a long shot through the netting for the only Sturgeon Bay field goal of the entire game. The half ended with the visitors trailing, 4 to 3.

The third quarter was all Menasha. Holding the invaders scoreless during the entire period, the Blue offense finally began to click and eight points were added on field goals by Amus, Lerche, and two by Sindahl.

New Lineup Starts

An almost completely revamped lineup started the game for Menasha. Sindahl, higher scorer for the evening, started in the pivot position with Rempel and Ankam at forwards and Leopold and Lerche at guards. Massey and Captain Amus, two veterans of last year and outstanding defensive players, were sent into the game during both halves.

In a preliminary contest the high school team took a 12 to 7 victory over the Oconto Falls team. The second squad led, 7 to 5 at the close of the first half but was held scoreless during the third and fourth quarters.

Box score:	FG.	FT.	PF.
Menasha	1	0	0
Rempel, rf.	0	0	0
Ankam, lf.	0	0	0
Sindahl, c.	3	0	3
Leopold, rg.	0	0	0
Wideman, rf.	2	0	0
Novakofski, lf.	0	0	0
Amus, rf.	2	1	0
Robinson, c.	0	2	0
Massey, rg.	0	0	1
Lerche, lf.	1	0	1
Beachkofski, lg.	0	0	0
Snyder, rf.	0	0	0
Sensenbrenner, rf.	0	0	0
Funk, lf.	0	0	0
Grade, lg.	0	0	0

Sturgeon Bay	FG.	FT.	PF.
Hempel, rf.	1	0	0
Rose, lf.	0	0	2
F. Hansen, c.	0	1	3
Schmelzer, rg.	0	1	0
DeFaut, lf.	0	0	3
Griesen, rf.	0	0	0
Koehn, lf.	0	0	0
Anshutz, c.	0	0	0
D. Hansen, rg.	0	0	0
Nelson, lf.	0	0	0
O'Boyle, rf.	0	0	1
Paul, c.	0	0	0

Referee—Erdlitz, Oshkosh.

TWO FALSE ALARMS CALL OUT FIREMEN

Menasha—False alarms brought out the Menasha fire department early Friday evening and again about 7:30 Saturday morning.

Although the Woodmenway factory whistle blew about 7 o'clock Friday evening, investigation revealed that a faulty boiler flue and blown caps from the furnaces onto the boiler room floor and the alarm had merely been made by the fireman to summon aid from other factory employees.

The Saturday morning call which resulted in a trip to the city water and light plant was apparently caused by a short circuit or loose connection in the alarm system between the power house and the fire department quarters. Paul Thelmer, fire chief, reported.

MILL PROBLEMS ARE OUTLINED TO WORKERS

Menasha—Working to attain cooperative action in the elimination of waste and in the increase of general efficiency, officials of the Gilbert Paper company held a mass meeting Friday afternoon. More than 300 employees of the company were present.

A. C. Gilbert, president, outlined to employees the general problems of mill operation and the possibilities for eliminating unnecessary waste. The Gilbert company has made no reduction in its wage scale and with the cooperation of all employees, will attempt to eliminate the present waste according to the officials.

Menasha Pair Celebrates 50th Wedding Anniversary

Menasha—Mr. and Mrs. Gust Herman, Menasha pioneers, will celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary in their home at 230 Water-st. Sunday. The event will be observed quietly at the residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman were married Jan. 17, 1882, in the home of Mrs. Herman's mother, the late Mrs. Mary Ann Powers. Six out of seven children, Mrs. Cleve Baertsch of Milwaukee, Mrs. Stella Zisch, Mrs. Joseph Weisgerber, George, Del and Wilfred Herman, all of Menasha, are expected to help celebrate the anniversary here Sunday. Gust Herman's mother, Mrs. Loreta Hoehne, celebrated her ninety-fourth birthday anniversary here last Sunday.

Herman was born in Germany, but has lived in Menasha nearly all his life and for nearly 20 years has been the oldest bridge tender, Mrs. Herman was born near Menasha. Both Mr. and Mrs. Herman are active and in good health.

K. C. CAGERS IN 59 TO 12 VICTORY

Victory Over Sheboygan Puts Menasha Team in Tie for First Place

Menasha—Scoring almost at will, the Menasha Knights of Columbus basketball squad swept to a 59 to 12 victory over the Sheboygan entry at St. Mary gymnasium Friday evening and stepped into a tie for first place in league standings with Fond du Lac and Plymouth.

The Menasha squad is credited with three wins and one loss in circuit competition this season.

Weyenberg, Menasha center, and "Zed" Hennip, Menasha forward, shared high scoring honors with 19 points each. Weyenberg was credited with nine baskets and one free throw, while Rempel scored eight baskets and three free throws.

Opening a whirlwind attack early in the first period the Menasha cagers clearly outclassed the invaders during the entire game and piled up a 32 to 4 lead before the end of the second half. Hertenstein, Sheboygan forward, led the opposition with 10 points.

Weyenberg started at center for Menasha with Rempel and Rather at forwards and Hohelsal and Anderson at guards. In addition to the 36 points scored by Weyenberg and Rempel, Rather collected four buckets and one free throw, Anderson four field goals and Hohelsal one field goal and one free throw.

The Menasha team will meet the Plymouth entry at Plymouth Tuesday evening.

MENASHA SOCIETY

Menasha—The Study club will meet Monday evening with the Misses Sallie and Anna Pleasants. A paper on Spanish herbs will be given by Mrs. W. H. Reynolds and a paper on Spanish travel tales will be given by Miss Adelaide Jennings.

The Peppy Eight club will be entertained at the home of Mrs. M. Handler Tuesday afternoon. Cards will be played.

Mrs. J. Tratz will entertain the Leopold club at her home Monday evening. Bridge will be played.

Menasha Polish Falcon athletic association will sponsor a dancing party in Falcon hall Sunday evening.

St. Mary high school dramatic club will entertain at a dancing party in St. Mary auditorium Jan. 26. Refreshments will be served.

Sanctuary society of St. Patrick's parish will sponsor a public card party in St. Patrick's school hall Jan. 25. Refreshments will be served.

Women's auxiliary to Henry J. Lenz post of American Legion met at S. A. Cook Armory Friday evening.

B. B. B. sorority met in the Congregational church parlors Friday evening. Following a brief business meeting, volleyball was played.

The Menasha Economics club entertained at its annual card party in the library auditorium Friday afternoon. Auction and contract bridge were played. Mrs. G. A. Loeschner was chairman in charge of arrangements, assisted by Mrs. George Barnes, Mrs. A. Hopfensperger, Mrs. A. T. Strange and Mrs. S. L. Spengler.

Mrs. Hazel Barshaw was installed as noble grand of Betty Rebekah lodge at a meeting in Odd Fellows lodge rooms here Friday evening. Mrs. Flora Richardson, deputy president, was installing officer, assisted by Mrs. Carrie Strong, deputy marshal. Mrs. Mary Jensen was retiring noble grand.

Mrs. Caroline Olson took office as vice grand; Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, secretary; Mrs. Sue Floyd, treasurer; Mrs. Clara Murrell, warder; Mrs. Amanda Huston, conductor; Mrs. Anna Burnham, chaplain; Mrs. Margaret Dahms, musician; Mrs. Carrie Strong, right supporter of the noble grand; Mrs. Katherine Terrier, left supporter of the noble grand; Mrs. Dagmar McCrory, right supporter of the vice grand; Mrs. Mayme Sindahl, left supporter of the vice grand; Mrs. C. Baxter, inside guard; and Mrs. Clara Wilson, outside guard.

Mrs. Mary Jensen was appointed delegate to the mid-winter district convention at Manitowish Jan. 28.

Following the installation, a program celebrating the anniversary of the birth of Thomas Wolfe, founder of the organization in America, was presented under the direction of Mrs. Edward Brownson. A paper on the life of Wolfe was read by Mrs. Brownson and a playlet, "The Dream," was presented. The play was written by Mrs. Harriet Salter of Chilton who was a guest of the Menasha lodge at Friday's meeting.

Chicken Lunch Tonight at Hamachek's, Kimberly.

Chop Suey tonight at Black Oak, Elway 41.

KOROTEV HIGH IN BOWLING LEAGUE

Member of Eagle's League Squad Gets 11 Strikes in One Game

Neenah—Eagle bowling league teams rolled their weekly matches Friday evening at Neenah alleys with Kuehl Shoes dropping two to the Home Fuels, Lewis Meats winning three from Webber Clothes and Tri-City Nash winning three from Fetter 5 and 10 Harry Korotev, of the Home Fuels, had a high game of 271, setting 11 strikes. He followed with a 137 and 210 for a high series of 678. E. Haase was second with 640, Seltz rolled 623. Home Fuels had high game of 1982, also high series of 2869.

Scores: Kuehl Shoes—832, 942, 852; Home Fuels—1082, 877, 908; Fetter 5 and 10—811, 836, 959; Tri-City Nash—873, 839, 863; Lewis Meats—814, 1002, 872; Webber Clothes—755, 850, 864.

Standings:

Kuehl Shoes	32	19
Home Fuels	30	21
Tri-City Nash	29	22
Lewis Meats	28	23
Fetter 5 and 10	21	30
Webber Clothes	13	38

Lakeview Paper Co. rolled its weekly matches Friday evening. DeGroot was high rolling 200, 202, 211 for a total of 621. Blends won a pair from the Wrappers and Vellums won two from the Albums.

Scores: Vellums—822, 805, 906; Albums—797, 811, 899; Blends 852, 817, 839; Wrappers—848, 797, 876.

Kimberly-Clark Office Girl team rolled its matches Friday afternoon with Ruth Howlett getting high series of 161, 171, 139 for a total of 521. L. Stadler rolled 472 and Sommers high single game of 218 and a total of 462. Clubs won two out of three from Diamonds.

Paul Zemke's rail roaders again were victors in a match game with the Harties Alleys of Little Chute Friday evening. Zemke rolled the high game of the series, 238. After a bad start with 843 the team came back with a 970 and 980 for a total of 2,793. Rock, of the visitors rolled 556, which was high for the Little Chute squad.

GET PIPE FOR PARK DRAINAGE SYSTEMS

Neenah—Thirty carloads of sewer pipe of various sizes have been ordered to the city by the Wickert company for use in the drainage program at Lowden and Fourth ward parks. The city is building this drainage system to aid the unemployed. More than four miles of trenching will be necessary to lay these parks before final work of laying them out as recreation and athletic centers is started. Lowden park was donated many years ago to the city but up to last year was used but little. It is proposed to turn this area into an athletic park. The Fourth Ward park is a new one, the initial cost having been donated last fall by an anonymous donor. This park will be a play center as well as a beauty spot in that part of the city. Plans for this park include a football field with bleachers, tennis courts, wading pool, baseball diamonds, small field house and play equipment for the smaller children. Shrubby trees will be planted to beautify the new Warren tract of land along the slough.

ST. MARY SCHOOL BAND TO PRESENT CONCERT

Menasha—Preparations for a pre-tournament concert at St. Mary auditorium shortly after Easter are being made by the St. Mary high school band, under the direction of G. Unsar. The band has been enlarged from 40 to 72 pieces and an elaborate program for the pre-tournament entertainment has been arranged.

BOY SCOUT PATROLS TO CONTINUE CONTEST

Menasha—An inter-patrol contest in troop projects, featured by a study of first aid methods, will be continued at a meeting of Troop 9, Menasha Woodmenway boy scouts, in the Woodmenway cafeteria Monday evening. In addition to regular troop work, directed by Wesley Olson, scout master, scout awards announced at the Appleton court of honor Sunday will be distributed.

E. SCHULTZ LEADS IN FOUR-GAME PIN MATCH

Menasha—A 786 pin total in four games, scored by E. Schultz, gave the Maintenance No. 2 team a four-game victory over the Maintenance No. 1 aggregation in Marathon league play on Hendy alleys Friday evening.

Koch of the Carlton squad took a high single game honors with a 233 pin out, while his team won three out of four games from the Traffic trio. The State won three out of four contests from the Sales bowlers and the Cost and Kegler teams split with two wins and two losses.

TWIN CITY TEAMS TO MEET IN PIN MATCH

Menasha—The Hendy Recreation No. 2 bowling squad of Menasha will meet the Sawyer Paper company bowlers of Neenah on Hendy alleys Saturday evening. A similar contest with a Berlin quint has been arranged by the Hendy team for Sunday afternoon on Hendy alleys. Return matches will be bowled next week.

KIWANIANS TO HEAR SPEAKER FROM OSHKOSH

Menasha—Cyde Springate, Oshkosh Kiwanis district governor for the central division of the Wisconsin-Upper Michigan district, will be the principal speaker at a meeting of the Menasha Kiwanis club at Hotel Menasha Tuesday noon. Springate's subject has not been announced.

COMMITTEES TO MEET

Menasha—Alemannic committees will meet in the city offices Monday evening. Routine business and a discussion of matters to be brought before the common council at its next meeting is planned.

Free Perch Fry tonight at Stark's Hotel.

Flapper Fanny Says

Many girls these days are just dying for a date.

MOTORIST ESCAPES INJURY AS TRAIN HITS AUTOMOBILE

Neenah—George Woeckner, E. Doty-ave, escaped serious injury Saturday morning when he jumped from his automobile just before it was struck by the northbound Chicago-Northwestern express train at the N. Commercial crossing. Woeckner was on his way to work at Menasha. The crossing gates had been lowered for the approaching train, which was pulling into the station at a low rate of speed, but Woeckner, failing to see the lowered gates until it was too late to stop, turned his car which skidded on to the tracks. He jumped just as the engine struck the rear right side of the car, throwing it into the gates. Woeckner was uninjured, but his car was badly damaged.

WILL DISPOSES OF $50,000 ESTATE

Neenah Man Named One of Beneficiaries by Grandfather

Neenah—The will of Hans Eversson, Neenah, has been admitted to probate by County Judge McDonald, at Oshkosh, disposing of about $50,000 in personal property in addition to considerable real estate at Ironwood, Mich. Petition only recently was filed, this was waiver of notice of hearing.

Raymond Carl Zeim, Neenah, a grandson, is to obtain the real estate on condition that he pay within 10 years $5,000 each to the two daughters of the deceased, his mother, Mrs. Ida Zeim, and Mable H. Johnson. Raymond Zeim, named with his mother as joint executor, also is to obtain a share of the personal effects and an automobile.

The two daughters are the residuary legatees, and obtain the bulk of the estate. A diamond ring is bequeathed a granddaughter, Irene Johnson, and clothing to another grandson, Howard Johnson.

LARGE CROWDS ATTEND POULTRY AND PET SHOW

Neenah—Many people have attended the eleventh annual show being conducted at S. A. Cook armory by Winnebago Poultry and Pet Stock association. The show will close Sunday evening, after breaking all records in regard to number of birds on exhibition and attendance. Many birds have been brought here from other localities. Judging began Friday and will continue until Sunday, when prizes will be awarded.

FIRST HOCKEY GAME TO BE PLAYED SUNDAY

Neenah—The Washington school hockey rink has finally been covered with ice thick enough to permit the first game of the season Sunday afternoon. The local team will play Appleton here. The surface of the rink is in good condition.

This will be the first game on the league schedule the first six events having been postponed on account of lack of ice. The city will place lights at the Washington rink to permit night skating.

FIRST NATIONAL TEAM TO MEET OSHKOSH FIVE

Neenah—First National Bank team of the Mid-West Bowling league will go to Oshkosh Sunday to roll match game with the Eau Claire Hotshots. The Haase, Klinks and Rhoades team will remain at home to roll a match game with Kaukauna.

PLAY WAUSAU TONIGHT

Neenah—The high school basketball team left at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon by cars for Wausau. This evening it will meet the high school team of that city. Neenah so far has won all its games this season. The first home game for Neenah will be on the evening of Feb. 5 against Kaukauna.

LUTHERAN CAGERS LOSE

Neenah—Trinity Lutheran Valley church basketball league team was defeated Friday evening by New London 30 and 13, at New London. The game was a curtain raiser for a high school game between Clintonville and New London.

PLAN COMMITTEES

Neenah—John Buelow, newly elected president of the Twin City Sportsman club, will meet in the near future with the board of directors and appoint committees for the year.

Committee to Meet
Neenah—The city water and light committee will meet at the filtration plant Monday afternoon. Bills will be allowed.

GIVE BOYS CHANCE TO PAY DAMAGES

Charge Pair Took Car Without Owner's Consent--Machine Damaged in Crash

Neenah—Opportunity to pay for damage done to a car it is alleged they used without consent of the owner has been given Edward Braemer, Menasha, and Herman Sauer, who works on a farm near Menasha.

In the meantime, no further action has been taken in a criminal prosecution started on complaint of Frank Mantuefel, Highway 26 resident, though testimony was heard by Municipal Judge Silas Spengler Friday in a preliminary examination.

Mantuefel was informed by District Attorney Frank B. Keefe that he cannot use a criminal prosecution for collection of civil damages, and the complainant asserted he did not know at the time of signing of the complaint facts disclosed by his son, Walter, this morning. Walter Mantuefel had the car at a dance at a dance hall on the evening of Jan. 9, having gone there in company with the defendants. He testified the two boys are his friends and had used the car before with his permission. On this particular occasion, nothing had been said about using the car, but he said it missing, and later his friends returned with it, after the machine had been damaged in an accident. The defendants were released on their own recognizance until March 15.

MOTOR BOAT SHOW OPENS NEXT WEEK

National Auto Exhibits in New York to Be Completed Tonight

New York—(AP)—As the National Auto Show neared its end in a grand burst of sales today, lovers of a life on the rolling deep prepared for their innings.

When the sleek new motor cars, hauled as delivering a blow at the "log jam" of sales resistance, vanished tonight from Grand Central palace, an army of workmen will start carting in 1932's motor boats.

An array of sleek craft guaranteed to make the boat lover's eyes glisten will go on display next Friday when the 27th National Motor Boat show opens.

Sweeping changes in design and a wide price range are accentuated in the promises to the yachting public. "Floating homes," is the way they are described, with tiled bath rooms, built in radios, hot water, brightly polished metal sinks and electric refrigerators adding to the comfort of those who like to go places on the water.

Engine manufacturers have striven for lighter weight. There are more small Diesel motors, adaptable for cruising craft of any size.

Ranabouts will show the trend toward smartness, with elaborate appointments. Some of the open type will have built-in ice boxes.

NEENAH SOCIETY

Mrs. Jennie Bain was elected president of the Friendly Club of the G. A. R. Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Cella Larson, Monroe. Others elected were Mrs. Carrie Bergman, vice president, and Mrs. Nellie Hutchins, secretary and treasurer. "A social followed the meeting."

Eagle officers and past presidents will be guests Saturday evening of J. B. Schneller at a party at his home on Church-st. Cards will be played.

NEENAH PERSONALS

Orrin Smith, Brighton beach-rd, Menasha, is receiving treatment at Theda Clark hospital.

Mrs. John Schaefer has been admitted to Theda Clark hospital for treatment.

Carl Island is at Theda Clark hospital. He injured his hand Friday at the Durham Lumber company.

Arthur Reddin and Kenneth Metz are attending the auto show at Milwaukee.

Milton Fuhs is home from Marquette university to spend the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fuhs.

George Elman and Howard Ehlers are home from Wisconsin School of Engineering at Milwaukee to spend the weekend with their parents.

Howard Schmidt, E. Hyland, Gerald Johnson, Elwood Tyrrell and Glenn Smith went to Wausau Saturday to witness the Neenah-Wausau basketball game.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Beisenstein and son, Joseph, Mr. and Mrs. Royman Neubauer and son, Leonard, and Mr. and Mrs. B. Bell are at Wausau to witness the Neenah-Wausau basketball game.

NEENAH COUNCIL TO MEET NEXT MONDAY

Neenah—The city council will meet Monday evening at the city hall. Proposed water softener and filtration project will be discussed. A resolution asking the city to submit the question to the people at the spring election will be presented by the Eagles.

AN EASY OUT

The new museum guide didn't know his job very well, but he tried his best.

"Here, ladies and gentlemen, is a monument erected to a noble cause," he told his party.

"And what does it stand for?" asked a young man.

"Er-r-r, I don't know, miss," the guide faltered; "but it would look silly lying down, wouldn't it?"—Answers.

It is rumored that "Forbidden" with Barbara Stanwyck starting tonight at Warner's Appleton Theatre is taken from the novel "The President's Daughter".

Judd Rushes Program To Fight Crime

Honolulu—(AP)—Hoping to forestall congressional action which might result in changing the territorial government, Gov. Lawrence M. Judd today speeded completion of a program for the special session of the legislature which meets Monday to enact measures intended to strengthen law enforcement here.

Bills to purge the much-criticized police department of politics and inefficiency were formulated. One provides for reorganization of the department under an appointive instead of an elective head.

Officials prepared to receive Seth O. Richardson, assistant attorney general sent from Washington to investigate existing conditions which were eliminated by an assault on Mrs. Thomas H. Massie, wife of a naval lieutenant, and the slaying of Joseph Kahahawai, an Hawaiian accused as one of her assassins.

James F. Gilliland, city and county attorney, labeled the visit as a move to force him from office. Other officials said they welcomed the prospective inquiry.

Gilliland's office is expected to prosecute Mrs. Granville Fortescue, mother of Mrs. Massie, Lieutenant Massie and two enlisted naval men, on charges of killing Kahahawai.

A grand jury which is to consider the case of Mrs. Fortescue, Lieutenant Massie and the enlisted men, ordered O. Jones and E. J. Lord, organized last night. It took up routine criminal matters. Authorities have announced the Kahahawai murder evidence will be presented the grand jury "early next week."

Stanford B. D. Wood, federal district attorney, said he believed Richardson's inquiry will "be a good thing."

INDUCT OFFICIALS AT MEETING IN SHIOCTON

Shiocton—Joint installation of 1932 officers for the Modern Woodman and Royal Neighbors lodges took place Wednesday evening at the Odd Fellows hall where a 6:30 o'clock dinner was served to members of both lodges. Charles Oaks is venerable consul. Other officers are worthy advisor, Barb Allender; clerk, Clark Wilcox; banker, Desmond Steele; G. M. Croix; diogenes, Gumm; watchman, Alfred Omholt; sentry, Clinton Mack; physician, Dr. La Croix; manager for three years, Guy Sykes.

Maud Shepherdson was installed as oracle of the Royal Neighbors lodge. Other 1932 officers are: Vice oracle, Cella Oaks; past oracle, Cris Booth; chancellor, Minnie Pooler; recorder, Elsie Keuther; receiver, Eva Ceaser; marshal, May Thompson; assistant marshal, Olive Steele; physician, Dr. G. M. Croix; flag bearer, Evelyn Rousseau; faith, June Pooler; endurance, Esther Shepherdson; modesty, Alma Steele; unselfishness, Edith Palmer, and courage, Janie Thorp.

Eleven tables were in play at the open card party sponsored by the members of St. Ann's society at the Hotel Northern Tuesday evening. Prizes at schafkopf were awarded Joe Oskey first and Mrs. Richard Beyer consolation and at smear to Mrs. Ellen Brantz, first and Mrs. Ellen Brantz consolation. The next party will be held Tuesday evening Jan. 19, at the hotel.

Members of St. Ann society were entertained at the home of Mrs. Will Lauer Thursday afternoon. Cards furnished the entertainment for the afternoon.

Prizes at schafkopf were won by Mrs. G. M. La Croix and Miss Rolo and at smear by Mrs. Ellen Brantz and Mrs. Earl Hamm.

Mrs. Ellen Brantz will be hostess to the society at its meeting next month.

HOLD FUNERAL FOR RESIDENT OF DALE

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Dale—Funeral services for Louis Seif were held Thursday forenoon from St. Peter and Pauls Catholic church. Pall bearers were Wilbur Collard, Bernie Oik, Ted Moder, Arnold Grmal, Robert Seif and Irving Kling.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Steffen entertained guests at five hundred, rummy Wednesday evening. After the card game, Mr. Nitz pianist and Mr. Steffen, violinist, entertained. Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Al Nitz of Appleton.

Sixteen tables were in play at the card party given by the Royal Neighbors Thursday evening. Art Berner won first prize at five hundred and Lorraine Hanselman consolation. Mrs. H. Price first in sheephead and Mrs. Carl Leiby, consolation.

A musk ball will be given in the opera house, Jan. 22.

Mrs. Anna Neuman is a patient at St. Elizabeth hospital at Appleton.

The Rev. G. Schmeling of Henry, S. D., was a guest of the Rev. W. Zink this week.

Women's $2.98 Arch Supp Dress Slippers $1.49 Monday only at the R. & S. SHOE STORE

Who's News Today

BY LEMUEL F. PARTON
Copyright, 1932, by Cons. Press
New York—(CFA)—Tall, handsome Dr. Enrique Olaya, president of Colombia is one of the most personable political and financial emissaries ever sent by Latin America to the United States. His name, today woven into the text of the senate's foreign debt inquiry, is widely and favorably known in North American banking and diplomatic circles. When, as president-elect, he visited the United States, he was entertained at Woodley by Secretary Stimson. From 1930 to 1931, Francisco White assistant secretary of state, in attendance. For eight years previously he had been Colombia's ambassador to Washington.

Dr. Olaya was elected to office largely on a campaign of "liberalizing" the laws governing oil concessions to foreign investors. These laws imposed a tax of from eight to sixteen per cent on gross production by foreign operators. Dr. Olaya attacked this "hostile and temporizing policy" and managed to win the republic. After his election, he put through 17 laws governing oil and banking and partially removing these restrictions. The story of subsequent loans is told in today's dispatches.

Dr. Olaya was a brilliant provincial journalist who practiced law in Bogota and later published the Gaceta Republicana and the Diario Nacional. His candidacy as a liberal in 1930, was bitterly opposed by conservative elements who charged him with proposing to "sell out" Colombia to foreign bankers and oil interests.

Seth W. Richardson, assistant attorney-general, assigned to investigate Honolulu and conditions of law enforcement growing out of the Massie case, is on his way to the department for the interior. Soon after he was appointed to his present office in 1929, he unraveled the tangle growing out of the charges that leases in the Salt Creek, Wyoming, oil reserves had been obtained by fraud. In October, 1931, he quietly and painlessly disposed of the vitriolic Kelly accusations, involving the department's alleged maladministration of western oil shale reserves.

Born in Iowa, Mr. Richardson entered the practice of law in North Dakota at 23. He was assistant attorney-general for North Dakota from 1919 to 1920. In 1922, President Harding appointed him federal district attorney. Typical quote: "The dirty hand of money has reached out and corrupted men in some of the highest offices of this country. . . . Too many of us are too much inclined to rise on our feet to sing America with great gusto, only to relegate it to the moth ball when it comes to putting the principles that the anthem implies into every day action."

Since becoming commissioner of police of Long Branch, N. J., Mrs. Corneilia Woolley Hopkins, young blonde and good looking, has had both political and money troubles. The seizure of her car on a judgment of $17,581 follows closely on a suit by a New York store to collect $69,549 for wearing apparel, including a sable coat, put down at $27,500. Items listed are 273 in number.

Mrs. Hopkins accepted appointment in May of last year, by Charles E. Brown, director of public safety. She said she took up the job to clean out the bootleggers and gamblers, but to re-establish the daughter of Park Mason Woolley, wealthy long branch resident. She divides her time between her home, her two-year-old daughter, her dog kennels and directing the operations of 75 policemen. Last August she divorced her husband, Livingston Hopkins, Wall Street broker. She is headlined as the "heirless cop."

PLAN SERIES OF MEETS FOR CHEESE PRODUCERS

Madison—(AP)—Wisconsin Cheese producers will inaugurate a series of state-wide meetings arranged by the Wisconsin Cheese Exchange, to fix prices in St. Croix-con, W. L. Witte of the state department of agriculture and markets, announced Thursday.

Assemblyman B. J. Gehrman, member of the committee appointed by the state department to investigate the price fixing activities of the Farmers Call Board and the Plymouth Cheese Exchange, will be among the speakers.

The first meeting will be held at Star Prairie Monday. A session will be held at Doranda Tuesday; at Farmington Tuesday night; at Greenwood Thursday and at Green Grove Friday.

Congress Today

NEW LONDON IN 17-6 CAGE WIN OVER TRUCKERS

Red and White Squad Holds Lead Over Clintonville Throughout Game

(Special to Post-Crescent)
New London—Holding the Clintonville team to one field goal, the New London high school boys beat their rivals in basketball by a 17-6 score Friday evening at Werner's hall. Looking much better than they have all season, the Red and Whites coasted along throughout the entire game. The game was fast and rough and Referee Schneider was kept busy calling fouls. New London had 19 personal fouls and Ebert drew three ejections. Clintonville drew 13 personal fouls, Smith being the only man to escape Schneider. New London started scoring when Brown chalked up two points on a long side shot. He added another point when he fouled Clintonville. Clintonville tried two shots at the basket, missing both. Kersten drew two fouls, but missed both. Clintonville fouled Brown, who made the score 4 to 0. Dornbach then shoved the score up two points when he dribbled through for a basket. Fouled on the play he missed his free throw. Just before the end of the quarter Ebert was fouled by Wichland and he made the score 7 to 0. On two jump throws Brown fouled Monte and Brown, but both missed their opportunities. Pinkowski fouled Clintonville out of the zero column when he was fouled by Dornbach. On the next play Dornbach shot a long throw from the foul line which made the score 9-1. Both Brown and Monte collected a point for their teams on the free throw line and the half ended 10-2. In the second half Monte made Clintonville's only field goal. Farrell followed suit by batting in a jump ball. For the remainder of the quarter both teams were missing throws on fouls and no scoring was done until Dornbach heaved in a one hand backward shot. Dornbach added another point when Brown roughed him up a trifle. Clintonville missed two chances on a foul and Farrell ended the game by tossing one in from under the basket. Regulars Replaced
With only a few minutes left to play Coach Stacey pulled out Farrell, Dornbach, Brown and Ebert and sent in Krause, Wilcox, Pfeiffer and Freiburger. Though these youngsters did not score, they managed to keep the Orange and Black from making any threats. In the preliminary game the Men's club, showing some good fast breaking plays, had an easy time winning over the Lutheran rivals from Neenah, 36 to 15. The home boys team play was too much for Neenah to cope with and at no time did they play their hardest. The score at the half was 24 to 5. One of the largest crowds that has packed the hall for some time witnessed the game and many remained for dancing which followed.

	FG	FT	PF
New London	1	3	2
Brown	1	3	2
Farrell, H.	2	1	3
Ebert, C.	1	1	3
Dornbach, Rg.	3	1	1
Kersten, Ig.	1	1	1
Marx, Ig.	1	1	1
Totals	6	5	10
Clintonville
R. Rohm, Rf.	1	3	3
Smith, H.	1	3	3
Pinkowski, H.	1	3	3
Kersten, C.	1	3	3
Monty, Tg.	1	2	2
Wichland, Ig.	1	2	2
Totals	1	4	13

NEW LONDON PERSONALS

(Special to Post-Crescent)
New London—Miss Rose Klische has departed for Chicago where she will spend a week visiting her sisters. Mrs. August Schmidt will leave soon for St. Petersburg, Fla., where she will visit her sister, Mrs. Albert Hoxie. Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Smith will be among those from this city who will attend the automobile show in Milwaukee next week. Others from New London to attend will be J. F. Bentz, Ralph Hanson, Frank Myers, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hennes, Ralph Hartzheim and R. S. Schwartz. Mrs. Leon Meyer and children of Milwaukee arrived in this city Thursday to visit Mrs. Meyer's sister, Mrs. J. M. Monsted, Jr. Mr. Meyer is spending some time with relatives in Sturgeon Bay. Mrs. Kathryn Green returned Friday evening from Appleton, having attended a convention of the Christian garment company at Conway hotel.

PASTORS ANNOUNCE SERMONS FOR SUNDAY

(Special to Post-Crescent)
New London—"A String of Pearls" is the subject to be given at the 11 o'clock service at the Congregational church Sunday morning by the Rev. A. W. Snesby. A solo and response will be given by Mrs. Rued Smith and the choir. The solo number is entitled "Lamb of God." The regular meeting of the Young People's society will be held in the church parlors at 6:30 in the evening with Miss Luella Baldwin as leader. The Rev. C. A. Tuttle, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, will preach on "Stirring Up Our Gifts." There will be choir music at the service at 11 o'clock. The Epworth League will meet at the Young People's society during the evening service at 6:30. "Faith and Works" will be the subject of the lesson.

DELIVERS PAPER ON REHABILITATION WORK

(Special to Post-Crescent)
New London—Mrs. Ruth Mankske, chairman of rehabilitation work of the Legion Auxiliary of this city, read a paper on this subject Thursday evening at the meeting of the auxiliary at Legion hall. Reports were submitted by those in charge of the Christmas rehabilitation work, several families receiving baskets

FUNERAL NEXT MONDAY FOR LATE JOHN DECKER

(Special to Post-Crescent)
New London—The body of John Decker, who died Thursday at Milwaukee on Thursday following a long illness, arrived here today and was taken to the Chue-Learman funeral home. The funeral will be held Monday, with burial in Maple Creek cemetery. Mr. Decker was a relative of August Schwandt.

NEW LONDON WINS DEBATING HONORS

Negative Team Takes 3 to 0 Decision from Oconto Squad

(Special to Post-Crescent)
New London—In their final appearance in debate this season against the Oconto high school affirmative team Friday afternoon at Oconto, New London high school received a 3 to 0 decision, giving the school the championship of the Northeastern Interscholastic Forensic conference. The negative team consisted of Alice Mae Ziemer, Edward Rehman and Irving Demming. Oconto's affirmative team consisted of H. H. Brockhaus, who has been in charge of debate work, expressed his satisfaction with the showing the teams made this year. Out of the six appearances made, four 3-0 decisions have been given the New London students. Thus only two judges out of 18 have given negative decisions. The affirmative team boasts three 3 to 0 decisions, having won in all of their appearances. This team comprised Ardeli Roepke, Westley Calef, and William Schreide. The two alternates were Arthur Palmer and Harry Wells. Mr. Brockhaus will now turn his attention to the all school play which will be given later in the season. The cast already has been selected. The play selected for this year is a drama entitled, "The Attorney for the Defense."

NEW LONDON SOCIETY

(Special to Post-Crescent)
New London—The Community hospital aid will sponsor a card party before Lent. Mrs. Ben Monte has been named chairman of the committee.

Mr. and Mrs. William Breitenfeldt entertained at dinner Thursday evening. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Brown and sons, Eugene and Donald, Ferdinand Breitenfeldt, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Forster and family of this city and Mr. and Mrs. E. Breitenfeldt and daughter, Geraldine, of Tigerton.

Mrs. E. N. Calef entertained the Ten Pin club at her home Friday afternoon.

About forty tables of bridge, five hundred, skat and schafkopf were in play at the public card party given at the Catholic parish hall Thursday night. This party was the last of a series of benefits to the Community hospital auxiliary. Mrs. R. E. Small was chairman of the committee in charge.

The Culvert club will entertain husbands at the monthly club dinner next Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. J. W. Monsted, Jr.

LEADERS HOLD PACE IN BOWLING LEAGUES

(Special to Post-Crescent)
New London—League leadership in the various bowling leagues was not changed this week. In the Good Fellowship league Bordens got a little larger lead over the Lions team and are ahead by a two game margin. The Cashways are in third place, while Ross' Shoes bring up the rear with 20 wins and 31 losses. In the Major league the Bulks, with 21 wins and 10 losses, are three games ahead of the Kory Korner Dave's with 23 wins and 15 losses are one game ahead of the New London Ice and Fuel company. In the Interfactory league the Plywoods and Cristys are still trailing Bordens closely. The leaders are two games ahead of the Plywood and five ahead of Cristys. Verifies are still holding the cellar with 19 wins and 32 losses. Trasher with 23 wins and 15 losses is high man in this week's factory league bowling. In this week's factory league bowling, the Mess kits with 20 wins and 22 losses are one game behind the runnersup. The Dog Robbers are at the bottom with 12 wins and 30 losses. Bowling against Len Hoffman Bill Viel shot a 265 score during the past week. However the game was not in league competition. This score has been topped by J. Graham's 283 and Bill Garot's 279. On Sunday afternoon a squad from the Men's club will meet a group from Neenah's Men's club here, while on Thursday evening Cristys take on the Neenah Manufacturers' Ladies team.

OLIVER OLESON DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Medina—Oliver Oleeson, 66, died at 2:45 Friday afternoon at his home of a lingering illness. Born in Medina in 1866, Mr. Oleeson spent his entire life here, with the exception of 20 years spent in South Dakota. He was married in 1893 to Miss Mary Holland of Ironwood, Mich. Survivors are the widow; two daughters, Mrs. James Edison, Eagle Butte, S. Dak.; and Mrs. Oscar Miller, Appleton; three sons, Henry of Oregon and Clarence and Donald at home; three sisters, Mrs. Cornelia Hansen, Mattoon, Ill.; Mrs. Jones, Minneapolis; and Mrs. Ed Peters, Medina.

and clothing, and money having been sent to a number of ex-service men who are out of the city. The auxiliary will sponsor a card party at the home of Mrs. S. E. Thersens, Beacon-ave, next Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Thersens will be assisted by Mrs. James Graham and Mrs. Albert Stern. Mrs. Isabelle Gehrke will act as chairman. Baked Creamed Chicken tonite Sandwich Shop, Mem. Dr.

OFFICERS OF CHILTON BANK ARE REELECTED

Walter Jurtz Is President of Institution; Directors Renamed Also

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Chilton—At the annual stockholders' meeting of the Chilton National Bank Tuesday the following officers and directors were reelected: president, Walter Jurtz; vice president, William N. Knauf; cashier, Miss M. Cecilia Bosshard; directors, H. F. Arps, O. D. Dorschel, William Knauf, Walter Kurtz, Andrew Noll, William Pinnow and Frank Tesch. At a regular meeting of the Chilton National bank Tuesday evening the newly elected officers were installed by Dr. Charles Gleason of Manitowish, lieutenant governor of this district. The officers and directors of the club are George Goggin, president; John Hanley, vice president; Herbert Turner, secretary; Robert Hugo, treasurer; directors, Oscar Dorschel, H. F. Arps, Charles Knauf, Herbert Turner, George Berger, L. R. C. McGrath and John Blinsfield.

The Past Noble Grand club held its annual election of officers at the meeting held at the home of Mrs. William Salter, the following being elected: president, Mrs. William Salter; vice president, Mrs. Otto Voigt; secretary-treasurer, Miss Cecilia Bosshard; marshal, Mrs. Selma Hansen; two at large, Cecil and Walter Reif. The February meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Voigt.

St. Rita's guild will sponsor an open card party in the church hall on Sunday evening, Jan. 24. Bridge, five hundred, schafkopf and skat will be played and supper served. The regular winter skat tournament, sponsored by Elton Aerie F. O. E., will be held at the Eagles' hall Sunday afternoon, Feb. 7.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Christel on Wednesday. Patrick McCole, 56, formerly of the town of Chilton, but who had been living at Denmark where he had operated a general store died in a hospital in Green Bay. Survivors are the widow, Mrs. McCole, an instructor at the university of Notre Dame, and Patrick, Jr., at home, and one daughter, Genevieve. Funeral services were held at Denmark Friday morning, the body being taken to Iron Mountain, Mich., for burial.

Jacob Noll received word of the death of his uncle, George Noll, 73, who died at his home in Milwaukee Wednesday.

A marriage license was issued by County Clerk John Brocker to Gerhard R. Lau and Miss Rachel Wenzel, both of the town of Rantoul.

The officers of Chilton Lodge No. 154 E. and A. M. were installed on Thursday evening by J. Adams of Fond du Lac, Otto Heller being installed as master. John Weeks was presented with a Masonic ring in recognition of his outstanding service to the lodge. Following the meeting a supper was served.

The Woman's Missionary society of the Ebenezer Reformed church met at the home of Mrs. Gustav Guenther Thursday afternoon. The Ladies' Aid society of the Ebenezer Reformed church, at its annual meeting, elected the following officers: Mrs. John Olmstead, president; Mrs. Herman Schoehn, vice president; Mrs. Otto Vost, secretary; Mrs. Earl Mear, treasurer. Louis DeKarske has purchased the John Laughlin home at the north city limits, while Mr. Laughlin took in exchange the DeKarske home on Baldwin-st. Both families took immediate possession.

The E. B. club met with Mrs. George Wilcox Tuesday evening, prizes in cards going to Mrs. Joseph McHugh and Mrs. Fred Larson.

The O. Q. A. club met with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bonk on Tuesday evening, honors in cards being awarded to Mrs. Ernest Rau and William Stauss.

The Tuesday Bridge club met with Mrs. George Meyer Tuesday afternoon, prizes being won by Mrs. Ernest Rau and Mrs. John Fluhr.

Mrs. Joseph Schmidtkofer entertained the Neighborhood club at her home Tuesday evening, prizes in bridge being awarded to Mrs. Theodore Steffes and Mrs. Ray Thede.

John Anhalt is ill at his home on Lincoln-st.

The Rev. William Arpke, who has been ill for several weeks is convalescing.

INSTALL OFFICERS OF HILBERT RELIEF CORPS

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Hilbert—The first meeting of the Women's Relief Corps for this year was held on Thursday evening at the high school, with installation of new officers. They are: President, Margaret Madler; senior vice president, Anna Gaw; junior vice president, Verna Schmidt; secretary, Claudia Meier; treasurer, Viola Weber; chaplain, Rosemary Winkler; conductor, Elizabeth Pieper; guard, Margie Madler.

The following officers were appointed: patriotic instructor, Olive Madler; music correspondent, Claudia Meier; musician, Leola Jaacks; assistant conductor, Gertrude Weber; assistant guard, Lillian Suttner; color bearers, Anna Ziskind, Ann McGraw, Done Zimmer, Mary Vollmer.

After the installation and discussion of current business the following hostesses entertained at a social meeting: Margie Madler, Mary Dietrich, Alvina Knickerbocker and Olive Madler. Fifteen members were present. The next meeting will be held on Thursday evening, Jan. 25.

A Boy Scout meeting was held on Thursday evening at 7:30 at the high school by scoutmaster Rudolph Zimmer. A reorganization was scheduled but as only a few were present nothing was done. Another meeting will be held some time next week.

The local city basketball team met defeat from the Brillion city team on Thursday evening at Brillion by a 18 to 15 score. The game

STEPHENSVILLE CLUB ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Stephensville—Mrs. C. J. Steidl entertained the order of Martha at her home Thursday afternoon. The annual report was read and officers elected for the coming year. Mrs. John Casey was elected president, Mrs. Clement Callan, vice president and Mrs. C. J. Steidl secretary and treasurer. A card party was planned for Thursday evening Jan. 21, to be given at the auditorium. Cards furnished the afternoon entertainment with prizes being awarded to Mrs. H. J. Van Straten, Mrs. John Casey, Mrs. Josephine Kroner and Mrs. Mesdames H. J. Schultes, A. H. Dietrich, George A. Jolin, Arthur Stephany, Ernest Kroeger, Clement Callan, F. T. Steidl, Leonard Steffen, E. A. Buchman and Miss Anna Semdt.

Mrs. and Mrs. Leo Mountain of Milwaukee, Mrs. Leona Huebner of Liberty and Mrs. William Basch of Appleton, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Steidl Thursday.

ELECT OFFICERS AT PHONE CO. MEETING

Conrad Hangartner Named President—J. H. Spengler, Manager

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Marion—J. J. Hangartner, P. C. Rogers, Emory Rogers, Claude Perry, Conrad Hangartner and A. Schneider attended the Urban Telephone company stockholders meeting at Clintonville Thursday evening. At Clintonville during the year elected two new officers, Conrad Hangartner and A. Schneider. The February meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Voigt.

St. Rita's guild will sponsor an open card party in the church hall on Sunday evening, Jan. 24. Bridge, five hundred, schafkopf and skat will be played and supper served.

The regular winter skat tournament, sponsored by Elton Aerie F. O. E., will be held at the Eagles' hall Sunday afternoon, Feb. 7.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Christel on Wednesday.

Patrick McCole, 56, formerly of the town of Chilton, but who had been living at Denmark where he had operated a general store died in a hospital in Green Bay. Survivors are the widow, Mrs. McCole, an instructor at the university of Notre Dame, and Patrick, Jr., at home, and one daughter, Genevieve. Funeral services were held at Denmark Friday morning, the body being taken to Iron Mountain, Mich., for burial.

Jacob Noll received word of the death of his uncle, George Noll, 73, who died at his home in Milwaukee Wednesday.

A marriage license was issued by County Clerk John Brocker to Gerhard R. Lau and Miss Rachel Wenzel, both of the town of Rantoul.

The officers of Chilton Lodge No. 154 E. and A. M. were installed on Thursday evening by J. Adams of Fond du Lac, Otto Heller being installed as master. John Weeks was presented with a Masonic ring in recognition of his outstanding service to the lodge. Following the meeting a supper was served.

The Woman's Missionary society of the Ebenezer Reformed church met at the home of Mrs. Gustav Guenther Thursday afternoon. The Ladies' Aid society of the Ebenezer Reformed church, at its annual meeting, elected the following officers: Mrs. John Olmstead, president; Mrs. Herman Schoehn, vice president; Mrs. Otto Vost, secretary; Mrs. Earl Mear, treasurer. Louis DeKarske has purchased the John Laughlin home at the north city limits, while Mr. Laughlin took in exchange the DeKarske home on Baldwin-st. Both families took immediate possession.

The E. B. club met with Mrs. George Wilcox Tuesday evening, prizes in cards going to Mrs. Joseph McHugh and Mrs. Fred Larson.

The O. Q. A. club met with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bonk on Tuesday evening, honors in cards being awarded to Mrs. Ernest Rau and William Stauss.

The Tuesday Bridge club met with Mrs. George Meyer Tuesday afternoon, prizes being won by Mrs. Ernest Rau and Mrs. John Fluhr.

Mrs. Joseph Schmidtkofer entertained the Neighborhood club at her home Tuesday evening, prizes in bridge being awarded to Mrs. Theodore Steffes and Mrs. Ray Thede.

John Anhalt is ill at his home on Lincoln-st.

The Rev. William Arpke, who has been ill for several weeks is convalescing.

SHIPPING GROUP TO MEET AT FREMONT

Annual Gathering of Association Set for Monday Night

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Fremont—The Livestock Shipping association will hold its annual meeting at the town hall Monday afternoon, Jan. 18. Officers for 1932 will be elected.

Veyawewa Junior hockey team was defeated by the Fremont Juniors on the local rink by a score of 3-2 Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Springer entertained a number of guests at a party at the Grand View resort Thursday evening. Twenty guests spent the evening in dancing.

The annual meeting of the Bloomfield Mutual Fire Insurance company was held recently at the Lutheran church parlors. The report of the secretary showed a surplus of $5,706.30 with unpaid assessments of $4,655.30. The insurance written was the biggest on record since the organization in 1881 namely $1,911,970, bringing the total in force up to $7,381,905, which is carried by 1,310 policy holders, an increase of 49 since 1929. The members voted to spend not to exceed $600 for fire protection of furniture.

Mrs. L. A. Schoen entertained at bridge Wednesday evening. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Alpheus Steiger, Mrs. Ray Looker, and Mrs. Herman Redemann.

was in favor of Hilbert up to the third quarter, and then turned.

A double header game is scheduled at Volmer hall for next Wednesday evening. The Stockbridge Aces will play against the local city team and the Stockbridge high school will play the local high school. Potter will be here on Thursday or Friday to meet the city team while Neenah is expected with a strong team here Saturday evening.

A regular semi-annual business meeting of the Order of Catholic Foresters was held Wednesday evening at the church hall of St. Mary's church.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Boeslenger on Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Math Fuchs attended their club meeting at the George Gruber home at Chilton this week. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Math Fuchs and John Berrens.

Mrs. Frank Suttner, who has been ill a few days, was taken to St. Agnes hospital at Fond du Lac Thursday evening.

F. W. D. TEAM WINS FROM OCONTO FALLS AT CLINTONVILLE

Three Baskets in the Last Few Minutes Cinch Victory for Local Cagers

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Clintonville—F. W. D. cagers of this city defeated the Oconto Falls City team in a thrilling game at the local armory Thursday evening by a score of 36 to 25.

The visiting team was very fast, but had to resort only to long shots for baskets as the Drive's defense was too good to penetrate. The Truckers played a fast, clean passing game, shooting no long shots.

At no time were the Falls five ahead of the W. D.'s but were trailing by only a small margin until the very end when Clintonville sunk three baskets in quick succession.

George Monty and Earl Orlebeke led the scoring for the Drives, while L. Tracey starred for the visitors. Others playing on the F. W. D. team were Gretzinger, Grapely, Loberg and Elandt. Those on the Oconto Falls lineup were L. Coymann, O'Neill, Tracey, Wolfe, N. Coymann, C. Tracey, Kurten and Hertwig.

This was a return game with the Falls five as the F. W. D.'s had lost to them by a close margin earlier in the season at Oconto Falls.

Miss Edith McCauley has returned to her home at Green Bay after spending the past several months at the home of her brother, George McCauley and family.

Mrs. Charles Folkman left this week for Milwaukee where she will spend the remainder of the winter with her sister, Miss Tillie Schoenk, and with friends.

Miss Janet Kelley entertained the "J" club Thursday evening at her home. Two tables of bridge were played and a luncheon followed. Prizes in cards went to Miss Arleen Ralsler and Miss Dorothea Custer.

The guests present were the Messrs. Beatrice Brackhoff, Dorothy Pinkowsky, Mildred Christianson, Doris Behnke and Helen Washburn.

Mrs. John MacDonald was hostess to a group of friends at her home Thursday evening.

A "Leap Year" dance is being planned by the Eastern Star lodge of this city, to be held in the Masonic hall, before the Lenten period.

An afternoon card party is also being arranged which will take place soon.

A program followed the business session at a regular meeting of the Methodist Ladies Aid society held Thursday afternoon in the church parlors. The numbers presented were: A humorous recitation by Mrs. Ralph Parfitt; a dialogue by Mrs. W. C. Kurtz and Mrs. Otto Olen, with Mrs. Howard Spring playing the piano accompaniment. A lunch was served to about 50 by a committee consisting of Mrs. A. V. Chamberlin, Mrs. W. Winchester, Mrs. Ralph Parfitt and Mrs. William Smith.

Dr. W. H. Finney and William L. Gould returned Thursday from Minneapolis where they spent the fore part of the week.

Dr. Irving Hipp will attend a dental convention in Chicago Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

Those from this city who are spending this week in Detroit where they are attending the American Road Builders association convention and exposition are W. A. Olen, Harry B. Dodge, Rudolph Schmidt, William Hansson, Howard Morton S. H. Sanford, Arthur Giersbach and George Kort. The F. W. D. Co. has an exhibit there which includes two trucks, the latest design made here, one six wheeler and one 24 ton road maintainer.

Mrs. Melvin B. Larson was hostess to a group of friends at her home Thursday evening, in honor of Mrs. Herbert Lindved of Fargo, N. Dak., who is visiting here for a week.

Clintonville Woman's club will hold a regular meeting Monday afternoon in the club rooms at the public library.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bohn of this city in company with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Tibbitt of New London left Thursday on a motor trip to Florida. They expect to be gone about six weeks, during which they will tour Florida and make the trip to Cuba.

The weekly union service for the cooperating churches will take place Sunday evening in the Methodist church.

The Lutheran Men's club of St. Martin church of this city will clash with the New London Men's club in dart ball at the St. Martin school auditorium Tuesday evening. Those playing on the local dart ball team are Lichtenber, Peterson, Mack, Schoenike, Timm, Jesse, Faundry and Wolff. Tuesday evening of this week they journeyed to Reedsfield where they won two out of three games played.

A city championship series of bowling matches are now underway at Recreation alleys. Each Tuesday evening four men bowl 10 games each. The first of these matches was rolled Tuesday evening of this week, with Faundry leading. Total scores in the ten games were Faundry 1884, Hangartner 1822, Hutchinson 1801 and Greb 1753.

The city health officer, Dr. J. H. Murphy, and city nurse, Hazel M. Brown, started Thursday to give the toxin-antitoxin treatment in the local schools. Treatments were given to children of the St. Rose Catholic school and St. Martin Lutheran school on Thursday, with those at

ENTERTAIN CLUB AT SUGAR BUSH HOME

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Sugar Bush—Mr. and Mrs. John Ruckdashel entertained the Happy Hour club at their home Wednesday evening. Four tables of schafkopf were in play and prizes were won by Mrs. George Hill, William Hoffman, Mrs. Theodore Ruckdashel and Louis Thoma. Mr. and Mrs. George Hill will entertain the club at the next meeting in two weeks.

Alice Marie, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hehman submitted to an operation for appendicitis at Community hospital, New London Monday evening.

Mrs. Edward Hoffman left Wednesday morning for Milwaukee where she will spend two weeks visiting at the home of her son, Oakley and at the home of her sisters, Mrs. Frank Veeder and Mrs. Edward Brubaker.

MERBACH ELECTED HEAD OF SHIPPERS

Annual Meeting of Sherwood Farmers' Shipping Association Held Wednesday

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Sherwood—The Sherwood Farmers Shipping association held their annual meeting at Strebe hall Wednesday evening with a large attendance. Although the prices on livestock have been lower during 1931 than they were in 1930 the Association handled a much larger amount of business than did in 1931. The Treasurer's report showed the association to be in better condition than a year ago.

The following officers and directors were elected for 1932, Albert Merbach, president and director, Henry Peters, secretary and treasurer and director; Joseph Dieckhoff, John Stommel, Clifford Bishon, directors; Arthur B. Bishon, shipping manager. The group will continue shipping by truck from Sherwood to Milwaukee every Tuesday. A. M. Thiel received the trucking job for 1932. It was voted not to charge any membership dues or rehire any signed contract from the members. Everyone is welcome to ship and the only charge will be one per cent of all money received which stays in the sinking fund for expenses.

The rate charged is 40 cents per hundred on hogs, sheep and cattle, one cent per pound on poultry, and 75 cents per head on all calves delivered to Sherwood. Mr. Lamb, president of the State cooperative Equity talked on livestock marketing conditions in the large market centers. Other speakers pointed out the value of a cooperative shipping association to any town or community.

Two real estate changes were made Wednesday when the home of the late Peter Klassen was sold to Anton Emmer and Herb Klassen bought the Anton Emmer home.

ROYAL NEIGHBOR HEADS TAKE OVER NEW POSTS

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Little Chute—Installation of the newly elected officers of the Royal Neighbors took place Thursday evening at the St. John school hall. About 40 members attended. Mrs. Elsie Jensen was the installing officer and Mrs. Cornelius Langedyk was the ceremonial officer. Those who were installed are: Mrs. John Hoelbe, orator; Mrs. Theodore Niehaus, vice orator; Mrs. Edward Jansen, past orator; Mrs. Joseph Hiltner, recorder; Mrs. Louis Mannebach, reader; Mrs. Nicholas Schommer, chancellor; Mrs. John Miller, bugle sentinel; Mrs. Leonard Peters, enter sentinel; Mrs. Otto Verstecken and Mrs. William Leuz, managers. After the business meeting cards were played and a lunch was served.

Miss Belle De Groot of the Powder Puffs bowling team rolled 162 for high single score in the weekly match games rolled on the Hartjes alleys Friday evening. Miss Margaret Anderson of the Lucky Strikers scored 429 for high three games series and the Odds and Evens team rolled 2082 for high total score.

Mrs. Henry Van Boxtel was surprised at her home Wednesday evening by a group of friends and relatives in honor of her birthday anniversary. Cards provided amusement and a lunch was served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Martin Van Roy, Mr. and Mrs. John Van Boxtel, Mr. and Mrs. John Van Domelen, Mr. and Mrs. John Van Grinsven, Mr. and Mrs. John Dooley, Mr. and Mrs. Peter H. Van Boxtel, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hoffmeyer, Mr. and Mrs. William Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shesby of this village, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Van Diehouth of Appleton, and Mr. and Mrs. John J. Van Grinsven of Kaukauna.

the public school being given Friday. Another treatment will follow in about two weeks.

A group of 15 women were entertained at cards by Mrs. Margaret Gray Tuesday afternoon. Prizes went Mrs. Frank Helml and Mrs. John Gray.

Central Circle of the Congregational Borens society met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Christianson on S. Main-st.

Charles Christianson on S. Main-st. Mrs. C. Christianson is going to Detroit Mich. to spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Edward Delber, who was formerly Clara Broer of this city.

Fried Chicken Every Sat. Night, Van Denzen's, Kau.

OUTAGAMIE-CO FAIR STOCKHOLDERS MEET

Group Elects Officers and Sets Date for Fall Fair, Sept. 2, 3 and 4

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Hortonville—Stockholders of the Outagamie-co Fair association held their annual meeting Thursday night with the largest attendance for an annual meeting in years, 21 members being present. Frank Winward was elected president of the group.

Other officers include Harry H. Jack, vice president; Milford L. Steffen, secretary; Ben Rideout, treasurer; John Doherty, Edward Wiesler, T. A. Main, Victor Delvend and Lester Thern, trustees. The date for the next fair was set for Sept. 2, 3, and 4, day and night. It was voted to pay $500 on the $1,000 mortgage and plans were made for further improvement of the grounds.

Stockholders of the Farmers and Merchants State bank of Hortonville elected directors and officers at their annual meeting Tuesday. Directors for the ensuing year include A. F. Zuehlke, J. M. Schmitt, M. A. Schult, J. J. Zuehlke and A. H. Krugmiller. Officers elected by the directors are A. F. Zuehlke, president; J. M. Schmitt, vice president; Harvey Steinberg, cashier and B. A. Rideout, assistant cashier.

Appleton East And West Remain Tied In Valley Cage Race

ORANGE BEATS OSHKOSH HIGH BY 13-3 COUNT

Lead 5 and 0 at Half; Verrier, Peotter Get Four Points Each

CONFERENCE STANDINGS

	W. L. Pct.
Appleton	4 1 .800
East Bay	4 1 .800
West Bay	4 1 .800
Fond du Lac	2 3 .400
Oshkosh	2 3 .400
Sheshogan	2 3 .400
Manitowoc	1 4 .200
Marinette	1 4 .200

LAST NIGHT'S RESULTS
Appleton 13, Oshkosh 3.
East 22, Sheshogan 17.
West 26, Manitowoc 13.
Marinette 12, Fond du Lac 9.

TURNING in one of the greatest defensive exhibitions seen on a Valley conference cage court this season, Appleton high school basketball team last night felled Oshkosh cage team 13 to 3, and then threw and defeated the Sawdust city team, 13 and 3. The defeat was the third this season for Oshkosh and just about tosses the team out of the pennant race.

It was an aggressive Orange quintet that performed last evening, aggressive on defense to the point where Oshkosh team was set for a point and aggressive on offense to the point where just enough individual effort resulted in five buckets and the ball game.

The victory left the Orange tied for first honors with East and West Green Bay clubs. East pounded out a 22 and 17 win over Sheshogan last night, while West was beating up Oshkosh 26 and 13. In the other conference game Marinette kicked the deo bucket all over the valley by upsetting Fond du Lac 12 and 9. It was Marinette's first victory of the year over any cage team.

Rule Shows Well
Individual honors go to Bobby Rule who was all over the court all the time. From the first whistle he harassed Oshkosh ball tossers and darted here and there breaking up maneuvers. Offensively he got himself around in a better manner than in other recent games, broke free to score a bucket and several times was instrumental in aiding his mates into the open.

However, it was a little dribbling on the part of Joe Verrier in the second half that definitely swung the game to the Orange. Just after the whistle started the boys on their way in the third quarter, Verrier swung toward the side lines, dribbled under the hoop and dropped the ball through. Then late in the fourth quarter he again broke loose and picked his way down the floor to score.

The game was several minutes old before there was any scoring. Oshkosh missed a free toss and Peotter finally plunked a gift shot to give Appleton its first point. He followed with a field goal a few minutes later and Appleton led 3 and 0 at the half.

Lead 5-0 At Half
Shortly after the second quarter started Rule dropped a field goal and the half ended 5 and 0 for Appleton. When play was resumed Verrier turned in his first dribbling effort and scored. Then Mortell dropped a bucket and the half ended 8 and 0 for Appleton. Oshkosh in the meantime had counted a goal and gift shot and the score stood 10 and 3 at the end of the third quarter.

The first scoring play of the fourth quarter was a free toss by Peotter and then Appleton stalled the remainder of the half with Verrier's last basket, the last scoring maneuver of the game.

Scarcity of personal fouls was a feature of the contest. Referee George Christoph called but four against Appleton and hung six on the Oshkosh team.

The box score:

	FG.	FT.	PF.
Appleton—13	2	0	1
Verrier, f.	2	0	1
Peotter, c.	1	2	1
Mortell, g.	2	0	2
Murphy, g.	0	0	0
Mertell, g.	1	1	0
Oshkosh—3	0	0	1
Dukstein, f.	0	0	1
Berrell, f.	0	0	0
Miller, f.	0	0	0
Daniel, c.	0	0	1
Wood, c.	0	0	1
Wolta, g.	0	0	1
Golz, g.	0	0	0
Malchow, g.	1	0	1
Totals	1	1	6

Referee—Christoph, Lawrence.

College Basketball Results

La Crosse Teachers 22; Stout Institute 25.
Cornell College 24; Ripon College 35.
River Falls Teachers 23; Superior Teachers 31.
Milwaukee Teachers 24; Oshkosh Teachers 31.
Northland College 24; Northern State Teachers 29.
Carnegie Tech 30; New York U. 25.
M. I. T. 14; Harvard 12.
Drexel 27; Cincinnati 26.
Xavier U. 20; Michigan State 22.
Mississippi A. and M. 21; Tulane 18.
Creighton 43; Drake 17.
Kansas State 26; Kansas 27.
Southern Methodist 29; Texas 35.
Texas A. and M. 18; McHardy 13.
Centenary 27; Texas Aegies 33.
Idaho 21; Oregon State 32.
Washington 27; Washington State 28.
California 29; U. of Calif. at Los Angeles 18.
Southern California 35; Stanford 35.

Art Van Ess Signed To Meet Claude Sackett Thursday

Chaff'n Chatter

By Gordon R. McIntyre

Best Play
GUS WELCH retained the "BROWN DOLBY" at the annual banquet of the American Football Coaches' association, but Jim (Sleepy) Crowley, one of the Four Horsemen of Notre Dame and now coach at Michigan State, brought down the hall with this one:
"In 1922 Notre Dame had nine sophomores on the team that went to Atlanta to play Georgia Tech," Crowley related. "In the first half Tech got a field goal and things looked pretty dark for us. In the third period Layden, united to Red Barron, who muffed. We recovered on the 20-yard line and tried three plays in vain. It was fourth down. 'It so happened that we had a Presbyterian on the team. He stopped play and said to us, 'Boys, let's have a Hail Mary.' Well, we prayed and Layden soon went over for a touchdown."
"Believe it or not, the formula was repeated. Again Layden kicked, again Barron fumbled, again we again tried three plays in vain. Let's have another Hail Mary," said the Presbyterian. Well, again Layden went over for a touchdown.
"After the game I discussed the strange series of events with our Presbyterian. 'Say, that Hail Mary is the best play we've got,' he exclaimed."

.....
Augie Stubler has turned pro boxer. The Sheshogan former amateur meets Dave Churkey, Stevens Point, in a four round go Monday, Jan. 18, at the Point.
.....
Bill Hawkins, substitute center on the U. S. C. team last fall who was placed under guard and kept a voluntary prisoner after he was accused of tipping off Notre Dame on the U. S. C. pass defense, has started suit. He seeks vindication and not money, so he says. Be that as it may, the case should be dogged interesting.

Amateur Returns
Oney Johnson, post fight cards drew a sum of $6,289.00 during the 1931 season, according to figures recently made public by the state athletic commission. The total was the highest of any club out of Milwaukee Eagles. The club held nine last year but the gates during the last half the year were not as good as during the first half. Too much depression.
The figures follow:
Milwaukee Eagles club $11,278.25
Appleton American Legion 6,289.00
Sheshogan Eagles Athletic Association 5,760.50
Elkhorn American Legion Athletic club 4,277.00
Iowa du Lac Knights of Columbus 3,723.50
Green Bay Columbus Community club 3,180.75
Kenosha Eagles club 2,758.50
Milwaukee Athletic club 2,705.00
Oshkosh Eagles club 2,032.00
Milwaukee Elks club 1,949.50
St. Alexander A. C. Milwaukee 1,722.00
St. Augustine A. C. Milwaukee 1,520.00
Eau Claire Elks club 994.00
Marinette Boxing club 919.50
Waupaca Memorial Armory, Inc. 792.25
Manitowoc Athletic club 693.00
Columbia Athletic club 625.50
Beloit 426.75
Port Washington Athletic club 422.00
Beaver Dam, Co. E 128th Infantry 326.75
Milwaukee, Co. K 127th Infantry 224.00
St. Joseph's Athletic club, Racine 151.00
Wisconsin Rapids, Battery E, 128th Infantry 127.50
Total $2,898.25

MILWAUKEE QUINT MEETS KIMBERLY CLUB "5" TONIGHT

Villagers Defeated Ripon Eagles Last Night by 28 to 15 Count

KIMBERLY—The Kimberly club basketball team playing brilliant ball defeated the strong Ripon Eagles in a fast and interesting tussle Friday evening at the clubhouse by a 28 to 15 count.

The first period was perhaps the closest and also the most interesting. Both teams sea-sawed back and forth without anyone having an advantage and the quarter ended with the score deadlocked at 6 all. From then on the Kimberly team slowly but surely started to outplay the weakening Ripon aggregation. At the end of the first half the Papermakers had run the total up to 13 points while a smooth working five man defense held the opponents to but two points.

The third and final periods were very much like the second. Kimberly ran up 8 points to their opponents 3 in the third period and 7 points to Ripon's 3 in the last period.

Saturday night will be the big night on the Kimberly schedule for the team is booked to meet the strong Milwaukee Badgers. This game should tax the ability of the Papermakers to the limit and a closely contested battle is expected.

Kimberly—28 FG FT PF

B. Le May, Jr.	4	0	0
J. Gossens, Jr.	7	2	1
Vander Zanden, Jr.	0	0	0
M. Du Pont, Jr.	0	0	0
D. Du Chane, Jr.	0	0	0
V. Schwank, Jr.	0	0	0
G. Busch, Jr.	2	0	0
Totals	13	2	2

Ripon Eagles—15 FG FT PF

Sterling, Jr.	1	0	0
C. Klomp, Jr.	2	0	0
C. Klomp, Jr.	0	0	0
Grabin, Jr.	1	1	0
Jess, Jr.	0	0	1
Belmont, Jr.	0	0	0
Totals	7	1	2

Harvard Carries On Sports Program Despite Deficits

BY LAWRENCE PERRY
Copyright 1932
NEW YORK—(CPA)—Harvard's decision to go right ahead with all intercollegiate and intra-mural athletics in spite of a $200,000 reduction in receipts this year was not surprising. Harvard's stadium and all items of her athletic plant are paid for and she can well afford this practical gesture of carrying on with head unbowed by the financial depression.

But what about such an institution as Kansas, which owes money on its stadium and where attendance at football games last fall dropped almost to nothing?
Aside from finances, the situation at Kansas is not good and there is a feeling that conditions were not all exposed in the findings in the Bausch case last year. Handbills issued by students and addressed to Gov. Woodring asking for a radical change in the personnel of the athletic directorate, as well as the dismissal of Chancellor Lindley, have not as yet brought results. At least the governor has not met the request for a hearing at which the student authors of the handbill promised to appear in support of their demands for a change.

This is Gratifying
Those who know Gwinn Henry of Missouri, who respect him as a man and appreciate his ability as a coach, will sympathize with him in his present troubles, among which was the refusal of the players to give him a vote of confidence after he had been attacked in the student daily. The fact is Henry should have been in bed instead of on the football gridiron last season. He suffered from an infection complicated by neuritis when practice opened. It pained him sharply even to walk. Yet he stayed with his team until early November, when he was forced into a hospital. All of which gives a picture of the other side of football coaching.

Additional turmoil in the Missouri Valley is caused by the fulminations of the undergraduate daily at Lincoln, the Nebraska. The inspiration seems to have been the Columbia Spectator. At all events football is being exposed as a huge advertising scheme for the university; students, it is asserted, are being dragged into attending "puerile and idiotic" football rallies and to making assiduously noisy automations of themselves in the stands.
Aftermath of the meeting of coaches and athletic directors in New York relates chiefly to a rumor that Harvard had offered Princeton a Nov. 7 football date in an effort to lead the way to a patching up of the break in the "big three" and that the Tigers had declined. The fact is that no such date was offered and the fact also is that until Harvard agrees to a rotating schedule among Yale, Harvard and Princeton, there will be no football games between old Nassau and crimson. And Harvard will never agree to such an arrangement so long as President Lowell occupies the throne at Cambridge and may never agree no matter who is president.
In the meantime both Harvard and Princeton athletic authorities deprecate, in fact, present, public belief that the break involves a feud between the two old universities. No feud exists; not even bad feeling is indicated between either the universities or the athletic authorities. The football break was characterized by dignity, officially at least. There is not and never has been rancor between the athletic authorities of the two universities.

LUTHERAN CAGERS MEET TONIGHT AT OLD LAWRENCE GYM

Appleton and Oshkosh Lutheran league basketball teams will clash tonight at old Alexander gymnasium on the Lawrence college campus. The game is scheduled to get started at 8 o'clock. Oshkosh has won three conference games and lost none. Appleton has played one and lost it.

A preliminary game, to go on the boards at 7:30, has been arranged between the Mt. Olive Juniors of Appleton and the St. Paul Juniors also of Appleton.

KING LEVINSKY BEATS UZCUDUN IN 10 ROUND GO

Dave Maier, Milwaukee, Advances in Light Heavy Tournament

CHICAGO—(AP)—The question of King Levinsky's punching power is yet to be decided, but another victory today adorned his record—a 10-round decision over rough, tough Paulino Uzcudun of Spain.

The toast of Chicago's Ghetto last night tried with unwavering earnestness to connect with the Basque's granite chin, but Paulino, protecting a record of never having been knocked down, kept the chin tucked out of danger. To make doubly certain that the King's famous right hand did a minimum of damage, Paulino spent a large share of the 30 minutes of fighting hanging on to it.

As Paulino tried to get his right, the King's left finally became aware of his left, and left looks in the three closing rounds gave him his edge.

Levinsky gained the approval of one judge, Referee Phil Collins who the other judge voted for a draw. Collins voted 32 to 43 for the King-fish, Judge Ed Klein gave him a 55 to 45 edge, while John Bray's card figured up to a draw.

The bout, Chicago's first major attraction for 1932, was presented before a crowd of about 13,500 spectators who paid around $36,000.

Davies Maier, Milwaukee southpaw, advanced another notch in the National Boxing association's light heavyweight elimination tournament. After dropping Abie Bain of Newark, N. J., early in the first round, Maier caught the Jersey fighter with a left to the chin to win by a knockout.

Baxter Calmes of Oklahoma City, also outlasted rugged Bob Olin of New York.

Charley Belanger, veteran Canadian light heavyweight, was eliminated by George Nichols, a southpaw from Buffalo, N. Y., in the third elimination bout, and Yale Okun, New York, outscored Tony Canceled of Tampa, Fla., to win the six round opener.

RESERVES WIN FROM OSHKOSH 21 AND 11

Rooney, Forward, Is High Point Man as He Gets Four Baskets

Working their plays with precision and showing great possibilities, Appleton high school second basketball team last night won its third victory of the current season when it trounced Oshkosh high school reserves 21 and 11. Myron Seims coaches the reserves.

The team took the lead immediately after hostilities opened and except for a couple long tosses would have held Oshkosh scoreless in the first half. The half ended with the Orange reserves leading 11 and 6. In the second half the team held Oshkosh to a single goal and three free tosses and won easily.

Rooney capped the Orange scoring honors with four field goals and eight points and was followed by Cliff Burton with seven points.

The box score:
Appleton—21 FG FT PF

Rooney, f.	4	1	0
Goehring, f.	0	0	0
Winter, f.	0	0	0
Van Ryzin, f.	0	0	1
C. Burton, c.	3	1	1
Popp, c.	0	0	0
Brown, g.	0	0	0
Ruppert, g.	0	0	0
Cy Burton, g.	2	1	1
Totals	9	3	3

Oshkosh—11 FG FT PF

Gluth, f.	0	0	0
Meyer, f.	3	1	1
Minahan, f.	1	0	1
Rouss, c.	0	0	1
Papern, c.	0	0	0
Katzka, g.	0	0	0
Schroeder, g.	1	0	0
Totals	4	3	2

MANITOWOC LOSES TO WEST BAY FIVE

Purple Guards Lead Offensive With Six Goals from Field

Manitowoc—West Green Bay High school completely outplayed the Purple Guards in a Fox River Valley conference basketball game here Friday night winning in easy fashion, 26 to 13. The half ended 13 to 5.

W. Green Bay FG FT PF

Straubel, f.	1	1	3
R. Wolfe, f.	0	0	0
Wilson, f.	2	1	0
Leopoldine, f.	0	0	1
Cartier, g.	2	2	2
Schlawsky, g.	2	0	4
Flaherty, g.	1	0	0
Totals	11	4	10

Manitowoc FG FT PF

Koehke, f.	1	1	4
Spindler, f.	0	0	0
Lincoln, f.	2	0	1
Kelley, f.	0	0	1
Lancaster, f.	1	0	1
Williamson, g.	1	0	1
Schmette, g.	0	0	1
Totals	5	2	8

Two Games Scheduled For Vike Cage Fans Tonight;

Frosh To Play Bee Team

Varsity Squad Clashes With Cornell College in Midwest Tilt

TWO games have been carded for Lawrence college basketball fans and Appleton followers of the clubs tonight.

The first game will begin about 7 o'clock and will show the Lawrence freshmen battling the Lawrence "B" team. The second game of the evening, called for about 8:15, will show the Viking varsity against the Cornell college five of Mt. Vernon, Ia.

The Bee-Frosh game should be almost as interesting as the varsity tussle. It will show two squads both of which have been drilled by Coach A. C. Denney, and some cage talent that in another couple years will be carrying Viking colors over the state and midwest.

The Bee squad recently played Stevens Point normal reserves and gave them a merry trimming. The freshmen played at Ripon Monday and although they were man handled and treated like longshoremen, they copped a victory.

Among the frosh are two well known Appleton cagers, Jake Schaeffer and Zimdars, both guards, and developing into great performers under Denney's tutelage.

Another Star performer on the Frosh team is Davey Jones from Washington park high team, Racine, state champions last year. He has an uncanny eye for the hoop and is a pleasing performer to watch.

Asman, Elgin, Ill., youth is still another frosh youngster who is coming along well in practices and games.

The varsity game between Lawrence and Cornell marks the beginning of the Lawrence Midwest season. Last Monday the Vikes opened Big Four competition with Ripon and lost. Although Ripon, a midwest team the official Midwest game is the one scheduled here in February.

Cornell's invaders were beaten last night at Ripon by a score of 35 and 24 when Glenn Johnson, Crimmins center and star, scored eight field goals and four free tosses for a total of 50 points.

Indications are the Lawrence starting lineup will see Hall and Foote playing the forward positions will Big Bill Colbert playing Ben Rafol's post at center. Rafol's nose, broken last week, was set just the other day and Benny isn't craving competition.

Guards on the Vike team will be Willis Hazen, Herbert Vanderbloemen and Mike Gochauer, with the choice more or less a question. Sid Feltz, six foot four inches tall, is expected to see a little action at center.

What probably will be one of the greatest games ever played in the Y. M. C. A. Industrial league will be staged tonight at the association gymnasium, when the Miller Cords and Appleton Pure Milks meet.

The Milks are leading the league with five straight wins and nary a defeat. The Cords on the other hand have been defeated but once, early in the season and have been going through the rest of the teams like a wild storm.

In the second game of the evening the Outagamie Milks will clash with the Co. D quintet. The Milks haven't won a game all season and the guards, after starting out most impressively, have slipped down the ladder until they rest just a few points above the last place Milks.

EAST GREEN BAY WINS FROM CHAIRS

Outscored in Field Goals but Make Good on Sheshogan Fouls

Sheshogan—East Green Bay defeated Sheshogan, 23 to 17, in a tight game here Friday night. Sheshogan rallied and came within a point of tying the score in the last quarter, but East pulled away to a comfortable lead as the game ended.

Sheshogan FG. FT. PF.

Froehlich, f.	4	0	1
Eckhardt, f.	0	0	0
Grauman, f.c.	2	0	2
Ehlert, f.	1	0	4
Daane, f.	0	0	0
Daane, f.	0	0	0
Fricke, g.	0	0	2
Dubman, g.	0	0	0
Grau, g.	1	0	1
Seyferth, g.	0	0	1
Totals	8	1	11

East FG. FT. PF.

Mikel, f.	1	0	0
Neld, f.	1	1	2
Philadelph, f.	1	1	2
Heitzky, c.	4	1	1
Mueller, g.	0	0	0
Snell, g.	0	2	0
Walaski, g.	0	0	0
Totals	7	3	3

Referee—Ladwig (Ripon).

26 Teams Have Chance Of Entering Neenah Tourney

NEENAH—For the third successive year Neenah high school has been chosen as one of the 16 district basketball tournament centers. Seven teams located on the peninsula. From the results of the games played so far this season, Kewaunee, Algoma or Sturgeon Bay look like the most probable winners. Last spring Algoma won and traveled to the Neenah tournament, and bids fair to duplicate.

The 26 schools from which seven are to be chosen, by virtue of their ability shown in games played, between Dec. and March 1 are as follows: Brandon, Brillion, Chilton, Elkhart Lake, Freedom, Hilbert, Hortonville, Kaukauna, Kiel, Kimberly, Lomira, Markesan, Menasha, Neenah, Neshkoro, New Holstein, New London, North Fond du Lac, Omro, Plymouth, Shiocton, Stockbridge, West De Pere, Winneconne, Wrightstown, and Valders.

A two day tournament on Feb. 25 and 27 at Sturgeon Bay will be held and the two teams winning will play in the Neenah and Oconto district tournaments. The winner whose name ranks first in the alphabet

BOBBY BROWN, HANK HARTMAN ALSO PERFORM

West, Rasmussen in Semi; Leo Champeau, Thompson in Windup

ART Van Ess, that rugged Green Bay batter who, with Luke Ebel, Manitowoc, staged a great show here in December on the charity fight card, is coming back to trade leather again for the edification and delight of Appleton fans.

But Art isn't battling Luke this trip for Luke still is nursing a broken arm. The opponent for the Green Bay Dutchman will be Claude Sackett of New London, another sockmelter who occasionally has shown his wares before local fans and won a lot of friends.

And, lest we forget about it, the evening on which the two boys will clash is Thursday night, Jan. 21 and the place is Armory G. It's another legion fight card.

Sackett has been placed on the card as Val. Ess' opponent because Ed Hoernbush, who originally was picked to follow Windy Thomas' stunt and turned himself over to a saw bones the other night and had his appendix removed. Hoernbush was reported Saturday morning as recovering nicely.

Lost But One Fight
Sackett is reputed to have lost but one fight in the two years he has been trading leather. His greatest bid to fame in a local ring was one last spring when he won one of two valley boxers to win from Chicago Golden Gloves contenders. Sackett beat Bob Grosbeck that night and Bob was runner up for the gloves title.

Two of the boys who have met Art West on local programs have been matched in another of next Thursday's bouts. They are Hank Hartman, the Oshkosh youngster who always seems fat around the tummy but who performs very well, and Bobby Brown of Waukegan.

Brown is the chap who fought Art West here last month in a bout that showed Bobby a clever performer and Art a highly improved boxer. Eartman and Brown should put on a great performance.

The two windup bouts on Thursday's card ahead, have been announced.

West Vs. Rasmussen
In the semi-windup Art West, Appleton and Hank Rasmussen, Appleton, will stage a brawl for the honor of local champion in their class. The fight is a great opportunity for West for it pits him against a youngster who has met almost everyone in this section of the state.

The windup will bring together Leo Champeau of Green Bay, and Herbie Thompson of New London. The boys are two mighty hard hitters, they work hard, start their fight at a pace that almost kills and are sure to have the fans on the edge of the seats before the final gong sounds.

Thursday's show will be the first ever held here in which none of the fights will go over three rounds. The state commission recently adopted a rule prohibiting four round bouts if the officials can't decide at the end of three. They'll have to decide from now on, the commission has said.

CORNELL BEATEN BY RIPON COLLEGE

Glenn Johnson Runs Wild With 8 Goals and Four Free Throws

Ripon—(AP)—Captain Glenn Johnson, forward, led the Ripon college cage team to a 35 to 24 victory over Cornell college of Mt. Vernon, Ia., in a midwest conference game here last night.

Johnson scored 20 points and it was largely due to his efforts that Cornell's 15 to 10 lead at the half was overcome in a fast second half rally.

During the sluggish opening half Gabrielson, Cornell forward, put his team into an early lead by scoring three of his four field goals. Twenty-six fouls were called, most of them in the second period.

The summary—
Ripon (35) FG. FT. PF.

Fight Manager Says College Boys Are Too Old To Learn

BY WILBUR WOOD
Copyright 1932
NEW YORK — (CPA) — Steve Hamas, former Penn state football player and now a heavyweight boxer met Tommy Loughran in Madison Square Garden last night. This match has revived in the sock market the long-standing argument as to the chances of a college football player to make good in the ring.

So much has been said pro and con on this subject that the writer has appointed himself a one-man commission to take testimony. Two of the foremost managerial brains, Lou Brown and Jimmie Bronson, once partners in the management of Addison Exum Warren, a North Carolina University football player, who tried his hand in the ring, will present the arguments. Their views will be set forth in this space and the reader may come to his own verdict.

First we will hear from Brown, practical boxing man, who takes the

TOMMY LOUGHRAN KNOCKED OUT BY HAMAS IN SECOND

Referee Stops Fight After Philadelphia Vet Is Floored Twice

NEW YORK — (CPA) — Over the prostrate form of Tommy Loughran, gallant old gladiator from Philadelphia, Steve Hamas had climbed into the main heavyweight picture today.

The 23-year-old youngster from Passaic, N. J. stopped Loughran in the second round of their ten round bout in Madison Square Garden last night before a crowd of 9,000 persons.

For Hamas, an all-around athlete at Penn state a few years ago, it was the twenty-seventh victory in 27 starts as a professional. Of these 24 have been by knockouts.

For Loughran it was the virtual end of his fighting career. Tommy refused to admit it in his dressing room after the fight but it was apparent to everyone in the big battle pit. The dazzling speed of foot and punch which used to confound his opponents was gone.

And a slow Loughran was a mark for the speedy, aggressive, hard-punching Hamas. Loughran back-pedaled all around the ring to avoid Hamas' determined rushes in the first round but early in the second a volley of punches to the head stopped him over the lower strand of the ropes for a count of eight. Another terrific bombardment sent him down for nine.

He had nothing but courage left when he came up and Hamas tore into him with both hands. Tommy reeled into the ropes but just as he was about to go down for the third time, Referee Gus A. Smith stepped in and halted the match.

Just about as surprising as Hamas' overwhelming victory was the defeat in the semi-final of Stanley Poreda of Jersey City. Poreda, one of the likeliest looking youngsters among the heavyweights a year ago, fell victim to the heavy punching of Salvatore Ruggiello of Italy. Poreda was floored four times before Ruggiello put him down for the full count in the fifth round.

It was Ruggiello's second successive knockout victory. He knocked out Walter Cobb of Baltimore in an astonishing upset last week.

FRANK HUSSEY TRIES COMEBACK ON TRACK

New York — (CPA) — The one-time "boy wonder" of the track, Frank Hussey, plans a comeback in the Jefferson club games in Brooklyn tonight.

One of the greatest sprinting prospects in the country while a schoolboy, he is starting at 26 as a comeback he hopes will lead to a place on the American Olympic team. To night he is listed to compete in a sprint series at 75 yards, 100 meters and 100 yards. In the field against him will be the latest youthful sensation, Ed Siegel of the Swedish-American A. C., and Ira Singer of the Milwaukee A. C., national indoor champion. Half the field will run at 75 yards and half at 100 meters with finals at 100 yards.

INGWERTSON WILL GO TO LOUISIANA

Iowa City, Ia. — (CPA) — Burton A. Ingwersen, recently resigned as head football coach at the University of Iowa, declared early today that following completion of minor details he will sign a contract for a coaching position at Louisiana State college.

He said he had wired Captain Lawrence "Big" Jones, former Army coach, who will go to Louisiana State this year, probably as head coach, to make final arrangements regarding his contract. He added that he had reached an agreement with the school regarding most of the terms of the document but had not received word confirming his appointment.

DODGE, CLARK WIN VIKI SWIM HONORS

Sheldon Dodge, Wausau, and Walter Clark, Chicago, walked off with individual honors at Lawrence college swimming meet held Friday afternoon at Alexander gymnasium. Dodge retained his diving crown, won last year, and Clark, by taking two firsts and a second in the swimming events, also repeated as swimming champion.

The results of the events are as follows:

50 yard crawl, Clark, first; Wheeler, second; LaFevre, third.

50 yard breast stroke, Schler, first; Clark, second.

100 yard free style, Clark, first; Vennema, second.

50 yard back stroke: Wheeler, first; Barton, second; Dearlove, third.

Divine—Dodge, first; Schler, second.

MID-WISCONSIN LEAGUE Team Standings

	W. L. Av.
Schwartz Ballroom, Hart, 23	11 948
Parker Pure Paints, Osh, 22	11 943
Hoppies Welners, Apr 19	14 947
Arcades, Fond, 19	14 930
General Trunkers, Osh, 19	14 923
National Banks, Osh, 17	16 923
H. K. R. Clothiers, Nee, 15	18 920
Electric City, Kau, 15	18 915
Kraft Cheese, Apr, 15	18 910
Badger Paints, F. D. L, 12	21 911
Alhambra, Fond, 11	22 914
Hotel Raulf, Osh, 11	22 909

GAMES JAN. 17

National Banks at Genals. Alhambra at Kraft Cheese. Hoppies Ballroom at Parker Paints. Schwartz Ballroom at Arcades. Badger Paints at H. K. R. Clothiers.

Kaukauna at Hotel Raulf.

Schwartz Ballroom Keglers of Hartford continue to lead the Mid-Wisconsin Bowling league by one game.

Teams in the loop finished the first half of the season schedule last weekend in one of the tightest races in several seasons. They will head into the last lap next week with Hartford's keggers leading with a record of 23 wins and 10 losses.

Second place is held by the Parker Pure Paints of Oshkosh with 22 wins and 11 defeats.

The Arcades of Fond du Lac, General Trunkers of Oshkosh and Hoppies Welners of Appleton are tied for third place with standings of 19 wins and 14 defeats. The National Banks of Neenah are in fourth place with 17 wins and 16 defeats.

Team high three games, Hoppies Welners, 3,053, National Banks 3,033, Arcades 2,994; single game, Alhambra 1,087, Hoppies Welners, 1,055, National Banks 1,032.

Individual high three games, Walter 737, Torrow 681, Pierce, 677; single game, Walter 279, Kelley 269, R. Genal 259.

Perch Fry, Sat. nite. Van Dyke's, Kaukauna.

TWO RIVERS IS BEATEN, 19-11, BY KAW QUINTET

Coach Little's Team Opens Conference Season With Victory

Kaukauna — Two Rivers high school cagers were victims of the Kaukauna high quint here Friday evening, the Kaws taking a 19 to 11 victory to open their schedule in the Northwestern Wisconsin conference. The local team led through three quarters of the game.

Opening the game with a free throw by Sager and a basket by Schwendeman, the Kaws took a lead which they kept until the latter part of the third quarter. The end of the first period saw the Orange and Blacks with one point lead, and at haltime the Kaws led 7 to 4.

Shortly after the opening of the second period, Frasch, Two Rivers forward, counted with a short shot beneath the basket to put his teammates ahead. Frasch also counted near the close of the first period. The Two Rivers lead was lost when Klinkenberg, Rivers guard, fouled Dix, Kaw forward. Two gifts were added as a result of the personal, giving the Littlemen another one point lead. Frasch well dropped one through the hoop from the center of the floor, setting his teammates ahead, 9 to 4 as the period closed.

Penetrating the Rivers defense, the Littlemen took plenty of shots, but were unable to locate the hoop, the Rivermen moved on the Kaw goal, Hallada, center, tipping the oval into the hoop. The Littlemen were unable to score a basket, but Hallada located the hoop for another field goal. Elliott, Two Rivers forward, hooped a long one from mid-air to give his teammates a lead. Frasch committed a personal, and Koch tied the score.

Score Three Times

Three field goals were added in quick succession shortly after the opening of the final stanza by the Littlemen, Schwendeman, Farwell, and Van Lieshout getting the markers. Van Lieshout scored on a long shot from mid-floor, the ball dropping through the basket without touching the back board. Farwell's field goal was also scored from mid-floor, while Schwendeman tipped a short one in from beneath the basket.

Koch, center, added a gift shot, when he was fouled by Elliott, Two Rivers forward, and Farwell added two more points on free tosses when fouled by Hallada. Elliott scored a free toss, when fouled by Van Lieshout, Kaw guard, for the final marker of the game for the Rivermen.

Two Rivers missed eight tries for gift shots, and the Kaws missed two. Kaukauna scored 7 points on gifts, and the Two Rivers team marked up one. Several well executed plays were displayed by the victorious Orange and Blacks.

Next week the team will go to Menasha for its second conference fracas. The Menasha team already has played two league games.

In the preliminary, the rivalry between St. Mary's and Holy Cross parochial schools was settled in favor of the Holy Cross aggregation, with the north sisters taking a 16 to 7 victory. The Holy Cross cagers held the St. Mary team to but one point in the first half. Klinkenmeister was outstanding for the Holy Cross team, and McCormick for the St. Mary team.

The lineups:

	FG.	FT.	PF.
Sager, f.	0	1	1
Dix, f.	0	2	1
Schwendeman, f.	2	0	0
Koch, c.	1	2	2
Van Lieshout, g.	1	0	2
Farwell, g.	2	2	0
Totals	6	7	6

Two Rivers

	FG.	FT.	PF.
Elliott, f.	1	1	0
Frasch, f.	2	0	1
Borusky, f.	0	0	0
Hallada, c.	2	0	2
Barsul, g.	0	0	1
Stanul, g.	0	0	2
Klinkenberg, g.	0	0	2
S. Stanul, g.	0	0	0
Totals	5	1	6

Referee: Denny, Lawrence; scorer, Miller.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

Coral Gables, Fla. — Maxie Rosenbloom, New York, outpointed Frankie Wile, Butte, Mont., (10).

Indianapolis — Scotty Scotten, Indianapolis, outpointed Bud Clark, Vincennes, Ind., (10).

Berlin, Germany — Ernest Guehring, Germany, stopped Attilio Grisso, Italy (3).

San Diego, Cal. — Gaston LeCadre, France, outpointed David Valasco, Mexico (10).

San Francisco — Vincent Forgione, Philadelphia, and Harry Smith (9), stopped by referee.

New London, Conn. — Osie Walker, Atlanta, outpointed Big Boy Durlap, Westerly, R. I. (8).

Lake Worth, Fla. — Ray Trambie, Chicago, knocked out Joe McGowan, Kansas City (3).

BROUILLARD, FIELDS SIGN FOR STADIUM

Chicago — (CPA) — The Lou Brouillard Jackie Fields world's welterweight championship bout was assured today for the Chicago Stadium, Jan. 25 with the receipts of signed contracts from Brouillard, the 10 rounds. The distance will be 10 rounds. The weight 147 pounds.

Fields, a Chicago boy, formerly held the title, losing it to Jack Thompson, who, in turn, dropped it to Brouillard. Fields has been in training here for two weeks.

Sez Hugh:

KAUKAUNA CHURCHES

ST. MARY'S CATHOLIC CHURCH
Rev. C. Rupp, Pastor
Rec. J. Schaefer, Assistant
Sunday Masses
5:55 A. M. Low mass.
6:30 A. M. Low mass.
8:15 A. M. Low mass for children.
10 A. M. high mass.

HOLY CROSS CATHOLIC CHURCH
Rt. Rev. Sister M. J. Lechman, Pastor
Sunday Masses
5:30 A. M. Low mass.
7 A. M. Low mass.
8:15 A. M. Low mass for children.
10 A. M. high mass.

TRINITY EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH

Rev. Paul Th. Ochelt, pastor
8:30 A. M. Sunday school.
9:30 A. M. English service.
10:30 A. M. German service.

IMMANUEL REFORMED CHURCH
Sunday, January 17
John Scheib, minister
Sunday school at 9 A. M.
English worship at 10 A. M.
German worship at 11 A. M.
Text Luke 12:15, "A man's life consists not in the abundance of things which he possesses."
Theme, "Life Consists in What?"
Tuesday, 7 P. M., choir rehearsal.
Thursday, 7:30 P. M., G. M. C. G. meeting.
Saturday, 3 P. M. Mission band hour.

BROKAV MEMORIAL METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Herbert J. Lane, pastor
Sunday school 9:30 A. M. Superintendent, W. P. Hagman.
Morning worship 10:45 A. M. Subject, "Almost Persuaded."
Junior league 5 P. M.
Epworth league 6:30 P. M.
School of religious education Friday, 2:30 P. M.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Herbert J. Lane, pastor
Sunday school 8:45 A. M. Superintendent, R. Naeel.
Morning worship 9:45 A. M. Text, Acts 26:25.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY
Women's club rooms, public library
9:45 A. M. Morning services, Subject, "Life"

WOMEN REORGANIZE BOWLING LEAGUE

Kaukauna — Lady league bowlers reorganized Thursday evening, forming four teams of six players each instead of six teams. Pin Knockers and the Hiss Crochets were dropped.

Miss A. Thelen was pace setter with a total of 202 pins for high and glo game, and 469 pins for high score. Miss M. Blase was second high for single game honors with a total of 180 pins, and Mrs. Fred Olm took second honors in series scoring with a total of 459 pins.

Tasty Lunches defeated the Luckies Strikes three straight on totals of 819, 853, and 945 to 754, 850, and 771 pins. Regene's Specials dropped two out of three to the Holy Rollers on totals of 811, 919, and 822 pins to 847, 891, and 913 pins.

Bowling in the league will be resumed next Thursday evening.

OSHKOSH TEACHERS WIN FROM MILWAUKEE

Oshkosh — (CPA) — Oshkosh State Teachers cagers opened conference competition here last night with a 31 to 21 win over the Milwaukee teachers.

Sharpshooting by Zimmerman and Montague, guards, aided Oshkosh in gaining a 20 to 11 lead at the half. Higher, forward, starred for the visitors with four field goals and two free throws.

PREPARE PROGRAMS FOR NEXT SEMESTER

Kaukauna — Classes in trigonometry, and second year of cooking and sewing will be offered at the high school beginning next semester, Monday, Feb. 1. Students now are making out their program of classes for the second semester. The new classes will be conducted by Miss Ann Gibbons and Miss Lillian Hembre, cooking and sewing, and Miss Carol Walker, trigonometry.

GRIDS TO MEET
Appleton Girl Scout leaders will meet at 7 o'clock Monday night at Appleton Woman's club under the direction of Miss Dorothy Calnie, local director. Plans will be made for the annual court of awards and the scouting program for the spring.

FRENCH CENSUS
Paris — According to the latest census, France now has a population of 41,935,000. This number represents an increase of 1,100,000 over the 1926 census. Of the total, 3,841,000 are aliens. A feature of the census was a decided decrease in the agricultural population of the country.

MUELLER BOOTS WIN CAGE GAME

Defeat Outagamie Milks at Kimberly Clubhouse, 21 to 19

Kaukauna — Mueller Boots defeated the Outagamie Milks in basketball at the Kimberly clubhouse Friday evening, 21 to 19. The Boots took an early lead on baskets by Berg and Van Draske, and held it throughout the game. Vandervelden and Welbes were bright lights for the Milks, with two field goals apiece, while Van Draske and Derus were high point scorers for the Boots, with two baskets and two gift shots each.

The score at the end of the first quarter was 8 to 3 for the Boots, at halftime 8 to 3, and at the end of the third period 15 to 15. In the final period the Boots were held without a basket, but the scored three points on free tosses. The Milks counted two field goals.

The lineups:

	FG	FT	P
Welbes, f.	2	0	0
De Bruin, f.	0	0	3
Forster, c.	1	1	3
Strenis, c.	1	1	0
Vandervelden, g.	2	0	0
Ness, g.	1	0	3
McClone, c.	0	0	0
Hemritz, g.	2	0	2
Totals	9	1	11

Kaukauna

	FG	FT	P
Derus, f.	2	2	3
Derg, f.	2	1	0
Roman, c.	1	0	1
Van Draske, g.	2	2	0
Gerhart, g.	0	0	0
Totals	8	5	5

Referee, Schwanke.

HOLD FIRST DENTAL CLINIC OF NEW YEAR

Kaukauna — Dr. E. J. Bollinske conducted the first dental clinic of the new year for school children in the offices of the city nurse in the municipal building Friday afternoon. The clinic is one of a series to be financed by the annual sale or Christmas seals by the Kaukauna women's club. Three dentists will conduct the clinic. Each dentist will conduct the clinic on a separate date.

Miss Carl Flynn, city nurse has announced the schedule for the remainder of the school year. Dr. Bollinske will conduct the clinic on the following dates: Jan. 15, Feb. 5, Feb. 26, March 18, April 8, April 29, and May 20. Dr. H. J. Van Ellis will conduct the clinic on these dates: Jan. 22, Feb. 12, March 4, March 25, April 15, May 6, and May 27, and Dr. M. G. Reske will conduct the clinic Jan. 29, Feb. 19, March 11, April 1, April 22, May 13 and on June 1.

MORE MEN HIRED BY STREET DEPARTMENT

Kaukauna — Several men were added by both street commissioners to help remove snow from the principal street intersections and the bridges. All of the snow on the new Lowest bridge was being removed on trucks. Nearly 20 men were engaged in the removal of snow from the new structure. Meanwhile a number of men were decorating the bridge in preparation for the formal opening Saturday. All of the lights were covered with flags on the new structure and along Oak-st. Flags also were being placed on the railings.

SOCIAL ITEMS

Kaukauna — The next meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary will be held Monday evening in the legion clubrooms on Oak-st. Following the business meeting cards will be played.

A dancing party will be held in Eike hall following the opening of the new Lowest bridge here Saturday evening. Dancing will start at 8:30 and continue to midnight.

The "K" club of the high school met at the school building Thursday evening. Following discussion of plans for a dance, a lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Wagner and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Engels attended a farewell party at the home of Mrs. Luella Mattson at Advance last Saturday evening. Miss Mattson is entering the Deaconess hospital at Milwaukee, where she will study nursing.

JUNIORS PUBLISH SCHOOL NEWSPAPER

Kaukauna — Juniors of the high school published the Kau-Hi-News, school weekly paper, Friday noon. Members of the editorial staff, under direction of Miss Frances Corry, were: Frances Klein, Gretchen Banning, Barbara Mulv, Wilma Jirilewicz, and Frances Etkenberg. Judson Judae and George Block were in charge of sports. Mildred Chapin and Margaret Vort were copy readers. Roy Krueger and Milford Spaulding were salesmen, and Holger Mayer, Frances Etkenberg, Dorothy Gerstis, and Dorothy Rodat were typists. The next issue will appear on Friday, Jan. 22.

CHURCH CALLS ANNUAL MEETING FOR SUNDAY

Kaukauna — The annual church meeting of Immanuel Reformed church here will be held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, according to Rev. John Scheib, pastor. Annual reports will be heard and officers for the coming year will be elected. Reports also are being prepared at Holy Cross and St. Mary Catholic churches.

BOWL AT OSHKOSH

Kaukauna — Kaukauna's entry in the Mid-west bowling league will go to Oshkosh Sunday to meet the Hotel Raulf bowlers of that city in a league fracas. The local team dropped its last league game to the Alhambra bowlers last Sunday afternoon.

SCIENTISTS CAN CHOOSE THE SEX OF A CHICKEN

IN SPIES OF THEIR AWKWARDNESS, GIRAFFES CAN WALK AT THE RATE OF THIRTY MILES PER HOUR.

1932 BY NEA SERVICE, INC. 1-16

Nesting Areas Of Wild Ducks Reduced In Last Two Years

BY B. A. CLAFLIN

There is no question but that the nesting areas of wild ducks were greatly reduced during the past year or so. And this is particularly true of 1931 because of the long extended droughts. Now what happens when these nesting areas are greatly reduced? Where do the wildfowl go when they are driven out of their former breeding grounds?

It is generally believed they will not go farther north, where, because of lower temperatures, the climate is not suitable for them or for their growth of food, nor will they go elsewhere outside their established breeding ranges to seek new ones.

Over-concentration on the few remaining breeding areas follows. This entails possible concentration of their predators, exposes waterfowl to the ravages of disease, and exhausts their food supply.

It is unfortunate that the most favorable breeding areas of ducks happen to be desirable for human habitation. The few remaining ones which still produce birds also are likely to be claimed for agriculture.

Settlers are coming into marsh areas, especially in the Provinces of Canada, close to the breeding grounds. Often they set fire to marshes, or cut the vegetation for hay thereby removing cover necessary for the protection of nests and birds.

Clamor to preserve these remaining wet lands, to stop grazing, hay cutting or prevent fires on them will be of little avail if the land happens to be in private ownership, and if such wet preservation is burdensome to its owner. If he drains his land for an anticipated profit who can blame him? Having no income from the wet land he may get tired of seeing the tax collector come around. The suggestion that the owner may manage lands distant from large centers of population for income from fur harvesters and from the sale of shooting rights, is seldom practical.

There is a practical solution to the problem of continued shrinkage and shortage of waterfowl habitats, namely: Acquisition of areas by governments, to serve wildfowl perpetually. In breeding grounds on which hunting shall be prohibited at

Gridley FAST-FROZEN Ice Cream MILWAUKEE

SCHLINTZ BROS. CO. DOWNTOWN 111 W. College, Schlitz Bldg. WEST SIDE 601 W. College, Cor. State St. MENASHA Brin Theatre Bldg.

BRAUER'S REXALL STORE Kaukauna, Wis.

GEO. C. JACKSON FINE INTERIOR DECORATING

Take Advantage of Our WINTER REDUCTION OF PRICES

Let us do your painting and decorating NOW, or you may place your order and have the work done in January or February.

It will pay you to have us do your work, we know how.

Phone 2749 for Estimates

Oysters

For a Zestful Change . . . Served in Any Style

A Delightful Luncheon Suggestion

The New STATE LUNCH

215 W. College Ave. Always Open

CO-ED WINS HIGHER MARKS BY CHARM, DEBATORS PROVE

Ann Arbor, Mich. — (CP) — Pity the poor co-eds at University of Michigan!

First the men proved co-eds not human, and now they have proved the vaunted mental superiority of women to be an optical illusion — the effect of feminine charm on susceptible men instructors.

At least the three judges — two men and a woman — decided it was so proved after a debate Thursday night between teams representing Zeta Phi Eta, women's debating society, and Alpha Xi, men's debating club, on the proposition "Resolved: That women receive their grades on other than a scholastic basis."

There was mention of tea parties at which co-eds beamed upon professors and of the comparative weight of brains, but the ancient history provided the climax when an Alpha Xi debater confronted the opposition with, "you know how Cleopatra attained her Mark!"

Last year, the Zeta Phi Eta team was unable to convince the judges that co-eds are human.

consideration in any plan. The key to the multiplication of our waterfowl is adequate areas on which the birds can nest and rear their young. Naturally, initial attention should be paid these areas favored by waterfowl which are most in danger of encroachment by agriculture, such as the west central prairie lands, especially the Canadian wheat belt, the lake region of the Dakotas and the sandhill region of Nebraska. Breeding grounds should be established also in California, Oregon, in New England and in the states bordering on the Great Lakes.

These are the propositions that are being worked out by the national game associations in collaboration with Canada today. And they are the things that must be handled by the Federal government if they are to be successful.

Leap Year Dance, Sat. nite. Black Creek.

LADIES' PLAIN DRESSES and COATS — MEN'S SUITS and O'COTS Dry Cleaned and Pressed for ... $1

JOHNSON'S Cleaners & Dyers Phone Appleton 558 Kaukauna 81-W

Radio Repairing TUBES TESTED FREE!

Phone 451

APPLETON RADIO SHOP OPEN EVENINGS

BURN — VAN DYCK'S COAL

It's Guaranteed GOOD

PHONE 5900 OFFICE 302 W. COLLEGE AVE YARD 1905 W. WISCONSIN AVE APPLETON

OPEN DAY & NIGHT

Our Business

Is to Keep the Business Man in Business

Let us build you a Neon Sign or Neon Decoration.

Ask for Our Prices

TRI-NEON SIGN CO. Appleton Phone 3486 "We Can Service and Repair Any Sign"

Post-Crescent's Page of Comics and Humor

THE NEBBS

YESTERDAY RUDY BROUGHT AMBY TO ATTORNEY SABATH, WHO RUDY WANTS TO REPRESENT AMBY IN HIS SUIT FOR DIVORCE— BUT AMBY WANTS TO KNOW WHAT IT WILL COST BEFORE HE SIGNS UP

Something For Nothing

By Sol Hess

WELL, WHEN A BOAT IS SINKING YOU DON'T ARGUE AS TO THE PRICE OF A LIFE PRESERVER— I DON'T MAKE A PRICE ON MY SERVICES UNTIL I RENDER THEM

YOU CAN FIND ATTORNEYS WHO WILL GIVE YOU A PRICE— GO GET THEM. IT'S ALL RIGHT WITH ME— I DIDN'T SEND FOR YOU BUT REMEMBER— NOTHING THAT IS WORTH ANYTHING IS CHEAP

BUT MESSIE YOU COULD GIVE A LITTLE SMALL IDEA

WHAT ARE YOU TALKING PRICE FOR? YOU'RE GOING TO PAY ALIMONY FOR THE REST OF YOUR LIFE— YOU WANT SOME- BODY WHO CAN GET YOU OFF AS CHEAP AS POSSIBLE!

WELL, HE OUGHT TO GIVE SOME ESTIMATE— YOU CAN GET IT FROM ANY OTHER KIND OF BUSINESS AND HE AIN'T SELLIN' NOTHIN' BUT CONVERSATION WORDS— JUST WORDS

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

TH' DOODLE TOLD ME TO ROUND UP ALL TH' DOODLES AN' BRING 'EM TO TH' CLUB HOUSE, 'CAUSE WE'RE GONNA MAKE SOMEBODY A HONORARY MEMBER OF TH' CLUB—I THINK IT'S GONNA BE ME TOO!!

WHY WOULD IT BE YOU? MESSIE IT'S GOING TO BE ME, FOR ALL YOU KNOW!!

GEE, YOU GOTTA DO SOMETHIN' GREAT TO BE A HONORARY DOODLE!!

Hooray for Poodle!

By Blosser

ONE OF OUR MEMBERS WHO HAS PERFORMED NOBLE SERVICE FOR THE DOODLE CLUB SHOULD BE MADE AN HONORARY MEMBER— AND IT ISN'T OSCAR OR ME...

SAY! THAT HONORARY MEMBER IDEA WAS AWINE!! WHO GOT THE IDEA FOR A CLUB IN THE FIRST PLACE? WHY, ME, OF COURSE!!

I'M SORRY OSSIE, BUT DOODLE HERE, IS THE LUCKY ONE— DIDN'T HE HELP GET OUR CLUB HOUSE BACK TWO TIMES, WHEN WE WERE IN SUCH A PICKLE— CONGRATULATIONS, DOODLE!!

OH WELL, THAT'S DIFFERENT. WHY DIDN'T YOU SAY SO?

SURE! GEE— WE'RE ALL FOR DOODLE!! THREE CHEERS FOR DOODLE, THE HONORARY DOODLE!!

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

YASSAH! MISS BOOTS WILL BE RIGHT DOWN! BAD NEWS— AH MEANS, MISTAH WILLIE, AM IN DAA

OH, YUE MET HIM! HE SURE IS A DANDY FELLOW, ISN'T HE?

BOOTS SAYS YOU CAN FLY A REAL PLANE— AND EVERYTHING— AND THAT YOU'VE TRAVELED A LOT— ALL OVER THE WORLD

YEP

Opal is Skeptical!

By Martin

GEE WHIZZ! I'VE ALWAYS WANTED TO MEET A FELLOW LIKE YOU! I'LL BET YOU COULD SURE TELL A LOT OF MIGHTY INTERESTING THINGS, ALL RIGHT

PSHAW! NOW WOULDN'T YOU KNOW OF AN FELLA, LIKE ALL DE REST OF DE BUNCH, WOULD THINK DAY WILLIE MAN WAS HOT CHA?!!! AH SHO HOPES NONE OF 'EM SEES MUCH OF 'IM!! IT'S DE SAME AS WIF A BARREL OF APPLES— JES ONE BAD 'UN WILL SPOIL ALL DE REST

WASH TUBBS

RATS! YOU COULDN'T DECIPHER THIS GOOFY MESSAGE IN A MILLION YEARS.

WELL, MAYBE I KIN 'N' MAYBE I KINT. ALL I HOPES IS THAT FRIEDA'S GRAN'PA IS NAMED KLEY, TOO.

YES, ANTON KLEY.

ANTON KLEY, THAT'S FINE. NOW SEE THIS LAS' LINE— "O.O.E.C.O.X.O.U.C.C."— I FIGGERS MAYBE THAT'S A SIGNATURE. ALSO, I FIGGERS THE "X" DOESN'T COUNT.

Getting Somewhere

By Crane

IN THAT CASE "O.O.E.C.O." SPELLS "A-N-T-O-N" AN "O.U.C.C." SPELLS "K-L-E-Y." SAME NUMBER OF LETTERS. SEE?

OBOY! NOW WE'RE GETTIN' SOMEWHERE.

WHY, HOW SMART!

NOW LOOK WHAT HAPPENS TO THE MESSAGE WHEN WE KNOWS WHAT THE LAST LINE MEANS.

EEK EALT N E
O.O.C.O. MCOU.EO O.O.C.C.
LOO E TONE N L ON
U.C.C.C. O.O.C.C. O.O. U.C.C.C.
EN
O.C.C.

ANTON KLEY
O.O.E.C.O. O.U.C.C.

OUT OUR WAY

By Williams

THERE'S TH' BEAUTY OF BEIN' A BRAIN WORKER— YOU CAN REST YOUR BRAIN, AN' YOUR SUPERIORS CAN'T TELL YOU'RE RESTIN'— AT LEAST THEY CAN'T PROVE A BRAIN IS LOAFIN' LIKE THEY KIN A BODY.

WELL, THEY SAY THAT BRAIN WORK MAKES YOU TIREDER TH'N PHYSICAL WORK— THEN, JUDGIN' FROM HOW MUCH THEY REST THEIR BODIES, AFTER SO LITTLE USE, YOU KIN BET THEIR BRAINS GIT PLENTY OF REST— PLENTY!

PROOF OF A FUDDIN'

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

By Ahern

EGAD— THE VERY IDEA OF THAT LITTLE CHIMPANZEE COMING HERE LAST NIGHT AND THREATENING TO PUNCH MY NOSE FOR A $10 DEBT!— HAW— I, WHO HAVE HELD MY OWN WITH THE GREAT SULLIVAN, CORBETT, FITZSIMMONS AND JEFFRIES IN BOXING EXHIBITIONS!— HE WOULD PUNCH MY NOSE, EH?— THE SNIPPY LITTLE THUMB TWIDDLER! ONE PUNCH FROM ME— AND HE'D CURL UP LIKE AN ANCHOVY!

BE CAREFUL OF YOUR LOOK PRESSURE— YOU LOOK LIKE A PIMENTO NOW!— WHY DIDN'T YOU STEP IN FROM THE NEXT ROOM WHEN HE WAS HERE, INSTEAD OF GOING AROUND TODAY MAKING CHESTS AND HITTING PILLOWS?

THE WRATH OF A HOOPLE AROUSED

New Tenants This Week

Nu-Matic Shoe Shop
on First Floor — Near Elevators

Dr. De Wayne Townsend
Physician and Surgeon
720 — Seventh Floor

NEXT WEEK

Barber Shop for Men
WILLIAM BRYANT, Prop.
on Fourth Floor

Irving Zuelke Building

RENTAL OFFICE — 2nd Floor

SUNSET PASS

by Zane Grey

Chapter 34
A SMUGGLED NOTE

ONE one took Rock's arm lightly. "Buenas tardes, señor," said a low voice at his elbow. Rock bowed gallantly to the slim creature on his arm. He did not recognize her, but saw that she was the Spanish girl in gold and black. "Buenas tardes, señorita," replied Rock. She averted her face and walked with him. Rock grasped suddenly that there appeared to be a little pressure on his arm, a gradual but sure guidance of his steps. They were entering the dance-hall, where many masqueraders had assembled. The orchestra burst into music, a languorous Spanish waltz. The girl who had led him there swayed to the rhythm, toward him, slowly lifting her hand to his shoulder. "You handsome gambler! You don't know me!" she cried, in arch reproach. "Amy!" exclaimed Rock, incredulously. "Trueman, what did you do to my husband? He came home the other day, at noon—something unheard of," she went on, swiftly. "He told me you'd been in to see him. That you had raked him over the coals. That you had cleared up something about you and me! . . . Then, he told me he had been sore and jealous for a long time. He'd neglected me shamefully. He would turn over a new leaf. He would try to be young again. . . . Oh, he knocked me cold! . . . Since then he has been like he was when he courted me." "Good Lord!" said Rock, under his breath. "I forgot to tell you something else. You know I was scared of Clink Peeples. Today I met Peeples. He apologized for insulting me." "Of course you'll dance often with Thiry Preston?" Amy asked presently, the old jealousy flaring up. "Reckon I haven't the nerve yet to ask even one. Besides, I probably won't recognize her." "Bah! That girl couldn't disguise herself in a burlap sack," returned Amy. Amy's last words added to Rock's sudden realization of what thin ice he was skating on. "I'll have to stand for you paying some attention to Thiry," went on Amy, passionately. "But be careful. . . . If you dance more with her than with me—Lord help her!" "Amy! What nonsense!" returned Rock, sharply. Amy must have had certain duties as a hostess, for she slipped away from Rock and mingled with the laughing, curious assemblage. He made no effort to follow. "Look!" spake up a woman to her neighbor on a bench near Rock. "That girl in white. Colonial wed- ding-gown! Isn't she just lovely? Who can it be?" It struck Rock that the girl in the wedding-gown was certainly worth looking at. At first she did not appear to be masked at all, but as she drew closer he saw that she wore a close-fitting mask, scarcely any whiter than her powdered face. Her hair was done up in some amazing style and as colorless as snow. Arms and neck, of exquisite contour, likewise were of a dazzling whiteness. The gown, one of those hoop-skirted, many-ruffled affairs Rock had seen in pictures, took up the space of three ordinarily dressed women. Indeed, there appeared scarcely space enough for the girl to pass him. Trueman flattened himself against the wall, as he had observed the two cowboys do. Nevertheless, the young lady so marvelously gowned was forced to sweep her skirts to avoid contact. She came on. Rock could not determine whether or not her face was beautiful, but he certainly imagined it was. The momentary halting of the party, evidently to choose a direction, brought this Colonial masquerader so close to Rock that he meant to step forward and allow her more room. But she seemed to be looking at him, though her eyes were hardly discernible. He felt suddenly rooted to the spot. They turned, some of them laughing, and the wonderful girl in white pressed close to Rock in passing, still apparently gazing at him. As the soft, fluffy, perfumed gown swept him, Rock felt a hand touch his— slip a folded paper into his palm with quick pressure. Then she passed and he leaned there staring. She vanished with the others. Rock's trembling fingers tightened on the paper. It was a note. That girl has been Thiry! In one glance she had pierced his disguise. And he had been far indeed from returning the compliment. What a joke on him! Rock peered into his palm at the note, then rushed off to find a light by which he could read it. All the swinging lights were Chinese lanterns and those stationary on the walls were dimmed by colored paper. Finally he found one under which he thought he could discern the writing and here, after a keen glance around, he opened the note. Dear Trueman: I will know you the instant I lay eyes on you. Will you meet? I am in terrible fear, but I will come to the dance, cost what it may. Ash is in town, hiding. I do not know what he means. It may be there is some other reason for his action. Allie and I will go to the Farrells to dress and come with their crowd. Ash never say my great-grand-mother's wedding-dress. He won't recognize me, when he comes. If he will come! You must keep close watch over me, else I would not dare take the risk. He is capable of stripping me before the crowd. I will dance with the Farrell boys a little—the rest with you. I shall not stay till they unmask. I want to go before he knows me. You must take me away before that. It may be madness. But I let my heart become set on this one dance. I grow furious at the thought of giving it up. I don't know myself of late. I will come—if only to— Thiry. Rock did not draw a breath during his swift perusal of this note. Then he gasped—and devoured it again. Though he could not believe he was awake the words were there, on white paper, in ink, clear and firm, in even, beautiful script. "What did they betray?" He could not subdue his pounding heart, but he strangled the leaping whirling, rapturous thoughts. Her letter betrayed terror, yet a woman's willful longing for a little freedom, a little joy of youth. She asked his protection. Thiry Preston—who not long before had begged him to leave her! Lastly she did not know herself. She would come, if only to— "To what?" Rock stormed at his insane hopes. Rock placed the note inside his vest and strode back toward the corridor, his breast throbbing, his head high, his step buoyant, his nerves vibrant. As he entered the corridor, Thiry came out of a door halfway down and seemed to float toward him. They met, both aware of others present. Rock, removing his hat, made her an elaborate bow. "Oh, but surely you must want to dance some?" she queried. "Only with you." "Not Amy Dabb?" she flashed, with odd inflection of voice. (Copyright, Zane Grey)

Ash strikes in the next installment, all his pent-up malice free.

More New Stars Continue To Win Success In Talking Pictures

FEMININE TERROR RULES IN "CAUGHT"

Louise Dresser Stirs Up Trouble as Powerful Woman of West

A powerful and relentless woman, stalking out of hidden pages in the history of the old wild west, comes to the screen as "Calamity," dance hall owner, in Paramount's picture, "Caught," starring Richard Arlen with Louise Dresser and Frances Dee featured.

Readers of western stories have been accustomed to find an unbroken diet of bad-men, sheriffs, cattle rustlers and gamblers, with women entering into the picture as the hardy and virtuous pioneers or the light and wicked dance hall ladies.

"Calamity," played by Louise Dresser, holds equal rank with the men of the motley crew of the frontier, by the command of the code that was enforced by nerve and bullets. She was ready with a gun, fast on her feet and had graduated in all the lawlessness that ran ahead of advancing civilization.

Cold and hard and calculating, Calamity rules a gang of cattle rustlers who made her dance hall, the "Bird Cage," their rendezvous. Running through her character, like the thread of motif in an opera, lies a sternly-suppressed woman's sentiment.

With these ingredients the plot of "Caught" weaves itself into romance under Calamity's eyes, when Arlen, as a cavalry officer, falls in love with a spurious dance hall girl, Frances Dee.

It is showing at the Elite Theatre today and Sunday.

BARBARA STANWYCK LIVES, WORKS PART

Adolph Menjou and Ralph Bellamy Play With Star in "Forbidden"

Just as Barbara Stanwyck stands apart as an actress, so does she stand apart as an individual. Neither the applause nor the criticism of the masses changes the tenor of her life. She lives, prides, naturally, and takes criticism, when it is constructive, sensibly, but all the world can go by her door and Barbara would not even notice it, so busy is she being happy and independent in her own world.

In private life Barbara Stanwyck is Mrs. Frank Fay and she likes the role as well that she is forever threatening to retire permanently under that title. They were married when Barbara was playing in New York and Frank in Detroit. One day, after the Saturday matinee, she took a train for Detroit, where she married him at two o'clock on Sunday afternoon and left at four for New York. She has never taken off her wedding ring, not even for a picture.

Barbara Stanwyck is playing a woman whose love is faithful through much stress and storm in "Forbidden," the Columbia picture opening at the Appleton Theatre. In a career of outstanding brilliant acting this is her greatest performance. Her Lulu Smith is a real woman, torn between the common sense dictates of her head and the wayward loving of her heart. Adolphe Menjou and Ralph Bellamy are featured with Miss Stanwyck and give excellent performances, as do also Dorothy Peterson, Charlotte V. Henry and Thomas Jefferson. "Forbidden" is a Frank Capra production written and directed by Capra.

BROOK HEADS CAST IN FILM PLAY, "SILENCE"

An intensely interesting human story is the background for the exciting melodrama, "Silence," showing at the Elite Theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. With Clive Brook, the charming Marjorie Rambeau and the flaming-haired Peggy Shannon in the leading roles.

"Silence" gives Brook an opportunity to portray a great human character, and the suave and polished star takes every advantage of the opportunity. Supported by two capable and beautiful actresses, Brook sounds the depths of a man's soul in a series of adventures, escapades, trials and disillusionments that bring him finally to the superb sacrifice to save his own daughter's reputation.

The action of the picture takes place over a period of twenty or more years, and the early sequences give vivid and interesting life to the "good old days" before the war. The latter scenes, taking place in a modern Middle West City, concentrate all the force of the drama in terse and thrilling climatic incidents.

"Silence" is drama taken from life, real, thrilling, believably portrayed.

HELEN TWELVETREES PLAYS DIFFERENT ROLE

Helen Twelvetrees' starring role in "A Woman of Experience," the picture playing at the Elite Theatre next Thursday and Friday, is quite different from any of the other parts she has portrayed. In "Her Man" she was a gangster's sweetheart; in the famous "Milk" an innocent girl whose misfortune made into a woman of the world. In her latest picture Miss Twelvetrees is frankly a woman with a past who finds herself entangled in political intrigue in Vienna.

Supporting her in the cast are William Bakewell, Lew Cody, Zasu Pitts, H. B. Warner, C. Henry Gordon, Franklin Pangborn, Nance O'Neil, George Fawcett and Edward Earle.

Clive Brook Plays in "Silence"

Willard Robertson, Clive Brook, Peggy Shannon in a scene from the Paramount Picture "Silence," by Max March. It will be shown at the Elite Theatre 3 days starting Monday.

Your Birthday

BY MARY BLAKE "CAPRICORN"

If January 17th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 2 a. m. to 10 a. m., from 2 p. m. to 3:20 p. m. and from 7:30 p. m. to 9:45 p. m. The danger periods are from 11:30 a. m. to 1 p. m. and from 4 p. m. to 6 p. m.

A restless and unsettled atmosphere overshadows January 17th, and a calm and restful Sunday is not anticipated. Your mind will be hedged in by the worries of the past week and the burdens of the future. The evening hours promise mental relief.

The child born on this January 17th will have a temperament of a rather matter of fact order. It will be lacking in enthusiasm and spontaneity. It will have a naturally good memory, with ability for detail. It will not be intuitive, and will demand logical reasons for all it does. Born on January 17th, your inability to sever yourself from the traditions of the past has made you short-sighted and unprogressive in many respects. If you would think ahead more and remember the past less, you would be better off in many respects. You stick to old familiar habits and customs and shy at the untried or unknown. Your convictions are not only solid, but unmovable, and it seldom occurs to you that your beliefs could be wrong, or that you and not others, are out of tune. You need to take a mental stocktaking in order to clear out your brain of outworn predispositions.

You have an appreciation of the arts, and you love beautiful things. You are a leisured and intelligent sight-seer, and travel would not be wasted on you. You are a stickler for convention and formalities, and are careful not to do those things which would cause adverse criticism or comments. You are not very tolerant-minded toward those who step off "the straight and narrow." You are not an original, but a very accurate and dependable worker. Whatever you win from life will be worked for by your own hands and brain. Your lessons will be earned by both error and experience.

Successful People Born January 17th:
1—Benjamin Franklin — statesman.
2—Carey Cassius Orr—cartoonist.
3—David Lloyd George—English statesman.
4—Wolfgang Mozart—composer.
5—Nils Asther—movie artist.
6—Patsy Ruth Miller—movie artist.

BY MARY BLAKE "CAPRICORN"

If January 18th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:10 a. m. to 10:30 a. m., from 2:30 p. m. to 4 p. m. and from 10 p. m. to 11:50 p. m. The danger periods are from 11 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. and from 6:30 p. m. to 8 p. m.

Astrologically, January 18th is shown to be the forerunner of great changes which will be of ultimate good to you. Energy and enterprise are the two keys to success on this date, as unusual opportunities will be offered to the young and active-minded.

The child born on this January 18th will be far-sighted, determined and well balanced, and accepted by all who know it at its true worth. It will be loyal to its home ties, very affectionate, and genuinely friendly. It will take to responsibilities, and will like to be leader.

Born January 18th, you are a born hustler, a worker and not a drone. An active and a busy life is essential to the happiness of one of your temperament. You are not avaricious for possessions or power, and may interest yourself in things which bring poor material returns and an investigating mind, and are bound to have many hobbies or interests.

You are blunt, plainspoken, essentially honest and high principled. You do not know the use of guile, subtlety or artifice. You are an intelligent listener. When you do talk you speak with purpose, and your words plainly reveal your thoughts. You are a good judge and a good analyzer of character, and can "see through" a person very quickly. If you have any enemies, they are probably those who like to fool you, but cannot. Dishonourable, insincere, hypocritical and affected people feel uncomfortable under the searching rays of your observant eyes.

You are also very intuitive and psychic, and you often wish you did not sense things so quickly and were not so sensitive to "atmospheres."

Health hints for those born January 18th: be careful of your diet; you are subject to ailments of the alimentary canal.

Successful People Born January 18th:
1—Daniel Webster—statesman.
2—Charles P. McIlvaine—P. E. bishop of Ohio.
3—Richard Yates—the war governor of Illinois.

4—Walter Low—ex-president of Columbia University.
6—Olga Nethersole—English actress.

(Copyright, 1932 by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

BY MARY BLAKE "CAPRICORN"

If January 18th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:10 a. m. to 10:30 a. m., from 2:30 p. m. to 4 p. m. and from 10 p. m. to 11:50 p. m. The danger periods are from 11 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. and from 6:30 p. m. to 8 p. m.

Astrologically, January 18th is shown to be the forerunner of great

COMEDY PICTURE FILMED IN RENO

Wheeler, Woolsey and Dorothy Lee Together Again in Picture

Mixing a brand new assortment of comedy gags with music and the ludicrously funny situation of two lawyers in the midst of the Reno divorce mill, Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey are scheduled to make another triumphant return to the Fox Theatre in the RKO-Radio Picture's "Peach O' Reno."

The picture is the first humorous treatment of the Reno divorce situation to come out of Hollywood and provides the two ace comedians with two of the most uproarious comedy roles in their varied stage and screen careers.

As in former Wheeler and Woolsey comedies, Dorothy Lee provides the romantic interest in a story that is filled with budding romances and hectic young wives seeking release from marriage.

The RKO Radio Pictures studio has made the picture more elaborate than is customary in comedies. Particularly in this true of the settings which include a courtroom with hundreds of extras, a bizarre law office in which Wheeler and Woolsey handle the hundreds of divorce cases that come their way in an unusual night club and office. The secretaries in the office, incidentally, are the prettiest models on the Pacific coast.

An orchestra of fifty pieces handles the music for this picture at appropriate spots and it is also very well incorporated in the film. The film was directed by William Seiter with a supporting cast that includes Joseph Cawthorn, Sam Hardy, Cora Witherspoon, Zelman O'Neal, Arthur Hoyt, Mitchell Harris and Josephine Whittle.

WARN AGAINST BUYING FROM FAKE SALESMEN

Madison—(AP)—A warning was given the public Friday by E. L. Chambers, of the state department of agriculture and markets, that "racketeers" are still working in Wisconsin canvassing orders for nursery stock.

These "solicitors," Chambers said, take an order, a down payment, and then disappear. All nursery salesmen are licensed by the state and carry credentials, he said.

ernor of Illinois.

4—Walter Low—ex-president of Columbia University.
6—Olga Nethersole—English actress.

(Copyright, 1932, by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Great Britain is said to have used 80,000 carrier pigeons during the World war.

Woolsey and Wheeler in Comedy

Together again in their eighth comedy hit, Bert Wheeler, Bob Woolsey, Dorothy Lee, as they appear on the screen of the Fox theatre in "Peach O' Reno," starting Monday.

"Forbidden" Comes to Appleton

Above is Barbara Stanwyck as she appears in "Forbidden," a Columbia picture which opens at the midnight show tonight at Warner's Appleton theatre.

SEES U. S. NAVY AS SAFEGUARD TO PEACE

Admiral Upham Emphasizes Danger of Not Building to Treaty Limit

Washington—(AP)—A treaty navy was held Friday by Rear Admiral Frank B. Upham, chief of the navy's navigation bureau, to be the means of safeguarding peace.

Neglect in building up in all categories, he told the house naval affairs committee in urging passage of the Vinson bill, "would imperil rather than safeguard the peace."

The Vinson bill would authorize a ten-year construction program involving 120 ships at a cost of $619,000,000.

"Any building to those ratios (allowed under the London treaty)," Admiral Upham said, "threatens no one, and do but place ourselves in position to maintain our neutral rights when others are engaged in hostilities."

With the army skeletonized, he said, "another war will find us confronted with the necessity for recruiting it to war proportions and for training it. This will require many long and anxious months. During that time, and from the opening of hostilities, the navy must be ready, prepared to gain command of the sea and to control operations thereon, to hold the line, in other words, in the defense of our vast commercial interests in overseas trade."

Pointing out that no new construction has been authorized since the London conference, he added that "were we to continue this neglect in building naval vessels we would soon be reduced to the rating of a second class power on the sea, unable to defend our trade, our interests or our country."

He also observed a construction program would "strengthen the hands" of American delegates at future disarmament conferences.

HUNTERS MUST FILE REPORT BY FEB. 1

Madison—(AP)—Hunters who fail to file a report on game killed during the past year with the conservation department by Feb. 1 will be ineligible for licenses next year the department warned today. The provision was included in a law passed by the 1931 legislature.

SYLVIA SIDNEY IS STAR OF PICTURE

Popular Young Actress Plays Leading Role in "Ladies of the Big House"

Paramount presents an exceptional vehicle for intense dramatic action in "Ladies of the Big House," which will be the feature attraction at the Fox Theatre on Sunday and will be shown in a pre-view at the midnight show on Saturday. This picture has for its leading featured artists two talented personages who recently sprang into public favor by virtue of high dramatic ability, distinct personalities and good looks, qualities all essential to success on the screen.

Sylvia Sidney, who plays the leading feminine role, has already won a strong fan following because of her outstanding work in "City Streets" with Gary Cooper, in "Street Scene" with William Collier, in her Broadway stage success,

"Bad Girl," and in "An American Tragedy" with Phillips Holmes. She has as her leading man, Gene Raymond who sprang into prominence in the Broadway stage production, "Young Sinners" which brought him a screen contract. He proved his worth on the screen recently in "Personal Maid" opposite Nancy Carroll.

Raymond's light complexion is a pleasing contrast to Miss Sidney's dark tresses in "Ladies of the Big House," which is a gripping drama of romantic love in the lives of two young people who on the eve of their wedding day are cruelly separated by the law.

The picture is authentic in its prison scenes. It is a dramatic picture by the convict-author, Ernest Booth, with screen adaptation and dialogue by Louis Wietzenkorn.

On the screen at the Fox Theatre as an extra Sunday is one of those excruciatingly funny screen souvenirs. They are reels of the good old time melodrama that we all used to think were serious dramas. As we see them now they can't beat for comedy.

APPLETON'S POPULAR PRICED SHOWHOUSE

Matinee 1:45 & 3:30	15c	ELITE	25c	Evenings 7 and 9
---------------------	------------	--------------	------------	------------------

TALKING PICTURES AT THEIR BEST

TODAY and SUNDAY — ADMISSION — 1:00 to 5:00 P. M. — 10c & 15c — After 5:00 — 25c.

SHE COULD LICK HER WEIGHT IN WILDCATS—And She Feared No Man!

She's Calamity Jane, the female tornado who made the West bad for badmen. But her woman's heart betrays her!

"CAUGHT!" A PARAMOUNT PICTURE

With RICHARD ARLEN
Louise DRESSER — Francis DEE
ADDED — ALL TALKING COMEDY and SCREEN NOVELTY

— MON. — TUES. — WED. —

Condemned... because he will not talk! What is the secret in this man's heart that he guards with his life? See

"SILENCE" WITH CLIVE BROOK MARJORIE RAMBEAU PEGGY SHANNON

MONDAY IS BARGAIN DAY—CLIP THIS COUPON

BARGAIN DAY COUPON
This Coupon and One Paid Adult Admission Will Admit Two (2) — Matinee or Evening — GOOD MONDAY ONLY —

Continuous Showing Monday (Bargain Day) 15c to 5:00 P. M.

WARNER'S APPLETON

LAST DAY "The SECRET WITNESS" Una MERKEL Zasu FITTS

OPENING AT 10:45 TO-NITE ALSO SUNDAY - MONDAY - TUESDAY

THIS IS THE GIRL WHO SAID "TO HELL WITH SOCIETY!"

SHE CRUSHED EVERY OBSTACLE FOR LOVE!

The "Miracle Woman" Brings You a Love Story That DARED TO BE REAL!

HERE IS DRAMA THAT CRASHES THROUGH THE CONVENTIONS TO SHOW YOU A GLORIOUS ROMANCE!

IRRESISTIBLY IMPRESSIVE!

Barbara STANWYCK in "Forbidden"

with ADOLPHE MENJOU (The Star of "FRONT PAGE")
A COLUMBIA PICTURE DIRECTED BY FRANK R. CAPRA WHO GAVE YOU "PLATINUM BLONDE"

ADDED — FUN —

"RUNNING HOLLYWOOD" with BUDDY ROGERS and 30 Big Stars "SHOWING OFF" A New Scrappy Cartoon
GRAHAM McNAMEE Announcing Latest Newsyvents

"NICE WOMEN" ARE COMING SOON

WEEK DAY PRICES

25c to 6 P. M.	35c to 7 P. M.
----------------	----------------

FOX

MATINEE DAILY

BEGINS MONDAY

HERE THEY ARE! YOUR PET LAUGH LUNATICS in their biggest and best frolic...

BERT WHEELER BOB WOOLSEY

WORLD'S GREATEST CLOWNS IN THEIR GREATEST LAUGH SPREE...

"PEACH O' RENO" With DOROTHY LEE ZELMA O'NEAL

AT THE MIDNIGHT SHOW TONIGHT AND SUNDAY

An unforgettable love story, tenderly pathetic, emotionally stirring! No risk was too dangerous, no sacrifice too great, if it meant happiness for her man.

"LADIES OF THE BIG HOUSE" With SYLVIA SIDNEY

"American Tragedy" Girl Gene Raymond Wynne Gibson

COMEDY TOM PATRICOLA in "MOONLIGHT AND CACTUS" SCREEN SOUVENIR Movies of Long Ago Fisherman's Paradise

"HUSBANDS HOLIDAY" With CLIVE BROOK CHARLIE RUGGLES

— TODAY —

Week End Review Of Local And National Business

AUTOMOBILES
USED PARTS
For All Makes of Cars at Great Savings
Aug. Jahnke
WRECKING
1613 N. Richmond St. Tel. 143W

WRECKS
Receive Prompt and Expert Attention at
Aug. Brandt Co.
Phone 3000
GENUINE FORD PARTS

Nonbreakable

Appleton Glass Service
214 E. Washington St. Tel. 283B

15c per quart
Pure Pennsylvania
MOTOR OIL
Fully Guaranteed
WOLTER MOTOR CO.
118 N. Appleton St.

USED CARS
"with an OK that counts"
Sales Service
SATTERSTROM CHEVROLET CO.
"The Safest Place to Buy"
Used Car Lot at
213 E. Washington St. Tel. 869

PIERRE'S
Welding and Radiator REPAIRING
Auto Bodies and Fenders Straightened
544 N. SUPERIOR ST.
PHONE 5799

Diamond T Trucks
Sales and Service
Ed. Barber
Auto Service
1800 E. Wis. Ave. Tel. 2650-W

"Keep Smiling with Kellys"
Kelly-Springfield Tires
Exclusively
West Side Tire Shop
607 W. College Ave. Phone 582

Towing, Repairing, Parts, Tires
M. WAGNER MARMON CO.
1330 E. Wis. Ave. Phone 4390
Est. 1903—24-Hour Tow Service

We Specialize in Hudson-Essex Service at low cost
Also General Repairing
WALL'S GARAGE
Walter Baumgart, Prop.
216 N. Appleton St. Tel. 986

BARBERS
HAIR CUTS That Will Please!
LECY'S BARBER SHOP
111 S. Appleton St.

STOP DANDRUFF and FALLING HAIR!
We get results. Ask for Appleton testimonials.
Hotel Appleton Barber Shop and Scalp Institute

BEAUTY PARLORS
Phone us for an appointment, of PERMANENT MANICURE or SHAMPOO
BECKER'S BEAUTY PARLOR
Mrs. Margaret Obermeyer, Mgr.
317 W. College Ave. Phone 2111

CABINET WORK
Keep Your Furniture Beautiful!
E. H. MUELLER
Cabinet Work
318 E. Washington St. Tel. 2222

CIVIL ENGINEER
ROBT M CONNELLY
CIVIL ENGINEER SURVEYOR
102 E. College Ave.
Appleton, Wis. — Tel. 863

CHIROPRACTOR

J. A. Panneck, D. C.
Palmer Chiropractor
119 E. College Ave. Phone 4319W

Free Health Clinic
Held every Monday
9-11 A. M., 2-5 and 7-8 P. M.
HOUK & HOUK
Chiropractic Offices (over Woolworth's)
Guard your Health — it is your most precious possession.

COFFEE — TEAS
COFFEES TO SUIT EVERY TASTE and PURSE
Grandma's Favorite Coffee, 3 lbs. 69c
Eagle Brand, lb. 30c - 35c
Safe Brand, lb. 38c
Sherman House, lb. 40c
Appleton Tea & Coffee Co
413 W. College Ave.
Phone 1212 We Deliver

CONTRACTORS
HENRY BOLDT
Contractor Builder
1130 W. 8th St.
Appleton, Wis.

Robert A. Schultz
Masonry & Concrete Work
Ask Us for Estimates
1258 W. Lawrence St.

FLORISTS
MARKET GARDEN & FLORAL CO.
Cut Flowers Potted Plants
Funeral Designs a Specialty
1107 E. Wisconsin Ave.
Phone 1695

CUT FLOWERS
POTTED PLANTS
FERNS
For Decorations or Gifts
Riverside Greenhouses
1236 E. Pacific St. - Phone 5490
128 N. Oneida St. - Phone 3012

JUNOTN GREENHOUSES
MILES MEIDAM, Prop.
1342 W. Prospect - Phone 89-R
Floral Designs and Cut Flowers.
We Send Flowers by Wire Anywhere!
Member F. T. D., Appleton, Wis.

Broadway Florists
1410 W. Wis. Ave. Hwy 10
Phone 5039—We Deliver
Call us for ideas and suggestions on floral decorations.

KIMBERLY GREENHOUSE
High Quality Plants and Flowers
Since 1893
You've always paid less at Kimberly.
Phone 9704J2

HAT CLEANERS
A NEW BAND Makes an OLD HAT LOOK NEW!
Retson-Jimos
109 W. College Ave. Phone 229

BABSON TELLS WHY ECONOMISTS DIDN'T "SEE" DEPRESSION

Expert Says Failure Was Result of Not Recognizing Law of Action, Reaction

BY ROGER W. BABSON
Babson Park, Pa. — The general failure to foresee first, that a depression was coming, and second, that it would last more than a few months, was not confined to the average business man and investor. The consensus of opinion of three thousand economists in 1929 was that we were in a "new era" and that major depressions were a thing of the past. When finally the decline started the consensus of opinion of these economists was that it would last not longer than the middle of 1930. Again at the annual meeting in December, 1930, the majority thought that the turn would come before the middle of 1931. Again they were wrong. I have the highest regard for the excellent research work done on the business cycle and on the analysis of business problems by our economic and research leaders, but there is a fundamental fact that nearly everybody has overlooked. That is the application and proper interpretation of the law of action and reaction.

This law really means that for every period of inflation and over-expansion above the line of normal business growth, there must follow a corresponding period of deflation and depression approximately equal in area to the period of over-expansion which preceded it. Most of the economists watching only the duration of the depression in terms of months and comparing it with the duration of previous depressions. Hence, they were misled. They should have been watching the duration times the intensity or severity of the depression in comparison to the duration times the intensity of the boom from 1925 to 1929. They were focused on the fact that the average length of previous depressions was about sixteen months.

They failed to understand that we were paying up for enormous excesses in the greatest period of over-expansion the world had ever known, and that the magnitude of the reaction would be determined by the magnitude, (i. e., duration times intensity) of the preceding boom.

Better Business
If this depression had been dragging along for two and a half years with business only five to ten per cent below normal and securities and commodities still selling higher than they should, I would say that we were in for two or three years more of declining business. On the contrary, this depression has been unusually severe with the business index showing thirty-two per cent below normal, and stocks, bonds, commodities, and everything else at extremely low levels. This great severity means that we have paid up in the past two and a half years for a great deal of the over-expansion, speculative excesses, and inflation of 1925-1929.

Now made cautious because of forecasts that went wrong for two successive years, the majority of the economists at their recent Washington meeting were gloomy about the outlook. The consensus of opinion seemed to be that we are in for three or four years more of very difficult times. The Babsonchart, measuring this depression area in comparison to the great boom which preceded it, says differently. The intensity of the depression, as indicated by the present position of the Babsonchart, now strongly suggests more rapid sweeping out of the remainder of the depression than the majority of the economists expect. There will be temporary ups and downs, but 1932 should average distinctly better than 1931.

Depressions of Past
I quite agree with those who say that this is no ordinary depression; but I also want to point out that it was no ordinary over-expansion which preceded it. Moreover, those who are comparing it to the few five and six year depressions of the past hundred years, and for that reason think we cannot escape without further prolonged decline, are sure to be wrong.

This depression has already completed, by its very intensity, over one-half of the readjustment from the preceding over-expansion. The intensity of the decline in those long depressions of the past was not nearly as great as it has been in the past twenty years. In the long depression from 1893-1897, the lowest point that the business index reached was 8 per cent below normal and the average monthly level throughout the depression was only 5 per cent below normal. Again in the long depression of 1839-1845, the greatest drop below the normal line was nineteen per cent and the average monthly level below normal was about 6 per cent. In the historic period from 1873-1879, a period of protracted depression, the lowest level touched by business was thirteen per cent below normal, and the average level only ten per cent below.

Survey Shows Business Men Organize In Troubled Times

By ALLARD SMITH
Executive Vice President, Union Trust Co., Cleveland

While competition between individual business units in all lines was never keener than it is today there is at the same time a growing measure of trade co-operation which promises well for the future of all American business. A recent compilation of the United States Department of Commerce of the commercial and industrial organizations of the country shows that there are more than 19,000 firms engaged in some form of co-operative business effort. This compares with a total of but 8200 in 1912 when the first listing was made by the department.

Indicative of the disposition of men to get together when assailed with common troubles is the fact that the listings of these associations have increased 45 per cent since 1929. Of the present total of 19,000, more than 2600 are national or interstate in scope, 3050 are state and territorial and 13,600 are local in character.

Some of these associations, like the American Bankers' Association with 20,000 members and the National Association of Credit Men with 27,000 members are professional in character and are concerned principally with the ethics of business and the advancement of public thinking, while others are more technical. Some of the best scientific research work of the country has been carried on under the auspices and at the expenses of trade associations.

The interesting thing about this great increase in trade and commercial associations is the fact that unworthy ideas are seldom born or even discussed in public. The contribution of these associations has been a constant raising of the standards of ethics in business and a noteworthy advance in technology. Both are in the interest of the public.

Public Is Attracted To Hearings On Finances

By KATHARINE DAYTON
Copyright, 1932, By Cons. Press
Washington (CFA) — Does the American public only want to hear money talk? And must finance, to attract an audience, be not only high, but wide and handsome? These are the questions we are mulling to ourselves after a tour of the open hearings now going on before the various senate and congressional committees.

Let's go first to the hearing of the senate finance committee which is considering a resolution of Senator Johnson of California to something-or-other private loans to Europe. Let's go, that is, if we can get in. The show has been playing to S. R. O. for weeks. The big room is crowded. There is too much smoke and too many overcoats, Brazilian bonds bursting in air, brief-cases stuffed with all the figures in the world except the ones the committee asks for. That's Otto Kahn testifying. O-o-o-o-o-o-o, is that Otto Kahn? He says, in effect, that international bankers are just little boys grown tall, and the trouble with the country is fear.

Holds His Chair
My, my! That's Mrs. Kahn holding his chair for him. Does he always wear spats? That's Mr. Dillon. He's got a lovely profile. How do they ever pay rent with the twenty-two little commissions they charged for those loans? Here's the banking and currency committee of the house, considering the measures like the two billion dollar reconstruction finance corporation, one hundred and twenty-five millions for land banks, etc. Plenty of chairs and fresh air here. Just a couple of other fellows with overcoats and brief-cases. Who's testifying? Just like insurance and savings-banks and railroad presidents. Oh, is that man over there Daniel Willard? Why, he just looks like anybody.

Then we have the agricultural committee hearing, considering the Capper bill for distributing forty millions of wheat to the unemployed. Farmers, unemployed, hunger, doles, all sorts of what we thought were burning issues are mixed up in it. Attendance: Our favorite author, Oh, well—what!

Now here's real money talking again! It's Ogden Mills before the house ways and means committee with Secretary Mellon sitting beside him. You couldn't ask for anything more financial than that.

Mellon Looks Well
Secretary Mellon, by the way, looks very well in spite of the fact that he is being impeached by Rep. Patman of Texas just the length of the corridor away. Impeachment only seems to bring, as the saying or duration, some of which have been of great severity, but short duration, such as 1907-1908; and 1921. This one is of greater magnitude than those.

Constructive Factors
It now seems evident that much good will come from the Reconstruction Finance corporation and other measures applying government credit to frozen assets.

The rapid work of Congress on this measure seems to indicate that it may be passed this month and the huge issue of bonds of this corporation is, of course, an inflationary measure, but it should do much to loosen up frozen credit and start money circulating. Moreover, should the funds of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation be made eligible for rediscount at the Federal Reserve Banks, this would afford a considerable basis for credit expansion. The one hundred and twenty-five million dollar help to the Federal Land Bank is a definitely constructive measure.

What business and finance need today is a thawing out of frozen credit. Liquidation is practically complete; the potential demand for goods and services has piled up; and what is needed is the reestablishment of faith in the real value of bonds, stocks, commodities and other properties, whose values are now so grossly under-estimated by public hysteria in the marketplace. The constructive factors are gained force and backed up by our fundamental position in the business cycle, as shown by the Law of Action and Reaction, should bring us well on the road to recovery. Temporary disappointment and setbacks are to be expected, but the underlying trend should be toward gradual betterment.

Business by the Babsonchart now registers 32 per cent below normal, or 14 per cent below a year ago.

Copyright—1932—Publishers Financial Bureau

SEE AUTO RISK FIRMS FACING BOOST IN RATES

So Many Accidents That Practical Limit May Soon Be Reached

BY ROLLIN M. CLARK
Copyright 1932, by Cons. Press
Washington (CFA) — With the trend of losses in the automobile public liability field showing a further upward swing last year and with no sign of immediate improvement in sight, the insurance companies are now facing the program of increasing their revenue from this line without losing desirable business in any great volume.

Rates for automobile liability insurance have been increased so consistently in recent years in an attempt to catch up with the rising tide of accidents and claims that a practical limit may soon be reached. In other words, rates which do no more than reflect actual experience may go so high that motorists not prone to accidents may be willing to take a chance without such insurance protection.

If this desirable class should decide in great numbers to forego insurance coverage because they believe it costs too much, rates eventually will go even higher. The reason is that their favorable accident experience balances to some degree the poor experience of other insured motorists who have a tendency to participate in collisions and other mishaps.

This serves to keep rates down, but if the good risks go off the books, leaving only the poor ones, the present rates will seem low in comparison with what they will be. It was in an attempt to provide an incentive for safe driving that the so-called merit rating plan was developed some time ago. Under this plan a motorist who has not been involved in an accident for a period of 21 months preceding the issuance of his policy is granted a 10 per cent credit from the manual rate for his territory and make of car. This is taken away from him when he does have an accident.

The trouble with the plan has been that there are no compensating increases in premiums to offset the credits given to those who can qualify for merit rating. Many casualty company executives favor the abolition of the merit rating provision, some desiring to substitute a demerit proposal under which careless drivers would be penalized through premium charges higher than those prescribed by the rate manual. Such a system is now in force in Connecticut in connection with the state's financial responsibility law, requiring erring motorists to furnish proof of their ability to pay future damages through insurance or other means.

Some attention may be given to a suggestion to charge different rates for more than one person drives the insured car. At present the same rate is used regardless of the number of people who drive the vehicle. One member of a family may be a good insurance risk whereas another may be the least desirable, yet both are covered at no additional cost under the policy forms now in use.

PLAN PROBE OF CLOSING OF BANK AT MILWAUKEE
Madison —(4)— District Attorney Fred Risser of Dane County said he will make a detailed examination of the recent decision of the state supreme court in deciding whether or action will be taken against Calvin F. Schwenker, former state banking commissioner, in connection with the closing of the Franklin State bank of Milwaukee.

The court held if Schwenker violated any law in connection with the case, it was violated in Dane county and that action should be taken in that county rather than in Milwaukee. Schwenker was charged with having permitted the bank to remain open when he knew it to be insolvent. The court ordered records of the case in Milwaukee to be sent to Dane county.

NOTED ACTOR IS 79
London —(4)— Sir Johnston Forbes Robertson, noted actor, celebrated his seventy-ninth birthday today at his home here, surrounded by children and grandchildren.

The British Museum has a piece of iron taken from the Pyramid of Cheah, which is believed to date from 1000 B. C., and an axe head of Egyptian manufacture dating from 1370 B. C.

Convinces Reporters
Newspaper reporters are universally hard to convince. To this reporter—who ordered a haircut—Mr. Sommerfield gave a large sized demonstration of the various Appleton Scalp Institute treatments. When he finished, the reporter began looking up the addresses of film producers.

During this demonstration, Mr. Sommerfield used a new product—as yet not on the market—which is truly a revelation in barber shop treatments. This product will soon be placed in retail outlets and it offers a complexion aid found in no other way. It has been prepared by Mr. Sommerfield after many experiments.

Has Model Shop
The Appleton Scalp Institute offers every barber shop service in a truly metropolitan way. For example, each comb and brush is properly sterilized and sealed in an airtight wax-paper envelope before it is

FUEL
SPECIAL!
Hardwood Bodywood
Partly Dry
For $6.50 Per Load

Knoke Lumber Company
Phone 868 Linwood Avenue

HEALTH
Dr. Robert Larsen, D. C.
Spinal Specialist
Over Petersen-Rehbein Meat Market
106 W. College Ave. Phone 963

INSURANCE
FIRE INSURANCE
First Class Mutual Co.
— Good Savings Dividends to Policy Holders
INSURE NOW!
EMPLOYERS MUTUAL INSURANCE
R. J. WHITE—H. T. NOLAN
Ph. 3264—317 Insurance Bldg.

NEW YORK LIFE
W. Frank McGowan
Charles C. Baker
Ralph A. McGowan
104 E. College Ave. Appleton
PHONE 54

James H. Balliet
INSURANCE
110 - 112 W. College Ave.

ICE

You can't get moist, circulating air, maintaining constant cold, with window coolers and other make-shifts.
Use ICE
Every Day of the Year!
LUTZ ICE CO.
PHONE 227

KEYS
We Make KEYS
L O C K S REPAIRED
GROTH'S COLLEGE

Kimlark woven Rugs — Kimtwils — Kimvals — Kimmats — Kimdahrs — Kimthros — Kimwears
Manufactured by
KIMLARK RUG CORPORATION
NEENAH, WIS.

PRINTERS
SCHAFKOPF and SKAT CARDS
J. M. VAN BOOY PRINTING CO.
Hotel Appleton Bldg., Tel. 1054

SHEET METAL
HEINRITZ SHEET METAL WORKS
Furnace Repairing and Cleaning
BRILLION FURNACES
Estimates Cheerfully Given
Phone 185 307 W. College Ave.

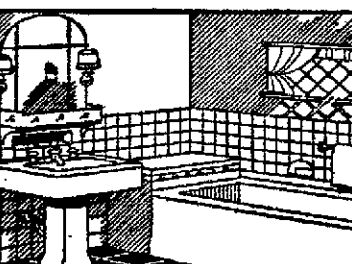

WEIFENBACH SHEET METAL WORKS
Sheet Metal — Steel Ceilings Skylights, Etc.
Estimates Free
Phone 573, 415 W. Lawrence St.

LUNCHES
GOLDY'S
LUNCHES, SMOOKES, GIFTS
CANDY, HOT DOGS
MALTED MILKS
105 S. Appleton St.

MUSIC
LEARN TO PLAY THE EASY WAY!
VAN ZEELAND
Studio of Music
124 N. Durkee St.
Phone 1650

PAINT
French Auto Oil
Keeps Your Motor Young
It is so good that Five Dollars a gallon cannot buy better lubrication.
Our Price, in 5-Gal. 15c
Cans. Quart ... 75c each
Fulcan Paint Co.
115 No. Superior St.
(Just ten steps south of the new Post Office.)

PAINTING & DECORATING
Leland R. Feavel
Interior Decorator
Modern Art in Decorating
403 N. Oneida St.
Phone 1021

PLUMBERS

Phone 217
when you need Plumbers Service for bathroom, kitchen or basement.

RYAN & LONG
Established 1891

MILDEW PROOF WASHABLE
Shower Curtains
In Green, Blue, White, Orchid, Gold and Rose. For any type of shower or tub. Reasonably Priced at $6 and up.

NICK KLEIN
PLUMBING SHOP
609 W. College Ave. Phone 2890

PRINTERS
Job Printing
REASONABLE PRICES
Chris. Roemer Estate
Printers Since 1887
119 So. Appleton St. Phone 1790
Appleton, Wis.

Petersen Press
Union Printers
General Commercial Printing
604 W. College Ave. Phone 1384
Call Waltman—Waltman Will Call
RUGS

Kimlark woven Rugs — Kimtwils — Kimvals — Kimmats — Kimdahrs — Kimthros — Kimwears
Manufactured by
KIMLARK RUG CORPORATION
NEENAH, WIS.

STEEL
SCHAFKOPF and SKAT CARDS
J. M. VAN BOOY PRINTING CO.
Hotel Appleton Bldg., Tel. 1054

FOX RIVER BOILER WORKS
General Boiler Repairs, Smoke Stacks, Structural Steel For Buildings, Steel Tanks, Sheet Iron Work.
Located Northwest of Appleton Junction

I. BAHCALL
Meado-Commercial Sta., Appleton
Phone 1794-W